Global Mobilization For Hiv Prevention A Blueprint For Action:

Global Mobilization for HIV Prevention Global HIV Prevention Working Group, 2002 Global Mobilization for HIV Prevention Alim A. Fatah, 2002-09 Projections indicate that the global HIV infection rate will continue its rapid pace producing 45 million new infections between 2002 2010 But 28 million of these new infections could be prevented if existing HIV prevention strategies are scaled up even more could be averted with the advent of new prevention technologies This blueprint for action provides a road map for rapidly scaling up prevention programs to contain ultimately reverse the AIDS epidemic The report reviews the scientific literature on the effectiveness of HIV prevention interventions identifies obstacles to quickly expanding prevention programs makes specific recommendations to prevent millions of infections this decade

Socialising the Biomedical Turn in HIV Prevention Susan Kippax, Niamh Stephenson, 2016-06-28 This book concerns HIV prevention In it the authors argue that until the world focuses its attention on the social issues carried and revealed by AIDS it is unlikely that HIV transmission will be eradicated or even significantly reduced The book argues that we are currently witnessing the remedicalisation or the continuing biomedicalisation of HIV prevention which began in earnest after the development of successful HIV treatment and that this biomedical trajectory continues with the increasing push to use HIV treatments as prevention undermining what has been in many countries a successful prevention response This wide ranging study argues that HIV prevention involves enabling people and communities to discuss sex sexuality and drug use and informed by these discussion devising locally effective strategies for promoting safe sexual and drug injection practices

UN Millennium Development Library: Combating AIDS in the Developing World UN Millennium Project, 2012-04-27 The Millennium Development Goals adopted at the UN Millennium Summit in 2000 are the world's targets for dramatically reducing extreme poverty in its many dimensions by 2015 income poverty hunger disease exclusion lack of infrastructure and shelter while promoting gender equality education health and environmental sustainability These bold goals can be met in all parts of the world if nations follow through on their commitments to work together to meet them Achieving the Millennium Development Goals offers the prospect of a more secure just and prosperous world for all The UN Millennium Project was commissioned by United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan to develop a practical plan of action to meet the Millennium Development Goals As an independent advisory body directed by Professor Jeffrey D Sachs the UN Millennium Project submitted its recommendations to the UN Secretary General in January 2005 The core of the UN Millennium Project's work has been carried out by 10 thematic Task Forces comprising more than 250 experts from around the world including scientists development practitioners parliamentarians policymakers and representatives from civil society UN agencies the World Bank the IMF and the private sector This report lays out the recommendations of the UN Millennium Project Task Force 5 Working Group on HIV AIDS The Working Group urges the intensification and revitalization of prevention efforts a stronger focus on vulnerable populations and the expansion of antiretroviral therapy to reach 75% of those in need by 2015

Simultaneous expansion of prevention and treatment accompanied by sustained investment in health systems will enable countries to reverse the spread of HIV by 2015

Renewing Our Voice David Wilson, 2004 This book provides a common tool to advocate for evidence based programmes outlining the principles that underscore successful NGO HIV and AIDS work The principles set out in this Code are invaluable guidelines for organisational planning programme development implementation and evaluation advocacy efforts and resource allocation

A Fraught Embrace Ann Swidler, Susan Cotts Watkins, 2018-12-04 In the wake of the AIDS pandemic legions of organizations and compassionate individuals from faraway places descended on Africa to offer help and save lives Ann Swidler and Susan Cotts Watkins vividly describe the often mismatched expectations and fantasies of altruists who dream of transforming lives of the villagers who desperately seek help and of the brokers on whom both Western altruists and impoverished villagers must rely Based on years of fieldwork in the heavily AIDS affected country of Malawi this incisive irreverent book digs into the sprawling AIDS enterprise and unravels the paradoxes of policy and practice All who want to do good from idealistic volunteers to world weary development professionals depend on brokers as guides fixers and cultural translators The mutual misunderstandings among these players create all the drama of a romance longing exhilaration disappointment heartache and sometimes an enduring connection A Fraught Embrace unveils the tangled relations of those involved in the collective struggle to contain an epidemic

The Invisible Cure Helen Epstein, 2007-05-15 A New York Times Notable Book of 2007 The Invisible Cure is an account of Africa's AIDS epidemic from the inside a revelatory dispatch from the intersection of village life government intervention and international aid Helen Epstein left her job in the US in 1993 to move to Uganda where she began work on a test vaccine for HIV Once there she met patients doctors politicians and aid workers and began exploring the problem of AIDS in Africa through the lenses of medicine politics economics and sociology Amid the catastrophic failure to reverse the epidemic she discovered a village based solution that could prove more effective than any network of government intervention and international aid an intuitive response that calls into question many of the fundamental assumptions about the AIDS in Africa Written with conviction knowledge and insight The Invisible Cure will change how we think about the worst health crisis of the past century and indeed about every issue of global public health

Averting AIDS Crises in Eastern Europe and Central Asia Olusoji Adeyi, 2003-01-01 The countries of Eastern Europe and the central Asian region are experiencing the greatest increases in rates of HIV AIDS and tuberculosis infections This publication sets out the World Bank's regional support strategy which seeks to provide a unifying framework for the Bank's work as part of the international support for country led responses to these public health problems It identifies short to medium term priorities and clarifies options for integrating effective interventions into the broader agenda of poverty reduction and economic development
