International Encyclopedia of Civil Society Helmut K. Anheier, Stefan Toepler, 2009-11-24 Recently the topic of civil society has generated a wave of interest and a wealth of new information Until now no publication has attempted to organize and consolidate this knowledge The International Encyclopedia of Civil Society fills this gap establishing a common set of understandings and terminology and an analytical starting point for future research Global in scope and authoritative in content the Encyclopedia offers succinct summaries of core concepts and theories definitions of terms biographical entries on important figures and organizational profiles In addition it serves as a reliable and up to date guide to additional sources of information In sum the Encyclopedia provides an overview of the contours of civil society social capital philanthropy and nonprofits across cultures and historical periods For researchers in nonprofit and civil society studies political science economics management and social enterprise this is the most systematic appraisal of a rapidly growing field Giving to Help, Helping to Give Tade Akin Aina,2013-08-01 The past decade has seen a flowering of philanthropic activities across many parts of Africa Unlike before this flowering has the distinct character of African agency energy and engagement Philanthropy is no longer about narratives of passive poor and miserable Africans receiving help from rich fortunate and often Western outsiders The emerging narratives about philanthropy in Africa are about an increasingly confident and knowledgeable assertion of African capacities to give not only to help but also to transform and seek to address the root causes of injustice want ignorance and disease The narratives are also about the increasing questioning of the role and place of Africans in the world s philanthropic traditions and what constitutes African specificities but also African differences and varieties This book is about African philanthropic experiences their varieties challenges and opportunities It is about documenting investigating describing questioning and reflecting on philanthropy in Africa Because Africa is not a monolithic entity with one single history cultural political and economic experience this ground breaking book rightly tackles the varied modes forms vehicles and means in which the philanthropic experiences are expressed in Africa It is a pioneering and ambitious effort in a field and community of practice that is new both in terms of scholarship and in professional practice Many of the chapters boldly engage the burden of reflections questions ambivalences and ambiguities that one often finds in an emerging field innovatively positing the outlines concepts frameworks and theories of scholarship and practice for a field critical to development on the continent The Routledge Companion to Nonprofit Marketing Adrian Sargeant,Walter Wymer Jr,2007-11-22 Written by a leading team of international experts this is a timely collection of cutting edge articles It offers a complete overview of marketing issues in the nonprofit sector and a review of the latest research The Handbook of Civil Society in Africa Ebenezer Obadare,2013-09-21 This volume brings together the most up to date analyses of civil society in Africa from the best scholars and researchers working on the subject Being the first of its kind it casts a panoramic look at the African continent drawing out persisting if often under communicated variations in regional discourses In a majority of notionally global studies Africa has received marginal attention a marginality often highlighted by the usual token chapter Filling a critical hiatus theHandbook of Civil Society in Africa takes Africa African developments and African perspectives very seriously and worthy of academic interrogation in their own right It offers a critical clear sighted perspective on civil society in Africa and positions African discourses within the framework of important regional and global debates It promises to be an invaluable reference work for researchers and practitioners working in the fields of civil society nonprofit studies development studies volunteerism civic service and African studies Endorsements This volume signposts a critical turning point in the renewed engagement with the theory and practice of civil society in Africa Moving from traditional concerns with disquisitions on the appropriateness and possibility of the existence and vibrancy of the idea of civil society on the continent the volume approaches the forms contents and features of the actually existing civil society in Africa from thematic regional and national angles It demonstrates clearly the extent to which core intellectual work on civil society in Africa has largely moved from concerns with cultural reductionism to a nuanced examination of the complexities of formal non formal organizational non organizational traditional newer usual unusual engagements detailing the extent to which over time civil society as a concept has been indigenized appropriated and adapted in the terrains of politics society economy culture and new technologies on the continent In all this the book accomplishes the near impossible Without sacrificing the vigour rigor and freshness of the often unpredictable fruits of up to date research into regional and national differences that crop up in the documentation of Africa s multiple realities and discourses the volume weaves together a rich tapestry of the historical theoretical and practical dimensions of an expanding civil society sector and accompanying growth in popular discourse advocacy and academic literature in such a diverse continent as Africa into a meaningful whole of insightful themes Written and edited by a very distinguished cross continental and multi disciplinary collection of researchers research students practitioners and activists the volume provides cutting edge evidence and makes a definitive case for a new lease of life for civil society research in Africa Adigun Agbaje Professor of Political Science University of Ibadan Nigeria Throughout Africa forms of civic engagement and political participation have seen dynamic change in recent decades yet conceptions of civil society have rarely accounted for this evolution This volume is an essential source of new thinking about political association and collective action in Africa The authors offer a wealth of analysis on changing organizations and social movements new forms of interaction and communication emerging strategies and issues diverse social foundations and the theoretical implications of a shifting associational landscape The contributors provide an invaluable addition to the comparative literature on political change democratic development and social movements in Africa Peter Lewis Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced international Studies

