

PROFESSIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

Your employer regardless of the size or type of organization has a legal responsibility to provide:

- A safe and healthy workplace kept in good condition.
- Equipment that is safe to use
- Safe systems and procedures of work.
- At least one person who is competent and trained to supervise health and safety at work.

You have a legal responsibility to;

- Co-operate with your employer's health and safety requirements, procedures and policies.
- Follow safe systems of work e. g using equipment safely and following instructions for the use of products.
- Not interfere with or misuse any equipment or protective clothing provided by your employer.
- Take care of your own health and safety, and the health and safety of your work colleagues and clients.

HEALTH AND SAFETY LEGISLATION

The main law on health and safety at work in Kenya is; The Safety and Health Act No. 15 of 2007 and revised in 2010. provides for the safety, health and welfare of workers and all persons lawfully present at workplaces.

What are obligations of the employer?

The responsibilities of the employer as per section 6 include to:

- Provide and maintain the plant and systems and procedures of work that are safe and without risks to health.
- Make arrangements for ensuring safety and the absence of risks to health in connection with the use, handling, storage and transport of articles and substances.
- Provide for information, instruction, training and supervision as is necessary to ensure the safety and health at work of every person employed.
- Maintain the workplace in a condition that is safe and without risks to health and provide and maintain necessary means of access to and egress (outlet) from it that are safe and without risks to health.
- Provide and maintain a working environment for every person employed that is safe, without risks to health, and adequate as regards facilities and arrangements for the employees' welfare at work.
- Inform all employees of any risks from new technologies and imminent danger.
- Ensure that every person employed participates in the application and review of safety and health measures.
- Carry out appropriate risk assessments in relation to the safety and health of employees and, on the basis of these results, adopt preventive and protective measures to ensure that under all conditions of their intended use, all chemicals, machinery, equipment, tools and process under the control of the employer are safe and without risk to health and comply with the requirements of safety and health provisions in this Act.
- Send a copy of each risk assessment report to the area occupational safety and health officer.
