Global Environment Outlook User Profile And Impact Study:

Global Environment Outlook, 2004 GEO is both a series of periodic reports and an international participatory assessment process GEO projects two major objectives are to provide an overview of major environmental concerns and to set in motion a global participatory assessment process This document reports on a study commissioned in response to the Governing council s request for a Global Environment Outlook user profile and qualitative analysis of the actual use of the first and second Global Environment Outlook reports Global Environment Outlook UNEP. Executive Director, 2000

International Organizations in Global Environmental Governance Frank Biermann, Bernd Siebenhüner, Anna Schreyögg, 2009-01-28 This book provides a comparative study of the role of international organizations in environmental governance Whilst a growing body of literature considers global governance in a number of policy areas this volume delivers one of the first comprehensive accounts of international organizations in relation to environmental policy Providing the reader with key insights within this area of global governance the book focuses on policies developing in relation to climate change biodiversity and international environmental funding Presenting a compelling and up to date account of developments within this burgeoning policy area the volume includes a range of case studies including the World Bank UNEP and the OECD presents quantitative and qualitative research that advances understanding of international organizations in the field of international relations delivers contributions from a range of internationally renowned academics and specialists within the field International Organizations in Global Environmental Governance will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations theory international economics environmental policy organizational theory and environmental studies SWOT Analysis and Evaluation of the GEO-3 Process from the Perspective of GEO Collaborating Centres, 2004 The purpose of this project was to examine the Global Environment Outlook GEO process from the point of view of the Collaborating Centres CCs It used SWOT analysis to elicit comments on the performance of GEO as an assessment and reporting process the performance of the CCs UNEPs performance as the leader of GEO the assessment and reporting methods used in the preparation of GEO 3 the CC network Global Environment Outlook 3 United Nations Environment Programme, 2002 Integrating environment and development 1972 2002 State of the environment and policy retrospective 1972 2002 Human vulnerability to environmental change Outlook 2002 32 Options for action Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Healthy Planet, Healthy People UN Environment, 2019-06-06 Published to coincide with the Fourth United Nations Environmental Assembly UN Environment s sixth Global Environment Outlook calls on decision makers to take bold and urgent action to address pressing environmental issues in order to protect the planet and human health By bringing together hundreds of scientists peer reviewers and collaborating institutions and partners the GEO reports build on sound scientific knowledge to provide governments local authorities businesses and individual citizens with the information needed to guide societies to a truly sustainable world by 2050 GEO 6 outlines the current state of the environment illustrates possible future environmental trends and analyses the effectiveness of policies This flagship report shows how governments can put us on the path to a truly sustainable future emphasising that urgent and inclusive action is needed to achieve a healthy planet with healthy people This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, 1982

Sustainability Impact Assessment of Land Use Changes Katharina Helming, Marta Pérez-Soba, Paul Tabbush, 2008-06-11 There are many reasons why strategic intelligence is required to support policy decisions These primarily stem from the nature of today's knowledge society with two contrasting trends On the one hand there is a trend of increasing human intelligence in the economic social and political systems On the other hand there is a trend towards dissolving certainties about the problems and solutions of today's society Clearly more information does not necessarily imply more certainties on how to act What is more the same facts are often interpreted in markedly different ways the same policy relevant information can and often does result in conflicting framing of a problem by different stakeholders This is mainly due to competing assumptions rather than because of inconsistent facts Therefore it is not surprising that policy makers are calling for strategic intelligence to support their understanding of today's challenges including the relevant aspects of science and technology their impact and their possible future developments Over the last 15 years Europe has rapidly adopted the practice of developing and using Impact Assessment (IA) tools to support decision making Formal procedures and guidance for IA are well established within the European Commission and in most EU Member States The adoption of IA procedures alone however does not guarantee that every policy domain is actually using the full potential of these assessment tools in the preparation of policies and legislation Global Environment Outlook 4 United Nations Environment Programme, 2007 The fourth report in the Global Environment Outlook series provides a comprehensive scientifically credible policy relevant and up to date assessment of and outlook for the state of the global environment Environment for development is the GEO 4 underlying theme and the report pays special attention to the role and impact of the environment on human well being as well as to the use of environmental valuation as a tool for decision making GEO 4's 2007 publication date marks the half way point for the Millennium Development Goals The environment as well as being the subject of MDG 7 is also a thread that runs through all the goals Includes Errata