Genre and the Performance of Publics Mary Jo Reiff, Anis Bawarshi, 2016-03-01 In recent decades genre studies has focused attention on how genres mediate social activities within workplace and academic settings Genre and the Performance of Publics moves beyond institutional settings to explore public contexts that are less hierarchical broadening the theory of how genres contribute to the interconnected and dynamic performances of public life Chapters examine how genres develop within publics and how genres tend to mediate performances in public domains setting up a discussion between public sphere scholarship and rhetorical genre studies The volume extends the understanding of genres as not only social ways of organizing texts or mediating relationships within institutions but as dynamic performances themselves By exploring how genres shape the formation of publics Genre and the Performance of Publics brings rhetoric composition and public sphere studies into dialogue and enhances the understanding of public genre performances in ways that contribute to research on and teaching of public discourse

The Worth of Goods Jens Beckert, Patrik Aspers, 2011-06-30 How do we place value on goods and importantly why Valuation and pricing are core issues in the market economy but understanding of these concepts and their interrelation is weak In response The Worth of Goods takes a sociological approach to the perennial but timely question of what makes a product valuable Structured in three parts it first examines value in the broader sense moral values and how they are formed and the relations between economic and non economic values discussing such matters as the value of an oil spill the price of a scientific paper value in ethical consumption and imaginative value The second part discusses the issues surrounding valuation in aesthetic markets specifically wine fashion models art and the creative industries The third part analyzes valuation in financial markets credit rating agencies stock exchange markets and industrial production This pioneering volume brings together leading social scientists to provide a range of theoretical tools and case studies for understanding price and the creation of value in markets within social and cultural contexts and preconditions It is an important source for scholars in economics sociology anthropology and political science interested in how markets work and how value is established

Effective Fund-Raising Management Kathleen S. Kelly, 2012-12-06 In a ground breaking departure from existing works almost all of which are how to manuals based on anecdotal evidence this is the first academic textbook on fund raising By integrating practical knowledge with social science theory and research it presents a comprehensive approach to the function from its legal and ethical principles to the managerial process by which gifts are raised Territory previously uncharted in the literature is explored such as the historical and organizational contexts of contemporary practice Explanations of programs techniques and publics introduce a new system for understanding fund raising s major concepts Unlike efforts in established fields most of the material represents original scholarship undertaken to produce a first time text The book s main purpose is to teach students about fund raising a high demand high paying occupation that will continue to expand into the 21st century as the need for trained practitioners exceeds the supply During the last decade fund raising education moved into the formal classroom and away from an apprenticeship tradition of senior practitioners mentoring newcomers Yet until now there has not been a textbook to support this evolving professionalism Faculty have been reluctant to define fund raising as an academic subject in the absence of a theory based teaching resource and courses usually have been assigned to part time instructors hired from the practice This textbook addresses the void It is designed for graduate and upper level undergraduate courses dealing with fund raising as a primary or secondary subject Among its features each chapter points out research gaps and opportunities such as problems and theories for master s theses and doctoral dissertations and ends with a list of suggested readings The text is appropriate for the diverse academic areas in which fund raising nonprofit management and philanthropy are taught including public administration management arts and humanities education social work economics and sociology Because of its public relations orientation it is particularly suited for courses offered in that discipline Additional audiences are practitioners enrolled in professional development programs CEOs trustees and others

