

INTRODUCTION

Education plays most important role in developing the lives of different individual. Project management is the process of managing all the work to achieve the goals and objectives in an systematic manner (Leinhardt, 2019). Teaching is a process to help different students and understand basic problems. There are different work duties and responsibilities which the teacher needs to perform to make the student understand about the particular topic. On the other hand, in this report there will be brief discussion about the relationship and boundaries of the teaching role. Along with that there will be brief discussion about various points which helps to understand the needs of the learners. For further instance, there will be brief discussion about various to plan the needs of the individual learners.

MAIN BODY

TASK A

(1.1) Analysing own area role and responsibilities in order to provide education and training.

In training and education the teacher has to perform certain duties and work responsibilities effectively. The main focus of the teacher is that the learners understand the learning properly and implements that in their life. On the other hand, business project management is a process to make the strategical decisions for the organisation to achieve the inherent goals and objectives (Pulham and Graham, 2018). As a teacher of business project management there are several work duties and responsibilities which I need to perform. To make my duties more productive I follow a training cycle.

A teaching and training cycle is a repetition process which help the teacher to asses the student needs. There are various stages in teaching cycle which is described below:

- Study – Gaining the knowledge from various sources is the main job responsibility of the teacher. In business project management the knowledge of the market is very important. The main focus of myself is to implement this cycle and help the students to understand the basic market needs.
- Select – This is the most important in which selection of the topic plays an important role. I choose the topic specifically for the students and present that in an effective manner which helps them to understand it effectively.

SAGE Directions in Educational Psychology Neil J Salkind,2010-10-31 Educational psychology is a broad field characterized by the study of individuals in educational settings and how they develop and learn It incorporates information from such sub disciplines such as developmental psychology human development across the life span curriculum and instruction motivation and measurement and assessment Neil Salkind has mined the rich and extensive backlist of SAGE education and psychology journals to pull together a collection of almost 100 articles to be the definitive research resource on education psychology Section One Human Growth and Development focuses on the processes involved in human growth and development including ages and stages of development different theoretical perspectives and the role and effectiveness of early intervention among other topics Section Two Cognition Learning and Instruction concentrates on the mechanisms through which individuals learn and retain information Section Three Motivation explores why individuals seek out goals and what the mechanisms are that characterize this search as it relates to learning Section Four Measurement Assessment and Statistics looks at the topics that are critical to understanding individual differences the growth in the use of computers as assessment tools qualitative and quantitative methods statistical techniques and evaluation Educational Evaluation, Assessment and Monitoring Cees Glas,Jaap Scheerens,Sally M. Thomas,2006-01-16 This book looks at the foundations of school self evaluation from a scientific as from a practical perspective Planning concepts restructuring of education systems organizational theory on schools evaluation methodology and models of school effectiveness and school improvement are discussed as contributing to the overall conceptualization of school self evaluation A broad range of approaches is presented and methodological requirements are discussed School self evaluation contains controversial issues that reflect tension between the need for objectivity in a context that is permeated by values and potential conflicts of interests Similar tensions may be seen to exist with respect to the static and reductionist aspects of available data collection procedures in a complex and dynamic situation and the appeal for external accountability on the one hand and improvement oriented self reflection on the other The mission of the book is to clarify these tensions and offer ways to deal with them in practical applications The school effectiveness knowledge base is offered as a substantive educational frame of references that serves an important function in selecting relevant factors for data collection and the use of the evaluation results Culturally and Socially Responsible Assessment Catherine S. Taylor,Susan Bobbitt Nolen,2022 This book addresses a problem that affects the work of all educators how traditional methods of assessment undermine the capacity of schools to serve students with diverse cultural and social backgrounds and identities Anchored in a commonsense notion of validity this book explains how current K 12 assessment practices are grounded in the language experiences and values of the dominant White culture It presents a timely review of research on bias in classroom and large scale assessments as well as research on how students level of engagement influences their performances The author recommends practices that can improve the validity of students assessment performances by minimizing sources of bias using culturally responsive assessment tools and adopting strategies likely to increase students engagement with assessment tasks This practical resource provides subject specific approaches for improving the cultural and social relevance of assessment tools and offers guidance for evaluating existing assessment instruments for bias language complexity and accessibility issues Book Features Research based recommendations for improving assessment fairness validity and cultural social relevance Practices that have been shown to improve the effectiveness of classroom assessments in supporting student learning Concrete examples of how to create culturally relevant assessment tasks that target valued learning goals in language arts mathematics social studies and science classrooms Appendixes that provide tools educators can use to improve grading practices A Political Economy of Arab Education Mohamed Alaa Abdel-Moneim, 2015-09-07 The failure of reform policies in areas of critical importance to Arab populations such as health and education played a central role in igniting the Arab Awakening yet this policy perspective has been largely absent from recent studies of the region Arab regimes most reliant on repression to guarantee their survival were also those most vulnerable to mass politics Where threats to regime survival have been limited so have more meaningful reforms been possible finding an alternative to political change through focusing on soft policy areas such as education A Political Economy of Arab Education offers a comprehensive analysis of K 12 education systems in Arab countries deepening understanding of their administrative structures and outcomes and exploring how political considerations have impacted the ability of Arab regimes to engage in meaningful reform Taking a unique comparative political economy perspective it examines the reasons behind policy stagnation in Arab countries addressing the effects of size history and political stability on the design and implementation of policies and administrative structures Its informed analysis and comparison of education systems provides new insight into Arab regimes and highlights factors pulling them towards either stagnation or reform Examining the sustainability of reforms and establishing the benefits of engaging in meaningful change this book sheds light on why some regimes survived the Arab Spring while others crumbled and formulates convincing predictions on the potential for future regime change in the region This book will be of key interest to students and scholars of Middle Eastern Studies International and Comparative Education and Development Studies
