Equity Issues In Public Examinations In Developing Countries:

Equity Issues in Public Examinations in Developing Countries Vincent Greaney, Thomas Kellaghan, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 272 Public examinations in developing countries play a critical role in the selection of students for participation in the educational system The exams dictate what is taught how it is taught and what is and is not Public Examinations Examined Thomas Kellaghan, Vincent Greaney, 2019-11-19 High stakes public examinations exert a dominant influence in most education systems They affect both teacher and student behavior especially at the middle and upper levels of secondary education The content of past examinations tends to dictate what is taught and how it is taught and more important what is learned and how it is learned By changing aspects of these examinations especially their content and format education systems can have a strong positive impact on teacher behavior and student learning help raise student achievement levels and better prepare students for tertiary level education and for employment Examination agencies many of which have followed the same procedures over decades can learn from the successes and failures of other systems This book addresses current issues related to the development administration scoring and usage of these high stakes public examinations identifying key issues and problems related to examinations in many emerging market economies as well as in advanced economies The book's primary audience consists of public examination officials on national regional and state examination boards but the book should also be of interest to senior education policy makers concerned with certification and learning achievement standards to academics and researchers interested in educational assessment to governmental and education agencies responsible for student selection and to professionals at development organizations This extremely well written and comprehensive book offers a timely review of the diversity of public examination practices worldwide of the tensions between examinations and learning and of the technical expertise involved in the creation of valid reliable and fair assessments It reminds us that as the diploma disease takes hold with an ever greater intensity at every stage of education worldwide and the commercial business of testing flourishes those concerned with educational quality and meaningful learning must be on guard to prevent the assessment tail wagging the educational dog Angela W Little Professor Emerita Institute of Education University College London This book is very well structured and written and draws on the authors remarkable global knowledge across countries and histories It will be a great asset both to administrators responsible for examinations and to academics and other professionals who seek to understand the nature and impact of examinations of different types and in different settings Mark Bray UNESCO Chair Professor of Comparative Education University of Hong Kong and former Director UNESCO International Institute for Educational Planning I am sure that Public Examinations Examined which thoroughly analyzes the practice of public examinations in different countries and makes profound and well grounded conclusions will arouse very great interest and will serve to further improve public examinations Victor Bolotov Distinguished Professor Higher School of Economics National Research University Moscow member Russian Academy of Education and former Deputy Minister of Education Russian Federation Photovoltaic Applications in Rural Areas of the Developing World Gerald Foley,1995-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 298 Summarizes the factors that constrain girls schooling in Sub Saharan Africa and outlines practical ways of designing programs that will accelerate female participation in education in the region Also available in French ISBN 0 8213 3507 3 Stock No 13507 The Condition of Young Children in Sub-Saharan Africa Nat J. Colletta,Jayshree Balachander,Xiaoyan Liang,1996-01-01 Reviews the World Bank s experience in industrial restructuring in 46 countries during the past 14 years The study finds that for most completed public enterprise restructuring operations sustainability of benefits was a large problem mainly because of fragile sector reforms and inadequate governance and management Those completed for the private sector experienced poor outcomes from inadequate attention to country economic conditions and policy distortions To overcome such problems the study recommends that future restructuring operations be designed and implemented to have an impact at the firm level

Trends in Health Status, Services, and Finance: Statistical annex Ellen Goldstein,1996-01-01 Education systems in more than 50 countries most of them in the industrial world have in recent years shown an interest in obtaining information on what their students have actually learned as a result of their educational experiences This interest has been manifested either by developing national procedures to assess students achievements or by participating in international studies of student achievement This book provides introductory information on ways of assessing the learning outcomes of education systems It considers the nature choice and use of indicators and describes numerous approaches to assessing learning outcomes in selected industrial countries the United States and the United Kingdom and developing countries Chile Colombia Mauritius Namibia and Thailand The authors also review systems of comparative international assessment and debate whether developing countries should participate in them The book contains boxes and tables an appendix features a national assessment checklist Social Development and Absolute Poverty in Asia and Latin America Willy De

Geyndt,1996-01-01 Using econometric techniques analyzes causes of widespread poverty in Latin America and the 10 largest East and South Asian countries Concludes that slow economic growth is not the only explanatory variable and cites importance of schools and health care Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 Financial Market Fragmentation and Reforms in Sub-Saharan Africa Ernest Aryeetey,1997-01-01 FIAS Occasional Paper No 9 Many developing countries have made dramatic progress in promoting private sector participation in their infrastructure sectors especially with the help of foreign investors However this has not been the case in Southern and Eastern Africa which have been perceived as relatively unattractive locations for investment This paper describes the state of infrastructure in the region takes stock of actual and potential projects in the various sectors and analyzes the main impediments to private investment in the region s infrastructure services Trends in Health Status, Services, and Finance: The transition in Central and Eastern Europe Ellen Goldstein,1996-01-01 Annotation World Bank Technical Paper No 341 This cross national study provides empirical evidence of some of the trends in health status health services and health care financing that have occurred in countries undergoing economic transition in Central and Eastern Europe Evidence shows that the transition has led to a significant reduction in resources devoted to health care in many of these countries Moreover in those that have increased health care spending the resources have either not been properly mobilized or have not led to improved quality in care Also available Trends in Health Status Services and Finance The Transition in Central and Eastern Europe Volume II World Bank Technical Paper No 348 January 1997 152 pages Stock no 13828 ISBN 0 8213 3828 5
