hierarchy Ecology ,1922 Resilient Forest Management Philip J. Burton,2025-05-06 Global forest management is now grappling with ways to address the many dimensions of global change including a warming climate and increasing forest disturbance from fires and pest outbreaks along with changes in public values However the dominant forest management paradigms still assume a constant and predictable world in which command and control i e treating long lived forests much like short lived agricultural crops and single value i e timber optimization still prevail This novel text argues for new approaches to forest management that focus on resilience and embracing adaptability to the changing socio ecological environment as it unfolds Resilience is the ability of a system to maintain its essential attributes in the form of composition structure and or function in response to stress disruption or disturbance Managing a system for resilience places an emphasis on persistence rather than growth efficiency or profitability which can be fulfilled by enhancing the capacity to resist change i e robustness or by enhancing the capacity to incorporate change in desirable directions i e flexibility or a combination of the two Resilient Forest Management develops many of the same resilience enhancing strategies for protected areas multi purpose forests and timber production lands but with different degrees of emphasis Featured prominently are practices that enhance diversity connectivity in space and time and adaptive management as informed by vulnerability analysis and broad stakeholder consultation In so doing Resilient Forest Management builds on foundational concepts of ecological forestry and our understanding of complex adaptive systems and takes sustainable forest management to the next level Resilient Forest Management will be suitable as a primary or supplementary text in forest policy and management It will appeal to graduate level students and researchers in the fields of forestry and conservation along with active policymakers in government the forest industry and environmental non governmental organizations While focused on forestry parks managers agriculturists and urban planners too will find much useful insight and many creative solutions to sustainable development in a changing world Changing Landscapes: An Ecological Perspective Izaak S.

Zonneveld,Richard T.T. Forman,2012-12-06 Landscape Ecology is an emerging science of gaining momentum over the past few decades in the scientific as well as in the planning management worlds Although the field is rooted in biology and geography the approaches to understanding the ecology of a landscape are highly divers This hybrid vigor provides power to the field One can no longer view a local ecosystem or land use in isolation from global areas and time frames The surrounding landscape mosaic and the flows and movements in a landscape must be considered especially the linkage between humans requiring resources provided by nature the constraints on their use as well as the responding landscape

Vegetation science applications for rangeland analysis and management P.T. Tueller,2012-12-06 Natural grasslands pastures and meadows are among the vegetation types most frequently investigated with phytosociological methods This was one of the reasons why volume 13 Application of vegetation science to grassland husbandry and agriculture edited by W Krause appeared as one of the first volumes of this handbook It appeared under the chief editorship of Prof R Tiixen and in his time main emphasis of the handbook was placed on Ziirich Montpellier methods and the European vegetation When we redesigned the handbook we felt the need to include other methods and aims of grassland analyses as well as a more global coverage of grasslands Especially the natural dry and semidry areas of the world needed to be covered was very fortunate in getting Prof Tueller of the University of Reno I Nevada as an editor for this volume He and the colleagues he motivated to compile volume 14 on Application of vegetation science to rangeland analysis and management have created a truly global coverage of the topics interesting for vegetation analyses in natural grasslands Since volume 13 covered the problems of anthropogenically created grasslands this topic was not expressly treated in order to avoid duplication For the same reason no specific attempt was made to get more papers from Europe and the temperate forest region in general The cooperation with Dr Tueller has been very rewarding for me
