The Dada Cyborg Matthew Biro,2009 In an era when technology biology culture are becoming ever more closely connected The Dada Cyborg explains how the cyborg as we know it today developed between 1918 1933 as German artists gave visual form to their utopian hopes fantasies in a fearful response to World War I      The Era of Expressionism ,1974

An Analysis of German Expressionism in Relation to the Emerging Hollywood Style Julia Deitermann,2006-09-18 Seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject Film Science grade A San Diego State University course Film History all of which provoked the need of a new representation of reality Moreover people not only longed for entertainment and distraction in this insecure new world but also did they inherit a new sense of intellectual liberation after censorship was ended and women were allowed to vote Furthermore the German film industry lacked film imports from other countries and decided to become involved in international film business itself thus creating the large film company Ufa Universum Film AG that still exists today Ufa produced films of various genres but the most popular and influential in the world was to become the Expressionist film Expressionism insofar forms a sharp contrast to Impressionism and Naturalism as it does not attempt to depict momentary impressions of the world nor does it aim at presenting the physical world as it is On the contrary it portrays an interpreted psychological and spiritual reality thus revealing the underlying essence and meaning of things As a result reality can be seen as a creation of the mind which calls for the viewer's interpretation      The Dance Theatre of

Kurt Jooss Suzanne Walther,1997-12-23 First Published in 1997 This is Volume 3 Part 2 in the Choreography and Dance journal and looks at the dance and the theatre of Kurt Jooss in context of his times of birth his evolution of as an artist Jooss as a teacher and his ballets      The Burgtheater and Austrian Identity Robert Pyrah,2017-12-02 The collapse of the Habsburg monarchy in 1918 galvanized discussion about national identity in the new Republic of Austria As Robert Pyrah shows in this thoroughly documented study the complex identity politics of interwar Austria were played out in the theatres of Vienna which enjoyed a cultural prominence rarely matched in other countries By 1934 productions across the city were being co-opted to serve the newly patriotic cause of the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg regimes and the Burgtheater once known as the first German stage had been transformed into a national theatre for Austria Using case studies of key productions and a wealth of previously unseen archival material Pyrah sheds new light on artistic and ideological developments throughout the period including the neglected earlier years He documents previously unexplored overlaps in the cultural programmes of Left and Right and unearths evidence that key institutions were subverted by the Right well before the suspension of parliamentary rule in 1933      Movement, Manifesto, Melee Milton A. Cohen,2004-09-14 The years before World War I were a fertile period for artists in Europe and the United States who were challenging aesthetic convention in music writing and the visual arts These early pioneers of modernism sometimes preferred to work alone but just as often they were associated with groups whose boundaries were permeable and freely changing While these individual groups including the Futurists Imagists Blue Rider and the Second Vienna School have been thoroughly studied scholars of the period have often neglected the formative and pervasive interactions of these groups across geographic and artistic boundaries Providing a historical taxonomy of this influential milieu Milton Cohen demonstrates how these groups were largely responsible for the artistic innovation and nearly all the avant garde agitation and major events of these years With concluding appendices intended for scholars and specialists this engagingly written book will be useful not only for classroom use and scholarly research but will appeal to anyone interested in reading a fresh approach to the history of early modernism Art Of The

Postmodern Era Irving Sandler, 2018-05-30 Sandler discusses the major and minor artists and their works movements ideas attitudes and styles and the social and cultural context of the period He covers post modernist art theory the art market and consumer society American and European art and artists are included The ^AOxford Handbook of Music and for an understanding of the beginnings of the Dada movement and Dada in Zurich Rudolf Kuenzli Director International Dada Archive In Flight Out of Time one can follow Dada s unfolding and expansion almost day by day Charles Haxthausen coeditor Berlin Culture and Metropolis The Exile of George Grosz Barbara McCloskey, 2015-01-31 The Exile of George Grosz examines the life and work of George Grosz after he fled Nazi Germany in 1933 and sought to re establish his artistic career under changed circumstances in New York It situates Grosz s American production specifically within the cultural politics of German exile in the United States during World War II and the Cold War Basing her study on extensive archival research and using theories of exile migrancy and cosmopolitanism McCloskey explores how Grosz s art illuminates the changing cultural politics of exile She also foregrounds the terms on which German exile helped to define both the limits and possibilities of American visions of a one world order under U S leadership that emerged during this period This book presents Grosz s work in relation to that of other prominent figures of the German emigration including Thomas Mann and Bertolt Brecht as the exile community agonized over its measure of responsibility for the Nazi atrocity German culture had become and debated what Germany s postwar future should be Important too at this time were Grosz s interactions with the American art world His historical allegories self portraits and other works are analyzed as confrontational responses to the New York art world s consolidating consensus around Surrealism and Abstract Expressionism during and after World War II This nuanced study recounts the controversial repatriation of Grosz s work and the exile culture of which it was a part to a German nation perilously divided between East and West in the Cold War German Expressionist Art in Western Michigan

