The morphological scheme devised by Hubble and followers to classify galaxies has proven over many decades to be quite effective in directing our quest for the fundamental parameters describing the extragalactic manifold This statement is however far more true for spirals than for ellipticals Echoing the concluding remarks in Scott Tremaine's summary talk at the Princeton meeting on Structure and Dynamics of Elliptical Galaxies the Hubble classification of spirals is useful because many properties of spirals gas content spiral arm morphology bulge prominence etc all correlate with Hubble type By contrast almost nothing correlates with the elliptical Hubble sequence E1 to E7 During the last few years much effort has been put into the search for a more meaningful classification of ellipticals than Hubble's Concomitantly forwarded by some provocative conjectures by R Michard the classical question of whether E galaxies form a physically homogeneous family has been brushed up once more Results of these and other parallel studies look rather promising and point to suture part of the dichotomy between ellipticals and disk galaxies which had become popular in the early eighties owing to dynamical arguments At the same time it appears more and more clear that besides the usual genetic varieties of galaxies products of environmental evolution must also be contemplated in building our modern picture of the reign of galaxies The above considerations prompted us to solicit Prof Basement Tectonics 7 Robert Mason,2013-04-17 Proceedings of the Seventh International Conference on Basement Tectonics held in Kingston Ontario Canada August 1987 Astronomy and Astrophysics Abstracts S. Astronomy and Astrophysics Abstracts is devoted to the recording summarizing and indexing of astronomical publications throughout the world Two volumes are scheduled to appear per year Volume 67 records 10 903 papers covering besides the classical fields of astronomy and astrophysics such matters as space flights related to astronomy lunar and planetary probes and satellites meteorites and interplanetary matter X rays and cosmic rays quasars and pulsars The abstracts are classified under more than one hundred subject categories thus permitting quick surveying of the bulk of material published on the same topic within six months For instance this volume records 119 papers on minor planets 155 papers on supernovae and 554 papers on cosmology

Role Of Women In The Development Of Science And Technology In The Third World - Proceedings Of The Conference Organized By The Canadian International Development Agency And The Third World Academy Of Sciences A M Faruqi, M H A Hassan, G Sandri, 1991-02-26 This conference was organised by the Third World Academy of Sciences in collaboration with the Canadian International Development Agency For the 250 female scientist participants from distant lands and diverse cultures from the Caribbean to the Far East the conference proved a stimulating experience to recognize their strength in terms of numbers and achievements to forge new links nationally and internationally and to demonstrate that science is independent of gender and is no longer an exclusively male dominated preserve The first part of the proceedings deals with the global Third World and national perspectives of the theme Women and Science and the second highlights the scientific contributions by Third World women scientists their personal experiences and scientific reports The publication of these proceedings would serve as a potentially effective strategy aimed at enhancing the status of women scientists not only in the Third World but worldwide

The Evolution of Galaxies G. Hensler, G. Stasinska, S. Harfst, P. Kroupa, C. Theis, 2013-11-11 Galaxies have a history This has become clear from recent sky surveys which have shown that distant galaxies formed early in the life of the Universe differ from the nearby ones New observational windows at ultraviolet infrared and millimetric wavelengths provided by ROSAT IRAM IUE IRAS ISO have revealed that galaxies contain a wealth of components very hot gas atomic hydrogen molecules dust dark matter A significant advance is expected from the results of new instruments VLT FIRST XMM which will allow one to explore the most distant Universe Three Euroconferences were planned to punctuate this new epoch in galactic research bringing together specialists in various fields of Astronomy This book contains the proceedings of the third conference and presents the actual state of the art of modelling galaxy evolution

The Fourth Source Robert J. Tuttle, 2012 This book describes how the effects of nature's own nuclear reactors have shaped the Earth the Solar System the Universe and the history of life as we know it It focuses on observed effects that are poorly explained by our standard theories identifies certain errors in those theories and shows how these effects are caused by natural nuclear fission reactors The theory of Plate Tectonics is wrong and it is shown that expansion of the Earth causes continental drift A physically reasonable mechanism is proposed for expansion and observational data are presented to show that this occurs Evolution is explained as punctuated equilibrium with mutations caused by abrupt surges of radiation and related life forms that have been interpreted as separate species are actually the result of radiation injury This view is particularly effective as applied to humans The ability of the dinosaurs to live so large is explained by use of Earth Expansion and a more massive atmosphere to provide buoyancy and effective transpiration of oxygen These effects also explain how pterodactyls and ancient birds could fly Expansion induced by impacts at the end of the Cretaceous caused the atmosphere to thin and the dinosaurs collapsed Analysis of geological and biological data supports this The astronomical distance scale is shown to be wrong based on the misconception that trigonometric parallax is an absolute measurement It isn't and the method is led astray by the overwhelming number of asteroidal fragments masquerading as stars The measurements of an expanding Universe are shown to be in error and an expanding Universe is not needed by an alternative interpretation of Einstein's equations This interpretation is based on the equal creation of matter and antimatter which is known to occur Spiral galaxies are not vast Island Universes of stars as we have thought but are shown to be the strewn fields of debris from the nuclear fission detonation of distant planets The Universe is not made up of 96% Dark Matter and Dark Energy but is instead very ordinary Abundant evidence and references provide support for all these interpretations This book opens new opportunities for research by correcting several fundamental errors in our concepts of the Earth Life and the Universe
