Globalization And European Integration The Changing Role Of Farmers In The Common Agricultural Policy:

Globalization and European Integration Marjoleine Hennis,2005 Globalization and European Integration

Marjoleine Hennis,2005 This book interprets the Common Agricultural Policy in the context of the broader processes of globalization especially as those processes link to the organization of interests in the farm sector and the long standing corporatist relationships between farmers and the state Reforming the Common Agricultural Policy I. Garzon,2006-08-04 Reforming the Common Agricultural Policy presents an unprecedented comparison of three successive major reforms of the CAP It shows the influence of related issues such as international trade negotiations and budget constraints and demonstrates that factors such as opening of the policy network and feedback were key to accelerating change European and North American Policy Change Giliberto Capano,Michael Howlett,2009-12-16 The issue of policy dynamics is a key one in policy studies and one which is particularly amenable to comparative policy research This edited volume brings together some of the leading scholars in the field to examine the definition conceptualization and operationalization of policy change Drawing on empirical materials from a variety of longitudinal studies of Europe and North American policy development this book assesses some of the major existing and unresolved issues currently challenging the discipline It assesses existing approaches to understanding the multiplicity of drivers of policy change and provides a general map of the composite multidimensional world of policies in action The book features case studies on welfare reform education reform the World Bank tobacco control policy energy policy agricultural policy pension reform and the impact of public opinion Features of the volume include A focus on both the domestic and international drivers of policy change Contributions from internationally renowned political scientists and policy experts Extensive qualitative data on policy change covering a range of different topics and countries This book will be of interest to students and scholars of public policy public administration and public management and political science programmes worldwide The Europeanization of National Administrations Sevasti Chatzopoulou,2020-09-04 Drawing on comparative politics and social network analysis this book examines how the domestic institutional and organizational settings as well as the network governance patterns determine variation in administrative responses to EU s Common Agricultural Policy CAP in two European Union EU member states Denmark and Greece These two small member states represent the North and South dimensions of the EU The north south dimension in relation to administrative structures respond differently to EU common policies and to Common Agricultural Policy specifically which has not been studied in the Europeanization literature Even though the study of administrative responses to EU common policies is important as it has been especially noticeable during the current financial crisis Europeanisation studies concentrate on either large Western European states France Germany and UK or small Western Northern states These studies produced detailed knowledge on specific countries and policy areas but they ignored the agricultural policy area and the importance of small Southern member states By comparing a small Southern with a small Northern state since the accession to the EU this book aims to fill this gap in the literature Moreover by linking the findings of the two cases to the member states that joined the EU in the 2004 fifth enlargement and in other policy areas it allows a better understanding of similar responses either adaptation or inertia This book represents an important contribution to the theoretical and empirical literature on Europeanisation and the Common Agricultural Policy CAP It systematically tackles an under studied question does Europeanisation of policies lead to administrative change and convergence among the member states The domestic administration of the EU CAP has remained domestically designed and monitored resulting in divergence among the member states and gaps and imbalances in the performance of EU CAP decisions The CAP is of more general interest because it combines regulatory and market intervention policy instruments The analysis proceeds through in depth comparative historical case studies of Denmark and Greece which uses a sophisticated combination of quantitative and qualitative methodologies The authoritative and informative analysis is structured by a focus on three key domestic factors There is differentiated administration of common policies and while administration succeeds and adapts in one state it does not necessarily do so in others leading to differences in implementation performance This book should provide a stimulus for further research Wyn Grant University of Warwick The last 40 years have been crucial for the European agriculture The Common Agricultural Policy fulfilled its primary objective which led Europeans to shift its objectives and cope with the shortcomings created by the success of the Policy itself manage surpluses and narrow the gap between farmers due to price mechanism as well as adapt the policy following the successive enlargements and follow the developments in the global economy in which we live nowadays Dr Chatzopoulou gives us a very accurate image on how differently actors of the agricultural economy farmers cooperatives and the administrations both in Greece and Denmark behave But also how different is the structure of the sector in these two countries in Denmark almost everything is based upon a consensus where there does not exist a law on cooperatives and where the administration and the sector work together to adapt or to influence the decisions to take at European level On the other hand in Greece farmers struggle to make their voice heard in the absence of professional organizations the cooperatives are bound to work in the framework of a specific and strict law and the administration was not shown very cooperative with the sector These two realities are very well illustrated by the author and many lessons are to be learnt through this study But above all the author gives us a fair idea of how complex is the process of Europeanisation in a Europe Union composed of sovereign member States with different history culture social organization and different legal systems Vaggelis Divaris Former European Commission principal administrator DG Agriculture and Rural Development

Globalisation, European Integration and the Changing Role of Farmers in the CAP Marjoleine Hennis, European University Institute. Department of Political and Social Sciences, 2000 This thesis explores the changing role of the Common Agricultural Policy CAP one of the biggest stumbling blocks to European integration enlargement and multilateral trade agreements Marjoleine Hennis offers a unique perspective by focusing on the interaction between European integration and domestic politics She analyzes the different levels of policymaking in the EU and applies a comparative analysis of interest intermediation in three important member states France Germany and the Netherlands Utilizing a political economy lens the author draws a comprehensive picture of the structural changes in European agricultural policymaking by tracing the impact of globalization and the related changes in European regulation on the key actors in the CAP Illuminating the dynamics and apparent contradictions of the CAP this study offers valuable perspective on the contours of future European integration

B2C Arbitration: Consumer Protection in Arbitration Alexander J. Belohlávek, 2012-10-01 Consumer protection has become a phenomenon of the past years and the combination of consumer protection and arbitration is especially sensitive Some countries experience tens of thousands of consumer arbitrations each year while others significantly limit or even entirely exclude arbitration in consumer disputes Many countries have undergone certain reforms in consumer disputes the main objective of which is the protection of consumers in arbitration The controversial variable is the degree of protection to be afforded to the consumer both under the applicable substantive law and in procedural terms These are the main issues addressed in this book Apart from the key topic the author has extensively elaborated on certain fundamental categories such as public interest and public policy all primarily in connection to the procedural mechanisms of consumer protection he has also analyzed the applicable European law and the case law of the ECJ and offered an overview of the individual systems employed in both European and non European countries especially the USA and Canada An integral part of this book is an extensive comparison and analysis of the voluminous case law several tens of decisions with reference to more than three hundred other available court decisions The book also focuses on the position of the consumer in the individual procedural stages the intervention of courts in arbitration motivated by consumer protection the individual stages of proceedings recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards rendered in consumer disputes both in domestic context and in the international milieu etc The international practice significantly influences the domestic environment in the individual countries The key issue in the EU countries is in principle the enforcement of EU standards which influence the domestic models of consumer protection primarily in connection with the autonomous EU interpretation of a number of institutions Many related issues have not yet been addressed in the case law of certain states In fact some of them have never even been discovered Besides the enforcement of foreign arbitral awards requires inter alia the compliance with extra EU international obligations binding on the individual states And finally arbitration is not regulated by the EU law as opposed to consumer protection Naturally arbitration is to a significant extent regulated by international law This results in conflicts between national international interpretation and interpretation pursuant to the EU law where the circumstances allow to apply the EU law This book is intended for all readers who have any experience with enforcement of consumer rights as well as for all professionals dealing with arbitration in general It is therefore intended for general legal