Collections Kalamazoo Institute of Arts,1979      The Secret Life of Puppets Victoria Nelson,2003-11-01 In one of those rare books that allows us to see the world not as we've never seen it before but as we see it daily without knowing Victoria Nelson illuminates the deep but hidden attraction the supernatural still holds for a secular mainstream culture that forced the transcendental underground and firmly displaced wonder and awe with the forces of reason materialism and science In a backward look at an era now drawing to a close The Secret Life of Puppets describes a curious reversal in the roles of art and religion where art and literature once took their content from religion we came increasingly to seek religion covertly through art and entertainment In a tour of Western culture that is at once exhilarating and alarming Nelson shows us the distorted forms in which the spiritual resurfaced in high art but also strikingly in the mass culture of puppets horror fantasy literature and cyborgs from the works of Kleist Poe Musil and Lovecraft to Philip K Dick and virtual reality simulations At the end of the millennium discarding a convention of the demonized grotesque that endured three hundred years a Demiurgic consciousness shaped in Late Antiquity is emerging anew to re-divinize the human as artists like Lars von Trier and Will Self reinvent Expressionism in forms familiar to our pre-Reformation ancestors Here as never before we see how pervasively but unwittingly consuming art forms of the fantastic we allow ourselves to believe      Re-envisioning the Contemporary Art Canon Ruth E Iskin,2016-12-08 Re-envisioning the Contemporary Art Canon Perspectives in a Global World seeks to dissect and interrogate the nature of the present day art field which has experienced dramatic shifts in the past 50 years In discussions of the canon of art history the notion of inclusiveness both at the level of rhetoric and as a desired practice is on the rise and gradually replacing talk of exclusion which dominated critiques of the canon up until two decades ago The art field has dramatically if insufficiently changed in the half century since the first protests and critiques of the exclusion of others from the art canon With increased globalization and shifting geopolitics the art field is expanding beyond its Euro American focus as is particularly evident in the large scale international biennales now held all over the globe Are canons and counter canons still relevant Can they be re-envisioned rather than merely revised Following an introduction that discusses these issues thirteen newly commissioned essays present case studies of consecration in the contemporary art field and three commissioned discussions present diverse positions on issues of the canon and consecration processes today This volume will be of interest to instructors and students of contemporary art art history and museum and curatorial studies

Selling the Movie Ian Haydn Smith,2018 As long as there have been movies there have been posters selling films to audiences Posters came into existence just decades before the inception of film and as movies became a universal medium of entertainment posters likewise became a ubiquitous form of advertising At first movie posters suggested a film's theme from adventure and romance to thrills and spine-tingling horror Then with the ascendancy of the film star posters began to sell icons and lifestyles nowhere more so than in Hollywood But every country producing films used posters to sell their product Selling the Movie The Art of the Film Poster charts the history of the movie poster from both a creative and a commercial perspective It includes sections focusing on poster artists the development of styles the influence of politics and ideology and how commerce played a role in the film poster s development The book is richly illustrated with poster art from many countries and all eras of filmmaking From creating the brand of Charlie Chaplin s tramp and marketing the elusive mystique of Greta Garbo to the history of the blockbuster the changing nature of graphic design by the decade and the role of the poster in the digital age Selling the Movie is an entertaining and enthralling journey through cinema art and the business of attracting audiences to the box office      Plays Georg Kaiser,2018-01-01 In From Morning to Midnight the cashier downtrodden victim of the capitalist system turns bank robber in order to test the power freedom and happiness that money can bring His grand gesture of setting himself and others free turns into an odyssey of disillusion and ends in his violent death The unique stage technique employed by Kaiser is as challenging today as it was when the play was first performed The Burghers of Calais has always been considered Kaiser s greatest play and the classic of Expressionist drama In it Kaiser exploits the non naturalistic technique of Expressionism The play embraces vast expansiveness and total concentration stylized gesture and lengthy monologues      The Second Period of German Expressionism Peter W. Guenther, Artists Under Hitler Jonathan Petropoulos,2014-01-01 Artists Under Hitler closely examines cases of artists who failed in their attempts to find accommodation in the Nazi regime as well as others whose desire for official acceptance was realised They illuminate the complex cultural history of this period and provide haunting portraits of people facing excruciating choices and grave moral questions      Edvard Munch Ashley Bassie,Elizabeth Ingles,2018-03-13
