Archer,2013-05-28 Lucifer and his army triumphed at Armageddon leaving humans and demons living in uncertain peace based on sacrifice and strict laws It is up to those with mixed demon and human blood the Host to prevent society from falling into anarchy Noon Onyx is the first female Host in memory to wield the destructive waning magic that is used to maintain order among the demons Her unique abilities along with a lack of control and a reluctance to kill have branded her as an outsider among her peers Only her powerful lover Ari Carmine and a roguish and mysterious Angel Rafe Sinclair support her unconventional ways When Noon is shipped off to a remote outpost to investigate several unusual disappearances a task that will most likely involve trying and killing the patron demon of that area it seems Luck is not on her side But when the outpost settlers claim that an ancient and evil foe has stepped out of legend to commit the crimes Noon realizes that she could be facing something much worse than she ever imagined      Coining for Capital Jyotsna

Kapur,2005-07-11 Since the 1980s a peculiar paradox has evolved in American film Hollywood's children have grown up and the adults are looking and behaving more and more like children In popular films such as Harry Potter Toy Story Pocahontas Home Alone and Jumanji it is the children who are clever savvy and self sufficient while the adults are often portrayed as bumbling and ineffective Is this transformation of children into little adults an invention of Hollywood or a product of changing cultural definitions more broadly In Coining for Capital Jyotsna Kapur explores the evolution of the concept of childhood from its portrayal in the eighteenth century as a pure innocent and idyllic state the opposite of adulthood to its expression today as a mere variation of adulthood complete with characteristics of sophistication temptation and corruption Kapur argues that this change in definition is not a media effect but rather a structural feature of a deeply consumer driven society Providing a new and timely perspective on the current widespread alarm over the loss of childhood Coining for Capital concludes that our present moment is in fact one of hope and despair As children are fortunately shedding false definitions of proscribed innocence both in film and in life they must now also learn to navigate a deeply inequitable antagonistic and consumer driven society of which they are both a part and a target      New York Magazine ,1992-12-14
