Issues in the Contemporary Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa G. Harrison,2002-06-19 Graham Harrison investigates contemporary African politics by privileging the dynamics of political struggle and resistance Through the analysis of peasant politics debt and structural adjustment democratization and identity politics the author shows the importance of resistance and agency Detailed studies of Mozambique Nigeria and Burkina Faso demonstrate how political organization and resistance have been closely ingrained in particular post colonial trajectories An original and refreshing approach to the study of African politics this will be a useful textbook for upper level undergraduates and postgraduate students

Political Transformation and National Identity

Change Jennifer Todd,Lorenzo Cañas Bottos,Nathalie Rougier,2013-10-18 The major socio political changes of the last decades have led to changing ways of being national changes in the content of national identity if not in the national categories themselves This comparative social scientific volume takes examples of transitions to democracy East Europe Spain to peace South Africa Israel Northern Ireland and to territorial decentralization the United Kingdom France Spain showing in each case how socio political change and identity change have interlocked It defines a typology of national identity shift tracing the changing state forms which provoke national identity shift and analyzing the process of identity change its motivations and legitimations Collecting together a wide range of examples from South Africa to the Czech Republic from the Basque Country to the Mexican and Irish borders the book brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars from world figures in the study of globalization and social identity to young researchers to provide a much needed theoretical clarification and empirical evidence of types of national identity shift

Confronting the Sacred: Durkheim vindicated through philosophical analysis, ethnography, archaeology, long-range linguistics, and comparative mythology Wim van Binsbergen,2018-05-06 With Elementary Forms of Religious Life 1912 the sociologist mile Durkheim formulated the most influential social science theory of religion to date Pivotal are the paired concepts sacred profane the notion of collective representations and the hypothesis that through such religious symbols society compels its members to venerate herself i e to submit to the social as an irreducible instance in its own right Having grappled with this Durkheimian inheritance for half a century the anthropologist of religion and intercultural philosopher Wim van Binsbergen in this book traces his own steps in confront_ing Durkheim s sacred through theoretical criticism through ethnographic application to popular Islam in the segmentary social organisation of the highlands of Northwestern Tunisia and by state of the art long range methods of linguistic and comparative mythological analysis Thus much to his surprise he demonstrates the continued validity of Durkheim s insights in religion

Knowing Their Place? Identity and Space in Children's Literature Terri Doughty,Dawn Thompson,2011-12-14 Traditionally in the West children were expected to know their place but what does this comprise in a contemporary globalized world Does it mean to continue to accept subordination to those larger and more powerful Does it mean to espouse unthinkingly a notion of national identity Or is it about gaining an awareness of the ways in which identity is derived from a sense of place Where individuals are situated matters as much if not more than it ever has In children s literature the physical places and psychological spaces inhabited by children and young adults are also key elements in the developing identity formation of characters and through engagement of readers too The contributors to this collection map a broad range of historical and present day workings of this process exploring indigeneity and place tracing the intertwining of place and identity in diasporic literature analyzing the relationship of the child to the natural world and studying the role of fantastic spaces in children s construction of the self They address fresh topics and texts ranging from the indigenization of the Gothic by Canadian mixed blood Anishinabe writer Drew Hayden Taylor to the lesser known children s books of George Mackay Brown to eco feminist analysis of contemporary verse novels The essays on more canonical texts such as Peter Pan and the Harry Potter series provide new angles from which to revision them Readers of this collection will gain understanding of the complex interactions of place space and identity in children s literature Essays in this book will appeal to those interested in Children s Literature Aboriginal Studies Environmentalism and literature and Fantasy literature Borderlands and Frontiers in Africa Steven van Wolputte, 2013 This volume addresses the marked influence that African borders and boundaries whether real or imaginary have on the lives of those inhabiting the borderland How do political and symbolic borders take concrete shape and how do they bear on daily life Conversely how does life in the borderland shape the borders that characterize it The book recognizes borderlands as shifting places times or domains where competing discourses and regimes of power overlap Characterized by overt contradiction and paradox they are often imagined at the outside Yet they pertain to and define the center The collected case studies challenge the assumption that states and anonymized institutions are the principal actors in border making Instead they argue for an actor oriented perspective while drawing attention to the physicality of the borderscape Series African Studies Afrikanische Studien Vol 40

