

The background of the book cover is a composite image. On the left, there is a vertical strip showing the spines of several books in a library or bookstore. The rest of the cover features a blurred, artistic photograph of an interior space, possibly a modern building with large windows and a green wall. A large, semi-transparent globe is positioned in the lower right quadrant, partially obscured by the title text.

Global Television And Film An Introduction To The Economics Of The Business

Denise D Bielby, C. Lee Harrington

Global Television And Film An Introduction To The Economics Of The Business:

Global Television and Film Colin Hoskins, Stuart McFadyen, Adam Finn, 1997 This is the first non specialist introduction to the economics of the contemporary film and television business This global industry is significant both financially and culturally and the political economy of its trade is an extremely sensitive issue Are cultural goods merely entertainment goods And why does the US dominate this territory The present volume offers a systematic structured explanation of how the global markets for TV and film operate while also discussing the implications for public policy and business strategy By listing in detail the economic and cultural characteristics related to such trade the authors provide the tools necessary for the evaluation of international communications issues They also stress the uniqueness of cultural products and put forth the argument that the economic and cultural development approaches to cultural issues can be largely reconciled

Global Television Barbara Selznick, 2008-06-15 The face of U S television broadcasting is changing in ways that are both profound and subtle Global Television uncovers the particular processes by which the international circulation of culture takes place while addressing larger cultural issues such as identity formation Focusing on how the process of internationally made programming such as Highlander The Series and The Odyssey amusingly dubbed Europudding and commercial white bread are changing television into a transnational commodity Barbara Selznick considers how this mode of production as a means by which transnational television is created has both economic rewards and cultural benefits as well as drawbacks Global Television explores the ways these international co productions create a global culture as well as help form a national identity From British brand programming e g Cracker that airs on A E in the U S to children s television programs such as Plaza Sesamo and documentaries Selznick indicates that while the style narrative themes and ideologies may be interesting corporate capitalism ultimately affects and impacts these programs in significant ways

Global TV Denise D Bielby, C. Lee Harrington, 2008-08-17 A reporter for the Los Angeles Times once noted that I Love Lucy is said to be on the air somewhere in the world 24 hours a day That Lucy s madcap antics can be watched anywhere at any time is thanks to television syndication a booming global marketplace that imports and exports TV shows Programs from different countries are packaged bought and sold all over the world under the watch of an industry that is extraordinarily lucrative for major studios and production companies In Global TV Denise D Bielby and C Lee Harrington seek to understand the machinery of this marketplace its origins and history its inner workings and its product management In so doing they are led to explore the cultural significance of this global trade and to ask how it is so remarkably successful despite the inherent cultural differences between shows and local audiences How do culture specific genres like American soap operas and Latin telenovelas so easily cross borders and adapt to new cultural surroundings Why is The Nanny whose gum chewing star is from Queens New York a smash in Italy Importantly Bielby and Harrington also ask which kinds of shows fail What is lost in translation Considering such factors as censorship and other such state specific policies what are the inevitable constraints of crossing over Highly experienced in the field Bielby and Harrington provide a unique and richly textured look at global television through a cultural lens one that has an undeniable and complex effect on what shows succeed and which do not on an international scale Harry Alan Towers Dave Mann,2014-11-03 Harry Alan Towers reputation rests upon a corpus of 95 low budget productions shot post haste in every corner of the globe He took an integral part however in the development of the protocols that now underpin much transnational film production and he must be regarded as a pioneer Towers slash and burn strategy focused on parasitic back to back productions funded by rights bundles that were pre sold globally This strategy was substantially derived from his early days in broadcasting wherein he acted as a go between in the American and the British Commonwealth markets Though he became adept at procuring funds from pariah regimes and black market economies primarily he continued to act as a broker bringing together American equity investment and European finance under the auspices of EC co production agreements He was also quick to exploit the burgeoning niche markets becoming available in the wake of technological developments and government initiatives Global Game Industries and Cultural

Policy Anthony Fung,2017-02-10 This is the first book that sheds light on global game industries and cultural policy The scope covers the emerging and converging theory and models on cultural industries and its development and their connection to national cultural policy and globalization The primary focus of the book is on Asian cultural policy and industries while there are implicit comparisons throughout the book to compare Asia to other global markets This book is aimed at advanced undergraduates graduate students and faculty members in programs addressing cultural policy and digital games It will also be of interest to those within the cultural policy community and to digital games professionals

