Applications: Volume 1 Robin Cooper,Kuniaki Mukai,John Perry,Center for the Study of Language and Information (U.S.),1990 Situation Theory grew out of attempts by Jon Barwise in the late 1970s to provide a semantics for naked infinitive perceptual reports such as Claire saw Jon run Barwise s intuition was that Claire didn t just see Jon an individual but Jon doing something a situation Situations are individuals having properties and standing in relations A theory of situations would allow us to study and compare various types of situations or situation like entitles such as facts events and scenes One of the central themes of situation theory of meaning and reference should be set within a general theory of information one moreover that is rich enough to do justice to perception communication and thought By now many people have contributed by the need to give a rigorous mathematical account of the principles of information that underwrite the theory

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1990 American Book Publishing Record ,1990 Books in Print ,1994 The Linguistics of Punctuation Geoffrey Nunberg,1990-09 Geoffrey Nunberg challenges a widespread assumption that the linguistic structure of written languages is qualitatively identical to that of spoken language It should no longer be necessary to defend the view that written language is truly language but it is surprising to learn of written language category indicators that are realized by punctuation marks and other figural devices He shows that traditional approaches to these devices tend to describe the features of written language exclusively by analogy to those of spoken language with the result that punctuation has been regarded as an unsystematic and deficient means for presenting spoken language intonation Analysed in its own terms however punctuation manifests a coherent linguistic subsystem of text grammar that coexists in writing with the system of lexical grammar that has been the traditional object of linguistic inquiry A detailed analysis of the category structure of English text sentences reveals a highly systematic set of syntactic and presentational rules that can be described in terms independent of the rules of lexical grammar and are largely matters of the tacit knowledge that writers acquire without formal instruction That these rules obey constraints that are structurally analogous to those of lexical grammar leads Nunberg to label the text grammar an application of the principles of natural language organization to a new domain
