Welch,2002-05-03 This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe However there is no single measure which is universally accepted Whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor both within and between nations In the context of an international move towards New Right politics and neo liberal economic ideologies both the quality and equality of education are imperiled This book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged      Women, Education, and Development in Asia Grace C.L. edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very difficult private circumstances as they were finishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of difficulties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were working and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook The New Immigrant and Language Marcelo M.