Current and Emerging Issues in the Audiovisual Industry Mercedes Medina,Mónica Herrero,Alicia Urgellés,2017-02-07 This book focuses on the challenges of competition in television broadcasting markets How is the evolution from a two sided market to platform economics reshaping competition in television broadcasting How are new market dynamics changing competition for content creation and acquisition and the revenue streams Will content remain king Or will new competitive dynamics undermine the sustainable creation of high quality content especially in small media markets Power Misses II David E. James,2020-10-27 Like David James earlier collection of essays Power Misses Essays Across Un Popular Culture 1996 the present volume Power Misses II Cinema Asian and Modern is concerned with popular cultural activity that propose alternatives and opposition to capitalist media Now with a wider frame of reference it moves globally from west to east beginning with films made during the Korean Democracy Movement and then turning to socialist realism in China and Taiwan and to Asian American film and poetry in Los Angeles Several other avant garde film movements in L A created communities resistant to the culture industries centered there as did elements in the classic New York avant garde here instanced in the work of Ken Jacobs and Andy Warhol The final chapter concerns little known films about communal agriculture in the Nottinghamshire village of Laxton the only one where the medieval open field system never suffered enclosure This survival of the commons anticipated resistance to the extreme and catastrophic forms of privatization monetization and theft of the public commonweal in the advanced form of capitalism we know as neoliberalism Chinese Culture, Organizational Behavior, and International Business Management Ilan Alon, 2003-02-28 The impact of Chinese culture can be felt in all areas of business and management in China from Chinese firms to Western companies This edited volume integrates contributions from multiple disciplines and countries including China Hong Kong Taiwan France Australia New Zealand Canada the United Kingdom and the United States More than merely a compendium of how to do business in China tips this book examines the influence of culture specifically Confucian values and Chinese traditions on foreign direct investment joint ventures management styles and theories and organizational behavior Alon and his contributors demonstrate that significant differences still exist between Chinese and Western cultures and that these differences require an adaptation on both sides Chinese firms will need to adapt to the way Western organizations do business as well as to currents in Western management theory meanwhile Western firms will need to take Chinese cultural influences into account when formulating strategy Both sides can benefit from the insights contained in this volume which is relevant for scholars of international business cross cultural management and organizational behavior Media Organization and Production Simon Cottle, 2003-04-18 Drawing on the work of international contributors Media Organization and Production examines a wide range of global local media organizations and the production of different mediums and genres Following the editor's introduction which sets out the principal differences of approach and defining debates chapters address transnational and national commercial and public service corporations international film and TV co productions children's television news production the historical development of liveness on radio and music journalism the politics and organizational forms of alternative media production including radical newspapers video and the internet and the changing production ecology of natural history television These topics are examined through a variety of theoretical and conceptual frameworks that help to illuminate how cultural production often involves a complex articulation of differing influences and constraints both material and discursive intended and unintended structurally determined and culturally mediated Together the chapters in this book help to recover this complexity and thereby help us to better understand the nature and output of today's media Willing Collaborators Michael Keane, Brian Yecies, Terry Flew, 2018-04-06 Now in paperback this volume examines this phenomenon looking at examples from film documentary television animation and games In recent years many media producers screenwriters technicians and investors from the Asia Pacific region have been attracted to projects in the People's Republic of China The Chinese state's willingness to consider collaboration with foreign partners is a major factor that is enticing and supporting a range of new ventures Projects often with a lighter commercial entertainment feel compared with the propaganda oriented content of the past are multiplying With this surge in production and the availability of resources and locations creative talent is moving to the Mainland from South Korea Hong Kong Taiwan and Japan Creative Documentary Wilma De Jong, Jerry Rothwell, Erik Knudsen, 2014-01-21 What does it mean to be a documentary filmmaker in today's world? How are new technologies changing documentary filmmaking? What new forms of documentary are emerging? Recent technological developments have made the making and distribution of documentary films easier and more widespread than ever before. Creative Documentary Theory and Practice is an innovative and essential guide that comprehensively embraces these changing contexts and provides you with the ideas, methods, and critical understanding to support successful documentary making. It helps the aspiring total filmmaker understand the contemporary contexts for production, equipping you also with the understanding of creativity and visual storytelling you'll need to excel. Bridging the gap between theory and practice, it outlines the contemporary institutional, practical, and financial contexts for production, always encouraging innovation and originality. Key features: Five sections covering creativity and creative documentary and the contemporary creative industries; strategies for developing documentary ideas; the art of documentary narrative; digital production methods; new documentary forms; distribution and financing. Provides a comprehensive overview of critical thought and techniques in digital documentary filmmaking. Authors and specialist contributors combine the experience, knowledge, and skills of academics and media professionals working in the industry. Practical case studies support analysis and reflection. Exercises, checklists, interviews with professionals, and further reading materials accompany each chapter. A historical overview of world documentary. Creative Documentary Theory and Practice is an essential guide for those engaged in the study and practice of documentary theory and making, as well as key reading for those more broadly interested in video film and media theory and production.

