Globalization And Belonging:

Globalization and Belonging Michael Savage, Gaynor Bagnall, Brian J Longhurst, 2005 Drawing on long term empirical research into cultural practices lifestyles and identities Globalization and Belonging explores how far reaching global changes are articulated locally The authors address key sociological issues of stratification as analysis alongside cultural issues of identity difference choice and lifestyle Their original argument Shows how globalisation theory conceives of the local reveals that people have a sense of elective belonging based on where they choose to put down roots Suggests that the feel of a place is much more strongly influenced by the values and lifestyles of those migrating to it reinvigorates debates in urban and community studies by recovering the local as an intrinsic aspect of globalization Globalization and Belonging Sheila Croucher, 2003-08-04 In a world of instant communications permeable borders immigration quotas and terrorist bombings we might well stop and ask Who are we How do we identify ourselves and claim identity in a competing tug and pull of global homogenization and fragmentation Are we Italians or European Unionists Are we Muslims or ethnic Arabs Are we residents of one state citizens of another Are we women no matter where we go This book explores how various forms of sociocultural and political identification and attachment are being affected by the increasing interconnectedness of the globe It looks at the forces of globalization economic technological political and cultural and relates them to forces of identification including citizenship nationhood ethnicity and gender Through it all author Sheila L Croucher emphasizes the sense of belonging and its importance to us as individuals and as citizens of the world To the Parishioners of St.

Sepulchre, London & Middlesex ... , 1878 Globalization and Belonging Sheila Croucher, 2018-07-12 In the decades since the September 11 2001 terrorist attacks on the United States forces of cultural economic and political integration appear locked in battle with equally powerful forces of fragmentation Globalization is facilitating unprecedented movement of goods services people and ideas while calls for building walls erecting fences and strengthening borders intensify Tensions flare around claims of deeply rooted ethnic and civilizational identities identities that are shaped and mobilized via sophisticated advances in technology Women worldwide are achieving remarkable economic and political gains while sexual violence and gender inequalities persist and are fueled by rapid global change This book explores the complex inter relationship between globalization and belonging In a hyper modern 21st century world questions and conflicts surrounding who we are and who we want to be predominate This book links the politics of different forms of identification and attachment to the dynamics of an increasingly interconnected world Thinking about Belonging in Youth Studies

Anita Harris, Hernan Cuervo, Johanna Wyn, 2021-07-22 This book takes a global perspective to address the concept of belonging in youth studies interrogating its emergence as a reoccurring theme in the literature and elucidating its benefits and shortcomings While belonging offers new alignments across previously divergent approaches to youth studies its pervasiveness in the field has led to criticism that it means both everything and nothing and thus requires deeper analysis to be of enduring value The authors do this work to provide an accessible scholarly account of how youth studies uses belonging by focusing on transitions participation citizenship and mobility to address its theoretical and historical underpinnings and its prevalence in youth policy and research

The Politics of Belonging Nira Yuval-Davis, 2011-11-04 This is an in depth examination of a slippery and contradictory subject Knowledge alone is not enough for this type of project It takes breaking out of narrow conceptual cages and unsettling what we think of as stable meanings The author brings all of this to life in often unforgettable ways Saskia Sassen Professor Columbia University National identities were once taken largely for granted in social science Now they are part of an even more complex politics of belonging that challenges both public affairs and the categories of social science Nira Yuval Davis offers a nuanced account that will be important for scholars and all those concerned with contemporary politics Craig Calhoun Director LSE This is a cutting edge investigation of the challenging debates around belonging and the politics of belonging Alongside the hegemonic forms of citizenship and nationalism which have tended to dominate our recent political and social history Nira Yuval Davis examines alternative contemporary political projects of belonging constructed around the notions of religion cosmopolitanism and the feminist ethics of care The book also explores the effects of globalization mass migration the rise of both fundamentalist and human rights movements on such politics of belonging as well as some of its racialized and gendered dimensions A special space is given to the various feminist political movements that have been engaged as part of or in resistance to the political projects of belonging Yuval Davis deconstructs notions of national and ethnic and interrogates the effects that different political projects of belonging have on members of these collectivities who are differentially located socially economically and politically

Belonging, Identity, and Conflict in the Central African Republic Gino Vlavonou, 2023-12-12 Political conflict in many parts of the world has been shaped by notions of who rightfully belongs to a place The concept of autochthony that a true original people are born of a land and belong to it above all others has animated struggles across postcolonial Africa But is this sense of rootedness from time immemorial necessary to assertions of original being and thus political supremacy Belonging Identity and Conflict in the Central African Republic examines how political conflict unfolds when the language of autochthony is detached from historical land claims Focusing on violent struggles in the Central African Republic between 2012 and 2019 Gino Vlavonou explores the social practices discursive strategies and government policies that emerged in the relentless project of African state building Conflict pitted Christian animist communities loosely organized as vigilante groups under the name anti Balaka against Muslim rebels known as the S l ka Fighters of the anti Balaka claimed that they were autochthonous the true Central Africans reframing their Muslim neighbors as foreigners to be expelled While the country had previously witnessed episodes of violence both peoples had lived together relatively peacefully and intermarried The speed and ferocity with which identity was weaponized puzzled many observers To understand this phenomenon Vlavonou probes autochthony as a category of identity that differs from ethnicity in important ways He argues that elites and ordinary citizens alike mobilize the language of original belonging as identity capital a resource to be deployed The value of that capital is lodged in what people say and do every day to give meaning to their identity and its content changes across time and space

