God And His People Unfolding Story:

God's Unfolding Story of Salvation Heather A. Kendall, 2012-06-12 No one can appreciate the size or shape of a forest without flying over top to view the big picture The Bible is like a forest and individual books are similar to trees Studying small portions of Scripture is worthwhile and necessary Nevertheless one of the first steps of discipleship after salvation should be an understanding of the big picture in the Bible God's Unfolding Story of Salvation teaches believers that the biblical storyline is Christ centered Often people think of redemptive history only in terms of its promises in the Old Testament and its fulfillment in the New Testament There is much more to the story than that In the Old Testament the Holy Spirit also points to Christ through preparation for his birth pictures or types and anticipation Since God's story ultimately affects each one of us it is worth the time and effort required to understand it If you do this you will discover a pearl of great value Forgiveness of sin and reconciliation with God are the greatest needs of everyone past present and future This redemption story brings glory to God and benefits believers

Christocentric Preaching Meets the Historical Jesus Devon Duffield, 2024-12-30 The Christocentric homiletic is considered one of the leading contemporary approaches within the evangelical hermeneutic and homiletic society This is due to the convincing theological justification practical guidance and demonstrative examples of Christocentric sermons from three North American scholars Sidney Greidanus Edmund Clowney and Bryan Chapell Its popularity however has not made this approach immune to criticism Opponents of the Christocentric approach often criticize the preaching model for operating on a general interpretive level having repetitive sermon goals and delivering sermons that lack adequate application among other things The suggested antidote to these issues in current scholarship is for the Christocentric homiletic to become less Christocentric and more Theocentric This book enters the current homiletical debate on Christocentric preaching by placing the homiletical method in conversation with the field of Christology In doing so it points out that the Christocentric homiletic is embedded in a Christology from above contributing to its strengths and weaknesses This book suggests that if the Christocentric method takes the Christologies from below of N T Wright and Wolfhart Pannenberg seriously it can address specific weaknesses and find resources to enhance some of its strengths without negating its central conviction of preaching Christ in every sermon It defends the unique proposal that the Christocentric method can address its criticisms by becoming more Christocentric and not more Theocentric The End of Theology Jason S. Sexton ,Paul Weston ,2016-10-01 Missiologists and theologians do not often talk to each other which has resulted in increased ignorance of each other s questions and concerns about how to do theology in ways that effectively serve the Church s mission Under the auspices of the Tyndale Fellowship Christian Doctrine study group a colloquium of distinguished scholars and practitioners recently gathered at the University of Cambridge This volume arising out of that symposium begins conversations that have been waiting to happen Each participant brings a particular perspective to questions about the nature of theology and how it is most meaningfully constructed so as to offer a truly interdisciplinary perspective on theology and mission It highlights perspectives of contextual theology and systematic theology as well as missiology and mission studies world Christianity and historical inquiry biblical studies and missional hermeneutics ethnography pastoral practice and social justice It also pays keen attention to matters on the ground with a profound desire to relate questions of evangelical identity including ministry practice and mission to the wider tradition In short this volume sets out to model the kind of engagement required by both Church and Academy to do theology for mission When the White Smoke Clears Fr. The Blessing of Ephraim and Manasseh Ahmed Musa, 2024-12-14 The blessing of Ephraim and Manasseh is not just a story of two sons being blessed by their grandfather it is a moment that encapsulates the very nature of God's relationship with His people. It speaks to the ways in which God's blessings often defy human expectations and it is a reminder that the future of God's people is not determined by human standards but by divine will. This blessing is a pivotal moment that reflects the heart of God's covenant with Israel, a covenant that would carry through the generations through moments of prosperity and failure and ultimately find its fulfillment in the coming of the Messiah.

Engaging Theology
Ben C. Blackwell, R.L. Hatchett, 2019-10-29

Theology today is faced with increasing amounts of religious and theological pluralism. What is distinctive about Christian theology? Why do these ideas matter? And the biggest question of all: Who cares? Key aspects of orthodox theology are seen as speculative and irrelevant to authentic Christianity and to personal spirituality. While not succumbing to the pragmatism of the age, this book shows that key elements of Christian theology ground an integrated worldview and are essential for spiritual formation.

Engaging Theology is an introductory theology textbook that grounds a treatment of standard systematic topics in the wider context of life and practice and shows the relevance of each doctrine to the church. The book treats the essential doctrines of Christian orthodoxy by following the pattern of story, doctrinal exposition, theological relevance, and spiritual relevance.

Story Each chapter begins with a brief and engaging account of the historical situation out of which the doctrine arose or where it played an essential role in the development of the church, showing students that orthodox theology matters and introducing them to most of the key theologians in the history of the church.