Movie Blockbusters Julian Stringer, 2013-10-18 Big budget spectacular films designed to appeal to a mass audience: is this what all blockbusters are? Movie Blockbusters brings together writings from key film scholars including Douglas Gomery, Peter Kramer, Jon Lewis, and Steve Neale to address the work of notable blockbuster auteurs such as Steven Spielberg and James Cameron, discuss key movies such as Star Wars and Titanic, and consider the context in which blockbusters are produced and consumed, including what the rise of the blockbuster says about the Hollywood film industry, how blockbusters are marketed and exhibited, and who goes to see them. The book also considers the movie scene outside Hollywood, discussing blockbusters made in Bollywood, China, South Korea, New Zealand, and Argentina.

"Hollywood Theory, Non-Hollywood Practice" Annette Davison, 2017-07-05 Relatively little has been written about film scores and soundtracks outside of Hollywood cinema. Hollywood Theory, Non-Hollywood Practice addresses this gap by looking at the practices of film soundtrack composition for non-Hollywood films made after 1980. Annette Davison argues that since the mid-1970s, the model of the classical Hollywood score has functioned as a form of dominant ideology in relation to which alternative scoring and soundtrack practices may assert themselves. The first part of the book explores some of the key theoretical issues and debates in film studies and film music studies. The second part comprises a series of case studies of non-Hollywood scores. Starting with Jean-Luc Godard's Pr m Carmen (1983), Davison argues that the film's score offers a deconstruction of the relationship between sound and image proposed by classical Hollywood film Derek Jarman's The Garden 1990 takes the debate a step further in its exploration of the possibility that a film's soundtrack may be liberated from slavery to the image track Wings of Desire 1987 directed by Wim Wenders offers Davison believes a negotiation between classical and alternative scoring and soundtrack practices while David Lynch's Wild at Heart 1990 actually fully integrates scoring and soundtrack practices so that sounds and dialogue are used in musical ways Seeking to stimulate debate about the aesthetics and interpretation of film scores and soundtracks in general this book develops an important synthesis of film studies and musicology The Routledge Research Companion to Media Geography Paul C.

Adams, Jim Craine, 2016-03-23 This Companion provides an authoritative source for scholars and students of the nascent field of media geography While it has deep roots in the wider discipline the consolidation of media geography has started only in the past decade with the creation of media geography's first dedicated journal Aether as well as the publication of the sub discipline's first textbook However at present there is no other work which provides a comprehensive overview and grounding By indicating the sub discipline's evolution and hinting at its future this volume not only serves to encapsulate what geographers have learned about media but also will help to set the agenda for expanding this type of interdisciplinary exploration The contributors leading scholars in this field including Stuart Aitken Deborah Dixon Derek McCormack Barney Warf and Matthew Zook not only review the existing literature within the remit of their chapters but also articulate arguments about where the future might take media geography scholarship The volume is not simply a collection of individual offerings but has afforded an opportunity to exchange ideas about media geography with contributors making connections between chapters and developing common themes World Cinemas, Transnational Perspectives Nataša

Durovicová, Kathleen E. Newman, 2009-09-10 SCMS Award Winner Best Edited Collection The standard analytical category of national cinema has increasingly been called into question by the category of the transnational This anthology examines the premises and consequences of the coexistence of these two categories and the parameters of historiographical approaches that cross the borders of nation states The three sections of World Cinemas Transnational Perspectives cover the geopolitical imaginary transnational cinematic institutions and the uneven flow of words and images Value-Oriented Media
