Philosophy and the Metaphysical Achievements of Education Ryan

McInerney,2021-06-17 Tracing the deep connections between philosophy and education Ryan McInerney argues that we must use philosophy to reflect on the significance of educational practice to all human endeavour He uses a broad approach which takes in the relationships governing philosophy education and language to reveal education s fundamental achievements and metaphysical significance The realization of educational ideals and policies are read alongside growing skepticism regarding the theoretical and practical significance of philosophical thinking and the emphasis on resource efficiency and measurable outcomes which characterise schooling today It is from this context that McInerney defends the value inherent to the philosophy of education Drawing upon contemporary continental and analytic thinkers including Nietzsche Gadamer and Wittgenstein McInerney charts the role of education in shaping the child s metaphysical transformation through language acquisition Connecting early years and primary school education McInerney pinpoints rationality as the crucial factor which produces critical thinking beings He presents the pursuit of philosophically minded education as a rational pursuit which enables us to philosophise and educate others in turn dispensing with the epistemological and conceptual foundationalisms of the past

Brain, Decision Making and Mental Health Nima

Rezaei,2023-01-01 Brain Decision Making and Mental Health acknowledges that thinking is not a constant phenomenon but varies considerably across cultures Critical thinking is particularly important in bridging thinking divisions and its applicability across sciences particularly medical sciences We see critical thinking as educable and the arts as means to achieve this purpose We address the multidimensional relationship between thinking and health and related mechanisms

Thinking mainly affects emotion regulation and executive function in other words both mental and physical health are related as a function of thoughts Considering the thinking feeling emotion regulation executive function pathway it would be reasonable to propose thinking capacities based interventions to impact emotion regulation and executive function such as mindfulness and psychotherapy We review decision making taking place in integrated and social contexts and discuss the decision making styles decision outcomes relation Finally artificial thinking and intelligence prepare us for decision making outside the human mind

Education and Free Will Johan Dahlbeck, 2018-10-09 Education and Free Will critically assesses and makes use of Spinoza's insights on human freedom to construe an account of education that is compatible with causal determinism without sacrificing the educational goal of increasing students autonomy and self determination Offering a thorough investigation into the philosophical position of causal determinism Dahlbeck discusses Spinoza's view of self determination and presents his own suggestions for an education for autonomy from a causal determinist point of view The book begins by outlining the free will problem in education before expanding on a philosophical understanding of autonomy and how it is seen as an educational ideal It considers Spinoza's determinism and discusses his denial of moral responsibility Later chapters consider the relationship between causal determinism and autonomy the educational implications of understanding free will and how free will can be utilised as a valuable fiction in education This book will be of great interest to academics and postgraduate students in the field of education especially those with an interest in moral education and philosophy of education It will also be of interest to those in the fields of philosophy and psychology and specifically those focusing on the free will problem on Spinoza studies and on the relation between moral psychology and external influence
