Global Problems And Common Security Annals Of Pugwash 1988:

Global Problems and Common Security Josef Rotblat, Vitalii I. Goldanskii, 2012-12-06 After many years of sterile arms control negotiations between the super powers which did not produce a single genuine disarmament measure and sometimes had the opposite effect of stimulating the development of new weapons to serve as bargaining chips an agreement to abolish completely two categories of nuclear weapons the INF Treaty was signed and is now being implemented This historical event the first actual destruction of deployed nuclear missiles although not of their warheads became possible largely because of the radical changes in the policies of the Soviet Union the new way of thinking advanced by its leader Mikhail Gorbachev The relaxation of tension that resulted from this policy was one of the factors contributing to the successful conclusion of the INF Treaty Another no less important factor was the acceptance by the Soviet Union of on site inspections as a basic element of a verification system essential to ensure compliance with the Treaty This breakthrough led to the mutual acceptance of an elaborate and precise verification regime and thus made possible the signing of the INF Treaty which in turn contributed to the further lessening of tension between East and West But perhaps the most important factor one which carries much promise for the future was the changed approach to security problems Domestic Politics and

Norm Diffusion in International Relations Thomas Risse, 2016-10-14 This book collects Thomas Risse's most important articles together in a single volume Covering a wide range of issues the end of the Cold War transatlantic relations the democratic peace human rights governance in areas of limited statehood Europeanization European identity and public spheres most recently comparative regionalism it is testament to the breadth and excellence of this highly respected International Relations scholar's work The collection is organized thematically domestic politics and international relations international sources of domestic change and the diffusion of ideas and institutions and a brand new introductory essay provides additional coherence This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of International Relations European Politics and Comparative Politics The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license A Nuclear-weapon-free

World Joseph Rotblat, 2019-03-13 The world total of some 50 000 nuclear warheads is beginning to fall off sharply It should be well below 10 000 by the year 2000 Should the ultimate target be zero The idea of a nuclear weapon free world NFWF was put back on the world agenda by President Gorbachev in 1986 President Reagan also had a vision of a world without nuclear weapons International Relations Theory and the End of the Cold War Richard Ned Lebow, Thomas

Risse-Kappen, 1995 This controversial set of essays evaluates and extends international relations theory in light of the revolutionary events of past years The contributors demonstrate how theoretical constructs did not anticipate Soviet foreign policies that led to the end of the Cold War World At The Crossroads: New Conflicts New Solutions A - Proceedings Of

The 43rd Pugwash Conference On Science And World Affairs Joseph Rotblat, 1994-11-08 Photonics and nanotechnology are popular emerging fields of technology This proceedings volume contains over 12 selected papers from the International Workshop and Conference on Photonics and Nanotechnology ICPN 2007 held in Pattaya Thailand from December 16 18 2007 The papers cover a wide range of topics from optical and nonlinear optical physics to nanoelectronics A World at the Crossroads Joseph Rotblat, Sven Hellman, 1994 This book focuses on subjects of great topical interest such as nuclear disarmament trade in arms peacekeeping and conflict resolution environmental security and sustainability Major themes include the elimination of nuclear weapons control of the arms trade the role of multinational and international organizations in peace keeping environmental sustainability and security in the Nordic Baltic region World Citizenship Joseph Rotblat, 2016-07-27 This book discusses the various ways in which the security and prosperity of all countries in the world are linked by military threats environmental pollution and social unrest created by poverty It is argued that a process of education is needed to make people think in global terms so that they develop an allegiance to humanity Building Global Security Through Cooperation Joseph Rotblat, John P. Holdren, 2012-12-06 1989 was by any standards an extraordinary year the year in which the Cold War ended However although much has changed much remains unresolved or not changed at all Even though the rationale for the huge military forces has been removed from the East West relationship these forces still retain a tremendous potential to do harm Moreover threats to peace may grow along North South and South South axes An example of such a threat is the rapid growth in size and sophistication of military arsenals in the South The contributions to this volume make it clear that the problems of East and West North and South are inter twined Security can be gained only through cooperation The contributors who come from widely differing geographical cultural and political backgrounds all share the Pugwash tradition of scientific objectivity New Nukes Praful Bidwai, Achin Vanaik, 2000 Nuclear tests in India and Pakistan brought the threat of nuclear war back to the world s centre stage The tests and nuclear moves have raised regional tension increased poverty in already impoverished nations and could possibly have fuelled an arms race which goes beyond the borders of the two countries This text examines the causes and consequences of India and Pakistani nuclear tests The book provides a framework for understanding the global context of these tests and looks at approaches for nuclear abolition in Asia and the West The Palgrave Handbook of Non-State Actors in East-West Relations Péter Marton, Gry Thomasen, Csaba Békés, András Rácz, 2024-09-28 The Handbook introduces to readers accessibly for specialist and non specialist scholars students and layman audiences the diverse universe of non state actors NSAs that have played or are currently playing a significant role in the context of East West relations from 1945 to the present With a view to the oft seen political debates about which non state actors may be independent or controlled by particular states and in what ways they may be useful or harmful to the interests of particular actors this volume is interested in analysing and assessing the relationship of NSAs to key state actors in the context of the politics of East West relations Key state actors in this context include more than just the United States on the one hand and the Soviet Union or Russia on the other hand To offer a structured overview the volume explores possible typologies of the relationships conceivable between NSAs and states New concepts and organising principles are presented to support a process tracing analysis of the evolution of proxy ships partnerships and other types of connections between states and non state actors Degrees sources and types of control and influence are considered Further the Handbook s chapters also examine NSAs impact on the dynamics of interstate conflict and cooperation in the East West dimension The systematic examination of the relationship between states and NSAs in East West relations proposed here is the first undertaking of its kind International scholarship in political science and strategic analyses have so far neglected to develop an analytical framework and a truly nuanced understanding that could capture the intricate and multilevel relationships that exists between NSAs and states in this context The Culture of National Security Peter J. Katzenstein,1996 The political transformations of the 1980s and 1990s have dramatically affected models of national and international security Particularly since the end of the Cold War scholars have been uncertain about how to interpret the effects of major shifts in the balance of power Are we living today in a unipolar bipolar or multipolar world Are we moving toward an international order that makes the recurrence of major war in Europe or Asia highly unlikely or virtually inevitable Is ideological conflict between states diminishing or increasing Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1990-09 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin s iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world The Global Politics of the Environment Lorraine Elliott,2004-08 Human activity is changing the global environment on a scale unlike that of any other era Environmental deterioration is now a global issue ecologically politically and economically that requires global solutions Yet there is considerable disagreement over what kinds of strategies we should adopt in order to halt and reverse damage to the global ecosystem What kinds of international institutions are best suited to dealing with global environmental problems Why are women and indigenous peoples still marginalized in global environmental politics What are the consequences of the global ecological crisis for economic and security policies The Global Politics of the Environment makes sense of the often seemingly irreconcilable answers to these questions It focuses throughout on the tensions between mainstream strategies which seek to build support for reforms through existing institutions and radical critiques which argue that environmental degradation is a symptom of a dysfunctional world order that must itself be transformed if we are to meet the challenge of saving the planet The Securitization of Climate Change: Australian and United States' Military Responses \(2003 - 2013\) Michael Durant Thomas,2017-07-25 This book examines how the armed forces of the United States and Australia have responded to the threat posed by climate change to national security Drawing on established securitisation frameworks Copenhagen and Paris Schools the author uses a combination of quantitative and qualitative techniques to systematically examine more than 3 500 speeches policies and doctrinal articles since 2003 Importantly the author undertakes an examination of the intersection between the political and the military spheres probing

