

BASIC CONCEPTS OF PUBLIC LAW

I) LOGIN

A) The Concept of Public Law

Rules governing the relationship between the state and a person or another state it constitutes the whole public law. The relationship between the state and a person is public the state's use of public power in the relationship in question to be subject to law rules is required. Ex. Expropriation process is a public law relationship. Limer between the parties. Moreover, the situation arises.

B) Public Law - Private Law Distinction

The distinction between public law and private law is a classic dating back to Roman law, is the product of classification. Today, some borders between the two have been erased and disappeared. Although it seems to have been lifted, it is still of great importance. Public law and private Some criteria can be used to separate law:

- Criterion of Interest: While public interest is at the forefront in public law, in private law individual interests are important. For example, debts arising from a sales contract. There is an individual interest in performance. In tax debt, public benefit is important, not individual. It carries.
- Sovereignty Criteria: If there is inequality between the parties, one represents public power. If it is, the public law relationship comes up. The relationship between the equals is the relationship between private law. creates.
- Forcing private parties to do something they do not want in private law relations and he cannot give orders. It is essential that the will of the parties match. Public Law. In their relations, one of the parties is the order and the other is obliged to implement it.
- Freedom of Will Criteria: As an extension of the sovereignty criterion in public law the parties cannot decide otherwise. Decisions on public law are mandatory. Private law. Most of the rules are in the form of a reserve law rule and the will of the parties is important. For example, There is a status relationship between the civil servant and the administration, determined by the rules of administrative law. However, in sales contracts, the parties can shape the contract as they wish.

II) BASIC PRINCIPLES OF LAW

A) Rule of Law

The principle of the rule of law is in the material sense, the value of human dignity and human It refers to the receipt of that base. Accordingly, human beings in no way Not reduced, all the activities of the state are to improve the material and moral existence of man. targets. The reflection of the principle of the rule of law to the criminal law in terms of material is related to the content. Criminal law rules are arranged in a state of law with a focus on protecting human rights are they. State of law recognizing human rights, establishing the necessary system to protect means. Consequently, criminal law rules primarily maintain human existence, material, moral and economic, which must be protected in terms of improving personality. It should aim to protect its values.

The Fundamental Concepts of Public Law Westel Woodbury Willoughby, 1931      The Fundamental Concepts of Public Law Westel Woodbury Willoughby, 1924      Foundations of Public Law Martin Loughlin, 2012-09-27

Foundations of Public Law offers an account of the formation of the discipline of public law with a view to identifying its essential character explaining its particular modes of operation and specifying its unique task Building on the framework first outlined in The Idea of Public Law OUP 2003 the book conceives public law broadly as a type of law that comes into existence as a consequence of the secularization rationalization and positivization of the medieval idea of fundamental law Formed as a result of the changes that give birth to the modern state public law establishes the authority and legitimacy of modern governmental ordering Public law today is a universal phenomenon but its origins are European Part I of the book examines the conditions of its formation showing how much the concept borrowed from the refined debates of medieval jurists Part II then examines the nature of public law Drawing on a line of juristic inquiry that developed from the late sixteenth to the early nineteenth centuries extending from Bodin Althusius Lipsius Grotius Hobbes Spinoza Locke and Pufendorf to the later works of Montesquieu Rousseau Kant Fichte Smith and Hegel it presents an account of public law as a special type of political reason The remaining three Parts unpack the core elements of this concept state constitution and government By taking this broad approach to the subject Professor Loughlin shows how rather than being viewed as a limitation on power law is better conceived as a means by which public power is generated And by explaining the way that these core elements of state constitution and government were shaped respectively by the technological bourgeois and disciplinary revolutions of the sixteenth century through to the nineteenth century he reveals a concept of public law of considerable ambiguity complexity and resilience