Belonging in Changing Educational Spaces Karen Monkman, Ann Frkovich, 2022-02-21 This book explores the impacts on personal and professional local and global forms of belonging in educational spaces amidst rapid changes shaped by globalization Encouraging readers to consider the idea of belonging as an educational goal as much as a guiding educational strategy this text forms a unique contribution to the field Drawing on empirical and theoretical analyses chapters illustrate how educational experience informs a sense of belonging which is increasingly juxtaposed against a variety of global dynamics including neoliberalism transnationalism and global policy and practice discourses Addressing phenomena such as refugee education large scale international assessments and study abroad the volume s focus on ten countries including Japan Sierra Leone and the US demonstrates the complexities of globalization and illuminates possibilities for supporting new constructions of belonging in rapidly globalizing educational spaces This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in international and comparative education multicultural education and educational policy more broadly Those interested in the sociology of education and cultural studies within education will also benefit from this volume

The Sociolinguistics of Place and Belonging Leonie Cornips, Vincent A. de Rooij, 2018-03-15 This volume shows the relevance of the concepts of place and belonging for understanding the dynamics of identification through language It also opens up a new terrain for sociolinguistic and linguistic anthropological study namely the margins Rural as well as urbanized areas that are seen as marginal or peripheral to places that are overtly recognized as mixed and hybridized have received relatively little sociolinguistic attention Yet people living in these supposedly less spectacular margins are not immune to the effects of globalization and rapid technological change They too constantly form new ensembles from linguistic and cultural resources which they invest with novel instable often ambiguous meanings This volume focusses on the purportedly unspectacular in order to achieve a full understanding of the relation between language place and belonging The contributors to this volume therefore focus on language practices analyzing them as dialectically related to political economic processes and language ideologies

Globalization's Impact on Cultural Identity Formation Ahmet Atay, 2015-10-30 Globalization s Impact on Cultural Identity Formation Queer Diasporic Males in Cyberspace examines diasporic queer cultural identity formations in an era of globalization by utilizing cyber ethnography as a critical cultural and qualitative method Atay presents cyber ethnography as a method to make sense of complex globally infused and cultural experiences examines how one creates and recreates cultural identity through lived and mediated realities and analyzes how one uses mediated forms such as web pages chat rooms blogs and webcams to understand and negotiate personal identity Atay utilizes critical research methods such as cyber ethnography to investigate different aspects of cultural identities as presented on these venues This book aims to show the interconnected nature of cultural identity segments by highlighting some of the powerful cultural and social forces that mold our identities in this ever more global world

Globalization and Global Citizenship Irene Langran, Tammy Birk, 2016-06-10 Globalization and Global Citizenship examines the meaning and realities of global citizenship as a manifestation of recent trends in globalization In an interdisciplinary approach the chapters outline and analyse the most significant dimensions of global citizenship including transnational historical and cultural variations in its practice foreign and domestic policy influences and its impact on personal identities The contributions ask and explore questions that are of immediate relevance for today's scholars including How does globalization in its current form present a new set of challenges for states non state actors and individual citizens How has globalization diminished expanded or complicated notions of citizenship What rights could exist outside the context of state sovereignty How can social accountability be imagined beyond the borders of towns cities or states What forms of political representational legitimacy could be productive on the global level When is it useful possible or desirable for individuals to identify with global political communities Drawing together a broad range of contributors and cutting edge research the volume offers chapters that seek to reflect the full spectrum of approaches and topics providing a valuable resource which highlights the value of an extended and thoughtful study of the idea and practice of global citizenship within a broader consideration of the processes of globalization It will be of great use to graduates and scholars of international relations sociology and global studies affairs as well as globalization

From Modern Myths to Global Encounters Anke van der Kwaak, Rachel Spronk, Karin Willemse, 2005 In western imagery Africa is a continent of static traditional societies that are incompatible with even antithetical to western progress and modernity This book looks into processes of change and transformation in Africa in the context of modernity and globalization showing the resilience rather than the expected demise of local cultures in Africa In this volume the persistent western modern myth is deconstructed Most contributions are from students of Peter Geschiere young Africanists from Africa and Europe from different disciplinary backgrounds including anthropology history political sciences and law Based on extensive fieldwork conducted during the last two decennia they reflect on the three main themes that are central to Geschiere's work African politics the modernity of witchcraft and the construction of communal identities in times of globalization These themes cover some of the most topical subjects currently debated in African studies not only by Geschiere but also by his close colleagues including Jean Fran ois Bayart Achille Mbembe and Jean and John Comaroff all known for being critical and cutting edge This critical attitude has inspired all of the contributions including that of the Latin Americanist Michiel Baud The aforementioned scholars have instigated debates on African politics in terms of Africanizing the state while occult forces witchcraft often being taken to be the hallmark of a traditional world view are understood as part and parcel of processes of modernization and nation state building Ethnic and religious identities intersected with gender class and generation prove to be important anchors of authenticity and autochthony in an era of globalization The personal reflections on the coming of age as Africanists as exemplified by the contributions of Geschiere s students in this volume have theoretical and methodological implications but also throw light on the anthropology of Africa in late twentieth century academia in The Netherlands From modern myths to global encounters is essential reading for students and scholars in African Studies Development Studies Political Science International Law Anthropology and History of Africa as well as for anyone interested in postcolonial African studies
