Media and Mapping Practices in the Middle East and North Africa Alena Strohmaier, Angela Krewani, 2025-10-01 A few months into the popular uprisings in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region in 2009 the promises of social media including its ability to influence a participatory governance model grassroots civic engagement new social dynamics inclusive societies and new opportunities for businesses and entrepreneurs became more evident than ever Simultaneously cartography received new considerable interest as it merged with social media platforms In an attempt to rearticulate the relationship between media and mapping practices whilst also addressing new and social media this interdisciplinary book abides by one relatively clear point space is a media product The overall focus of this book is accordingly not so much on the role of new technologies and social networks as it is on how media and mapping practices expand the very notion of cultural engagement political activism popular protest and social participation Imagining Earth Solvejg Nitzke, Nicolas Pethes, 2017-07-24 While concepts of Earth have a rich tradition more recent examples show a distinct quality Though ideas of wholeness might still be related to mythical religious or utopian visions of the past Earth itself has become available as a whole This raises several questions How are the notions of one Earth or our Planet imagined and distributed What is the role of cultural imagination and practices of signification in the imagination of the Earth Which theoretical models can be used or need to be developed to describe processes of imagining Planet Earth This collection invites a wide range of perspectives from different fields of the Humanities to explore the means of imagining Earth International Books in Print, 1997
