Erasmus The Eye Of The Hurricane:

Erasmus: the Eye of the Hurricane Charles L. Mee, 1973 A biography of the foremost Christian humanist of the Renaissance who devoted his life to uplifting man's condition through faith reason and education Paradigms Lost William Sonn, 2006-02-14 Four times in western history in the 1400s the early 1800s the 1880s and again in the mid 20th century we learned to duplicate and disseminate the printed word more cheaply And each time strange events followed For with each of these changes in the gritty production of glamorous content expensive and secret bodies of knowledge abruptly became cheap and easy to spread Once rare and sometimes disorienting impressions rained down on once sheltered folks New and otherwise inexperienced hands mixed them into whole new breeds of information myth logic and viewpoints There were fantastic scientific advances mass migrations bold social experiments financial upheavals and much bloodshed In the harrowing decades that followed powerful new kinds of governments businesses and groups came to elbow aside old ones In all of these periods there were great creaking shifts in politics wealth religions and even the way we learn think and see And in the last decade the costs of producing and distributing printed knowledge have fallen a fifth time far and fast and almost to free Paradigms Lost traces the history of the accidents inventions forces eccentrics and geniuses who accelerated information in the past examines what happened each time they succeeded and provides some background for what if the past is any guide may be coming Erasmus Charles L. Mee Jr., 2018-10-04 By the age of thirty one the scholarly monk Desiderius Erasmus was the most renowned and revered humanist theologian in Renaissance Europe A sickly man driven by a childhood fear of the plague Erasmus devoted his life to the goal of uplifting people through faith reason and education He satirized the corruption he found in the Roman Catholic Church in such brilliant works as The Praise of Folly and Julius Exclunis Ironically his painstaking translation of the New Testament written to reconcile disputes and to aid in the internal purification of Church doctrine had considerable influence on Martin Luther militant leader of the Protestant Reformation As the conflict between Luther and the Church grew fiercer Erasmus refused to endorse either side seeking instead to mediate the argument Eventually both sides denounced him and Erasmus was discredited throughout Europe Charles L Mee Jr's finely observed compelling biography gives the reader an excellent understanding of the ideas people and events that were shaping European thought just prior to the Reformation His portrait of Erasmus with all his faults and virtues shows him to be a man whose philosophy and courage have special meaning for our times The Art of Renaissance Europe Bosiljka Raditsa, 2000 Works in the Museum's collection that embody the Renaissance interest in classical learning fame and beautiful objects are illustrated and discussed in this resource and will help educators introduce the richness and diversity of Renaissance art to their students Primary source texts explore the great cities and powerful personalities of the age By studying gesture and narrative students can work as Renaissance artists did when they created paintings and drawings Learning about perspective students explore the era's interest in science and mathematics Through projects based on poetic forms of the time students write about their responses to art The activities and lesson plans are designed for a variety of classroom needs and can be adapted to a specific curriculum as well as used for independent study The resource also includes a bibliography and glossary

From the Eye of the Storm B.W. Jongbloed,P.A. Maassen,G. Neave,2013-03-14 In order to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary the third lustrum of our Center we at CHEPS decided to collectively write a book on the issue of how higher education institutions deal with the demand for change Institutional change is without any doubt one of the burning issues for researchers in higher education and policy studies in general but even more so for administrators at the institutional level institutional leadership deans and planners of higher education in public life government agencies intermediary organisations international organisations Whereas the lustrumbook we wrote for our second lustrum concentrated on comparative policy studies many of them focusing on comparisons between different national higher education systems this time the object of our analyses is the institution itself Today s higher education institutions are faced by demands from a multitude of actors from inside the institution students staff as well as from the institution s environment governments employers research councils sponsors These demands require changes in policy practice systems and culture The ways in which institutions respond to these demands and how their behaviour may be understood and predicted is the challenge tackled by the authors of this volume each from their own perspective and each looking at different aspects of the educational organisation
