Eric De Mare Architecture In Camera S:

Eric de Maré Eric Samuel De Maré,1990 Eric de Maré's career as an architectural photographer and writer has spanned 50 years more than 20 books and much other publication He is best known for his work in The Architectural Review in the 1950s when his photographs of functional buildings such as warehouse and canal structures influenced a generation of architects helping to create a new language that expanded the possibilities of architectural design at a time when the ideals of modernism were being revalued

Camera Constructs Andrew Higgott,Timothy Wray,2016-12-05 Photography and architecture have a uniquely powerful resonance architectural form provides the camera with the subject for some of its most compelling imagery while photography profoundly influences how architecture is represented imagined and produced Camera Constructs is the first book to reflect critically on the varied interactions of the different practices by which photographers artists architects theorists and historians engage with the relationship of the camera to architecture the city and the evolution of Modernism The title thus on the one hand opposes the medium of photography and the materiality of construction but on the other can be read as saying that the camera invariably constructs what it depicts the photograph is not a simple representation of an external reality but constructs its own meanings and reconstructs its subjects Twenty three essays by a wide range of historians and theorists are grouped under the themes of Modernism and the Published Photograph Architecture and the City Re imagined Interpretative Constructs and Photography in Design Practices They are preceded by an Introduction that comprehensively outlines the subject and elaborates on the diverse historical and theoretical contexts of the authors approaches Camera Constructs provides a rich and highly original analysis of the relationship of photography to built form from the early modern period to the present day

Photography, Modern Architecture, and Design Vitra Design Museum,2005-01-01 Examining the photographic collection that Alberto Sartoris donated to the Swiss federal government this text throws light on a poorly understood aspect of 20th century architecture namely the mechanisms behind the creation and diffusion of the image of modern architecture

Typographica Rick Poyner,2002 A trailblazer in its day Typographica is ripe for rediscovery and reappraisal by a new generation of designers and image makers Its boundary blurring fusion of modernist experimentation visual and concrete poetry and environmental photography anticipated many of the preoccupations of contemporary designers artists and cultural commentators Rick Poyner offers a carefully researched and illustrated book paying tribute to the significant contribution Herbert Spencer and Typographica made to graphic design history

BOOK JACKET The British Journal of Photography,2003 Visioning Technologies Graham Cairns,2016-12-08 Visioning Technologies brings together a collection of texts from leading theorists to examine how architecture has been and is reframed and restructured by the visual and theoretical frameworks introduced by different technologies of sight understood to include orthographic projection perspective drawing telescopic devices photography film and computer visualization amongst others Each chapter deals with its own area and historical period of expertise organized sequentially to mark out and analyse the historical evolution of how architecture has been transformed by technologically induced shifts in human perception from the 15th century until today This book underlines the way in which architectural forms and design processes have developed historically in conjunction with the systems of sight we manufacture technologically and suggests this continues today Paradoxically it is premised on the argument that these technological systems tend in their initial formulations to obtain ever greater realism in our visualizations of the physical world The Architectural Review ,1977-07 Photography, Reconstruction and the Cultural History of the

Postwar European City Tom Allbeson,2020-11-16 Examining imagery of urban space in Britain France and West Germany up to the early 1960s this book reveals how photography shaped individual architectural projects and national rebuilding efforts alike Exploring the impact of urban photography at a pivotal moment in contemporary European architecture and culture this book addresses case studies spanning the destruction of the war to the modernizing reconfiguration of city spaces including ruin photobooks about bombed cities architectural photography of housing projects and imagery of urban life from popular photomagazines as well as internationally renowned projects like UNESCO s Paris Headquarters Coventry Cathedral and Berlin s Gedächtniskirche This book reveals that the ways of seeing shaped in the postwar years by urban photography were a vital aspect of not only discourses on the postwar city but also debates central to popular culture from commemoration and modernization to democratization and Europeanization This book will be a fascinating read for researchers in the fields of photography and visual studies architectural and urban history and cultural memory and contemporary European history This is Not Architecture Kester Rattenbury,2005-08-04 This is Not Architecture assembles architectural writers of different kinds historians theorists journalists computer game designers technologists film makers and architects to discuss the characteristics cultures limitations and bias of the different kinds of media and to build up an argument as to how this complex culture of representations is constructed National Register Bulletin ,1985

Mediating Modernism Andrew Higgott,2007-01-24 Well illustrated Mediating Modernism demonstrates how architectural books and journals have created the architectural culture of the twentieth century and that nowhere is this truer than in Britain Cut and Paste Urban Landscape Mira Engler,2015-08-11 During the post war era the emerging consumer economy radically changed both the discourse and practice of architecture It was a time where architecture became a mainstream commodity whose products sold through mass media a time in which Thomas Gordon Cullen came to be one of Britain s best known twentieth century architectural draftsmen Despite Cullen s wide acclaim there has been little research into his life and work particularly his printed images and his methods of operation This book examines Cullen s drawings and book design and also looks into his process of image making to help explain his considerable popularity and influence which continues to this day It presents the lessons Cullen had to offer in today s design culture and practice and looks into the post war consumerist design strategies that are still used today The Photographic Journal ,1961