Drezner, 2013-04-17 Winner of the Association of Fundraising Professionals 2014 Skystone Partners Research Prize in Philanthropy and Fundraising Traditionally institutions have relied on wealthy White men to reach their fundraising goals But as state investment in public higher education lessens and institutions look to philanthropy to move from excellence to eminence advancement officers continually need to engage all populations including many that have historically been excluded from fundraising strategies Based on theory research and past practice Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education explores how colleges and universities can build culturally sensitive fundraising and engagement strategies This edited book presents emerging research on different communities that have not traditionally been approached for fundraising including Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender and Queer LGBTQ alumni African Americans Latinos graduate students young alumni women and faculty donors Chapters discuss and analyze successful programs and provide practical suggestions and strategies to create and implement fundraising programs that engage these new donor populations Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education is an essential resource for any institution looking to expand their pool of donors and cultivate a more philanthropic mindset among alumni and students Handbook of Administrative Ethics Terry Cooper, 2019-02-21 Delineating implications for administrative ethics from other fields such as sociology psychology and philosophy this reference provides a comprehensive review of administrative ethics in the public sector Detailing the context within which contemporary ethics training has developed the book examines the effectiveness of ethics training legal and organizational devices for encouraging desired conduct and other topics of particular relevance to the political and social contexts of public administration Written by over 25 leading scholars in public administration ethics the book creates a taxonomy for administrative ethics using the categories of modern philosophy International Handbook of Practice-Based Performance Management Patria de Lancer Julnes, Frances Stokes Berry, Maria P. Aristigueta, Kaifeng Yang, 2007-09-10 The orientation of this text the variety of applications examined and the grouping of chapters around concepts such as the role of citizens quality measurement and performance budgeting makes this an ideal book for the classroom as well as for reference PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION REVIEW The International Handbook of Practice Based Performance Management presents the latest scholarship in performance measurement strategies in the field of evaluation This important resource combines cutting edge theory and practice of performance management in the United States and abroad The book includes contributions from internationally known scholars and practitioners who present chapters that introduce the literature on key topics and provide clear guidance on practical skill building Key Features Offers an international perspective Though most of the chapters deal with performance measurement in the United States the text represents the most notable examples of performance measurement in Canada Latin America Asia Oceania and Europe Integrates theory and practice The book s unique structure links literature based conceptual knowledge with the lessons from practice and specific applied skills Puts theoretical discussions into context Case examples and lessons learned connect concepts to the real world while discussion questions allow for further deliberation Intended Audience An excellent addition to any academic library this resource is ideal for practitioners academics and researchers in public administration non profit organizations management public policy health care services administration and health care planning and policy It can also be used as a text for graduate courses such as Performance Management Management Reforms International Performance Management and Performance Improvement in Public Administration

The New Fundraisers Beth Breeze,2017-10-30 Charitable fundraising has become ever more urgent in a time of extensive public spending cuts However while the identity and motivation of those who donate comes under increasingly close scrutiny little is known about the motivation and characteristics of the askers despite almost every donation being solicited or prompted in some way This is the first empirically grounded and theorised account of the identity characteristics and motivation of fundraisers in the UK Based on original data collected during a 3 year study of over 1 200 fundraisers the book argues that it is not possible to understand charitable giving without accounting for the role of fundraising

Discourse in the Professions ... Connor-Upton,Thomas Albin Upton,2004-01-01 This book explores the structure and use of academic and professional discourse through the lens of corpus linguistics The goal of this book is to show how insights from corpus linguistic analyses can help us better understand how we use academic and professional language and help us find ways to better train newcomers to the genres used in various professional contexts The contributions to this book show that specialized corpora of specific genres from a variety of fields allow us to make more relevant observations about the function and use of language for particular purposes The specialized corpora examined include written and spoken academic genres written and spoken business and legal genres and written philanthropic genres The book showcases a variety of approaches to analyzing the discourse of specialized corpora and each chapter concludes with a reflection on the practical and pedagogical implications of the analysis
