Erotikon Susan Mitchell,2001-02-06 How do we discover our deepest desires those that at once elude and define us In Erotikon award winning poet Susan Mitchell invites us to make that discovery and in the process to understand our true selves In language both staggeringly beautiful and wonderfully mischevious Mitchell explores the primal transformative power of our sexual appetites Drawing us in like a lover through her sensual world she moves from seduction to surrender to symbiosis and the ultimate communion we long for in our lives on earth Erotikon Shadi Bartsch,Thomas Bartscherer,2006-11-15 Erotikon brings together leading contemporary intellectuals from a variety of fields for an expansive debate on the full meaning of eros Restricted neither by historical period nor by genre these contributions explore manifestations of eros throughout Western culture The Best American Poetry 2008 Charles Wright,David Lehman,2008-09-16 An anthology of poetry selected as the best published in magazines and periodicals in 2007 by editor Charles Wright featuring seventy five poems by Carolyn Forché Jorie Graham Louise Glück Alex Lemon and others

Selected poems, ed. by E. Gosse Thomas Gray,1885 Show Me Your Environment David Baker,2014-01-28 In Show Me Your Environment a penetrating yet personable collection of critical essays David Baker explores how a poem works how a poet thinks and how the art of poetry has evolved and is still evolving as a highly diverse spacious and inclusive art form The opening essays offer contemplations on the environment of poetry from thoughts on physical places and regions as well as the inner aesthetic environment Next Baker looks at the highly distinctive achievements and styles of poets ranging from George Herbert and Emily Dickinson through poets writing today Finally he takes joy in reading individual poems from the canonical to the contemporary simply and closely Whose City Is That? Culture, Design, Spectacle and Capital in Istanbul Dilek Özhan Koçak,Orhan Kemal Koçak,2014-06-26 Whose City Is That shows that Istanbul is produced not only by strong and systematic efforts corporate influences and or marketing activities but also by individual contributions and coincidences As such the primary purpose of this book is to find the answer of to whom Istanbul does belong presenting the reader with the richness of human experience and the practice of everyday life The chapters in this book are therefore focused on the physical and economic dimensions as well as the imaginary fictional and hyper real dimensions expressing the concern of bringing the real and imaginary borders of the city together The book provides an understanding that for each inhabitant there is another city another Istanbul Each person living in the city creates or lives in another city which is made of their own personal and particular experiences In addition the Istanbul the authors understand and describe turns into something different moment by moment which cannot be defined or identified because of its very nature as a megacity However its flow is not aimless and non directional and each sign is not causeless or dateless In this context in order to make the possibilities of the city visible the contributors to this volume ask Istanbul whose city is it The title of the book enables different academics to ask the same question using different methodologies and subjects The question Whose City is That and the necessity of studying Istanbul using multidisciplinary perspectives brought many researchers from different fields together because the city is larger than one approach and the constraints of one unique field. Gathering researchers and academics from various disciplines such as communication studies, cultural studies, cinema, media studies, literature, the fine arts, city and regional planning, political science, social and economic geography, anthropology, and architecture enables each to think about the city alone and together so as to create new forms of thought and discourse about Istanbul.

The Attractions of the Moving Image Tom Gunning, 2005-04-30 An essential collection of new and selected essays by influential cinema and media studies scholar Tom Gunning. Tom Gunning is the author of multiple books and nearly two hundred essays that have defined the field of cinema and media studies. His works have transformed our understanding of early cinema and the American avant garde and reset the terms of many central debates in film and media history and theory. His 1986 essay The Cinema of Attractions is among the most cited essays on film ever published. Gunning's writings articulate a distinctive and powerful model for thinking about cinema's history and likely future, addressing the full range of moving image media from film to still photography to digital media. His discussions draw on stage melodrama and magic lantern shows as well as criminology, world's fairs, and Spiritualism, surveying the medium as a cultural phenomenon informed by the industrial and information ages, psychiatry, urban experience, discourses on art and aesthetics, and more. This collection brings together twenty-six essays that showcase the depth and range of Gunning's scholarship, including four that have never before been published. Together, they solidify Gunning's place as a scholar who has transformed the way generations of scholars, archivists, critics, and artists think about cinema.

New Books on Women and Feminism, 2000      Poems Eduard Mörike, 1959      The Wounded Animal Stephen Mulhall, 2009 Taking a work by J. M. Coetzee as an example, this volume explores the way both literature and philosophy seek and fail to represent reality. Stephen Mulhall examines Coetzee's Elizabeth Costello, which deals with the moral status of animals.