the question of how ideology has influenced the military's uptake on the issue. In this context, the author identifies the difficulty of an ostensibly apolitical institution responding to what has become both a hyper-political issue and an unprecedented security threat. A close examination of the key political actors, their intent, outlook, and political mandate for broader climate action is therefore crucial to understanding the policy freedom and constraints within which military leaders operate. The book consists of eight chapters divided into four parts focusing on perspectives and methodological insights, empirical case studies, case study comparison, and concluding observations. Offers a rare and systematic examination of military climate policy by a military officer from Australia. Identifies a divergence of Australian military climate policy from that of the US military during the Obama Administration. Develops a unique method that quantifies climate security, enabling a graphical representation for quick and ready reference, ideally suited to policy makers.

Mutual Perceptions Of Long-range Goals Klaus Gottstein, 2019-03-04 This book investigates perceptions including strategic, normative, and imagined perceptions of long-range political goals both in the East and in the West, discussing the arguments which are used to support each of these perceptions.

Proceedings of the ... Pugwash Conference on Science and World Affairs, 1998 Striving For Peace, Security And Development In The World: Annals Of Pugwash 1991 Joseph Rotblat, 1993-03-24 The momentous events of the past year have changed the political face of the globe; the ideological struggle that dominated the world for most of this century is over; erstwhile mortal enemies have become friends and partners. But old attitudes have survived and modern weapons are in abundance. New foci of conflict have emerged; military confrontations are taking place; the world is still in turmoil. The welcome deep cuts in nuclear weapons have still left thousands of warheads in the arsenals, and the spread of these weapons to new states would further increase the danger of a nuclear confrontation. The release of the pressure pent up under oppressive regimes created a powerful drive for independence, often achieved only after bloody wars. Many of the new states are economically non-viable; poverty and famine are frequent adjuncts of independence. If military conflicts are to be avoided, a comprehensive strategy must be formulated to improve the standards of living in the developing countries and enhance their security. A strategy is also needed to protect the environment from the effects of further industrialization and greater use of energy. What is needed is a concept of a sustainable, equitable, and liveable world for all its inhabitants. All these problems were analysed by scientists and scholars who met at a Pugwash Conference. The arguments used by them and the proposed solutions are presented in this book under six themes: World Peace, Nuclear Disarmament, Issues, Arms Control, Security in the Asia Pacific Region, Development Strategies, and World Economic Order, Energy and the Environment. Pugwash Newsletter, 1991 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1990-09 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security. Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists, the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world. A Better Future for the Planet Earth: Lectures by the winners of the Blue Planet Prize Asahi Garasu Zaidan.