Doctrinal Exposition The heart of the chapter is exposition of key elements of the doctrine, highlighting core and debated elements while clarifying heterodox perspectives.

Integrated with the narrative account this section also models the contextualized nature of theology. Each chapter includes biblical, historical, and contemporary views on the issue and notes key figures in the debates and their influence.

Theological Relevance While theological relevance is clear throughout each chapter, this section highlights relevance to the modern setting and concerns, including interaction with heterodox and non-Christian faiths. It identifies current theological problems besetting the church and shows how a proper understanding and integration of orthodox theology addresses these problems. It also points to other problems the church is facing for interesting discussion starters.

Spiritual Relevance Since orthodox theology has a direct influence on one's own spiritual formation and practice, each chapter concludes with practical encouragements and discussions about how each doctrine can be integrated in one's personal and corporate life.

Engaging Theology is ideal for students and everyday people living in a post-Christian era to help them seriously engage with the Christian faith.

Canon, Covenant and Christology
Matthew Barrett, 2020-02-20

All Scripture is breathed out by God. 2 Timothy 3:16. From Paul's epistles, the divine inspiration of Scripture may be confidently affirmed, as well as its corollary attributes. However, on turning to Jesus and the Gospels, it is hard to find an explicit approach like Paul's. Matthew Barrett argues that Jesus and the apostles have just as convictional a doctrine of Scripture as Paul or Peter, but it will only be discovered if the Gospels are read within their own canonical horizon and covenantal context. The nature of Scripture presupposed by Jesus and the Gospel writers may not be addressed directly.

but it manifests itself powerfully when their words are read within the Old Testament's promise fulfilment pattern. Nothing demonstrates Scripture's divine origin, divine authorial intent and trustworthiness more than the gospel of Jesus Christ. In the advent of the Son of God, the Word has become flesh, announcing to Jew and Gentile alike that the covenant promises Yahweh made through the Law and the Prophets have been fulfilled in the person and work of Christ. God Heard Their Cry

The church in Africa is thriving both numerically and in its boldness and fervour. Yet the challenge of African folk Christianity, a Christianity shaped more by traditional beliefs than the Bible, continues to loom large, and there remains an acute need for life and faith to be biblically informed. In this introduction to biblical theology, Prof. Peter Nyende draws from nearly two decades of experience teaching the next generation of African church leaders. Maintaining the vital importance of a holistic understanding of Scripture and its unified nature, he presents the central story of both Old and New Testaments as the restoration of God's dwelling and kingdom in the world. He traces this narrative through its many stages of development: creation and fall; God's covenants with Israel; exile to its ultimate fulfilment in Jesus, the church, and the new Jerusalem. Though written with pastors and theological students in mind, this book is accessible to any who desire to increase their biblical literacy and partner more fully with the work of God and his kingdom.

Locating Atonement Zondervan, 2015-11-10. A Close Look at Atonement's Place in Contemporary Systematic Theology. In light of renewed interest in the doctrine of atonement during which a range of atonement models have gained momentum among different traditions, it's important to map these models to the broader context of theological thought on this aspect of Christ's work and to show how no single approach has the complete picture. The proceedings of the third annual Los Angeles

Theology Conference seek to identify the place of the doctrine of atonement in systematic theology Locating Atonement stays away from discussion of theories of atonement typologies of those theories and contests among various theories Instead its focus is on the question What else is there to do in atonement theology besides rehashing types and theories The twelve diverse essays in this collection include discussions on Atonement and the concept of punishment Atonement and ascension Atonement and human suffering Atonement and covenant Each of the essays collected in this volume engage with Scripture as well as with others in the field theologians both past and present from different confessions in order to provide constructive resources for contemporary systematic theology and to forge a theology for the future Through the Valley

the Whole World Franklin Pyles, Lee Beach,2016-10-03 Like most Protestant denominations the Christian and Missionary Alliance C MA was founded upon ideas that shaped its vision and ethos throughout its history. Also like most denominations over time the influence of these ideas on the movement tends to diminish. Denominations like any organization have to consistently revisit their original vision in order to remain vitally sustained by those things that gave it a reason for existing in the first place. This book addresses six key ideas that have shaped the Christian and Missionary Alliance throughout its history: Jesus as our savior, sanctifier, healer, and coming king, which are known as the fourfold gospel, as well as the concepts of Jesus only and world mission. These ideas are at the heart of the C MA identity. However, there has long been a sense within C MA circles that these core ideas are not always given the kind of attention that they deserve so that they can dynamically shape the movement as it faces the challenges of being the church in the twenty-first century. This volume is a resource for Alliance churches that will help them re-engage with the central tenets of Alliance theology and spirituality in a way that will ultimately inspire greater passion for the cause of Christ in the world as it is uniquely expressed through the movement known as the Christian and Missionary Alliance.