Religion, Identity and Change Simon Coleman, Peter Collins, 2017-03-02 Religion is of enduring importance in the lives of many people yet the religious landscape has been dramatically transformed in recent decades Established churches have been challenged by eastern faiths revivals of Christian and Islamic fundamentalism and the eclectic spiritualities of the New Age Religion has long been regarded by social scientists and psychologists as a key source of identity formation ranging from personal conversion experiences to collective association with fellow believers This book addresses the need for a reassessment of issues relating to identity in the light of current transformations in society as a whole and religion in particular Drawing together case studies from many different expressions of faith and belief Hindu Muslim Roman Catholic Anglican New Age leading scholars ask how contemporary religions or spiritualities respond to the challenge of forming individual and collective identities in a nation context marked by secularisation and postmodern decentring of culture as well as religious revitalisation The book focuses on Britain as a context for religious change but asks important questions that are of universal significance for those studying religion How is personal and collective identity constructed in a world of multiple social and cultural influences What role can religion play in creating reinforcing or even transforming such identity

Communication and the Globalization of Culture Shaheed Nick Mohammed, 2011-09-16 Shaheed Nick Mohammed's Communication and the Globalization of Culture Beyond Tradition and Borders provides a unique perspective on the concept of culture and its fate in the globalized mediated environment Acknowledging widespread fears of cultural erosion at the hands of dominant global forces Mohammed argues that what we understand as culture has always been the product of global forces including those of trade and exchange Our very conceptions of culture are questioned The sanctity of tradition religion and heritage the book suggests should give way to an appreciation of the quite mundane origins of cultural artifacts invented often as matters of political or social expedience adopted sometimes in accidents of history and canonized by time into the catechisms of cultural belief Communication and the Globalization of Culture also suggests several mechanisms by which pragmatic social practices and fictional discourses make their way into the cultural beliefs and traditions of societies Shaheed Nick Mohammed examines how the modern globalized environment gives rise to cultural practices that demonstrate cultural inventions imagined communities and manufactured cultural products suggesting that such inventions and imaginations are not uniquely modern but rather a continuation of cultural inventions that long pre date our media globalized environment

The Possibility of Convivence in Nigeria Felix Ikeagwuchi Agbara, 2011 Despite the present day democratic government's commitment to human rights socio cultural and religious clashes still pose a threat to Nigeria As a panacea a split according to ethnic and religious boundaries has been suggested on the other hand upholding the different strands might spell greater benefits for the country's development The basic assumption of both views is that ethnic and religious pluralism have led to conflicts but that they are fuelled by politics inequitable distribution of economic goods and the negative forces of globalization In this project examining these conflicts and the efforts made to resolve them particular attention will be paid to dialogue and reconciliation The key practice suggested is convivence a symbiosis of interactive and interpenetrative approaches based on intercultural and interreligious hermeneutical perspectives

Intercultural Encounters Wim M. J. van Binsbergen, 2003 This book brings together fifteen essays investigating aspects of interculturality Like its author it operates at the borderline between social anthropology and intercultural philosophy It seeks to make a contribution to intercultural philosophy by formulating with great precision and painful honesty the lessons deriving from extensive intercultural experiences as an anthropologist Its culminating section presents an intercultural philosophy revolving on the tenet cultures do not exist The kaleidoscopic nature of intercultural experiences is reflected in the diversity of these texts Many belong to a field that could be described as meta anthropology others are more clearly philosophical occasionally they spill over into belles lettres ancient history and comparative cultural and religious studies The ethnographic specifics supporting the arguments are diverse deriving from various African situations in which the author has conducted participatory field research Tunisia Zambia Botswana and South Africa The Hadrami Diaspora Leif Manger, 2010-09-01 The Hadramis of South Yemen and the emergence of their diasporic communities throughout the Indian Ocean region are an intriguing facet of the history of this region's migratory patterns In the early centuries of migration the Yemeni or Hadrami traveler was both a trader and a religious missionary making the migrant community both a trade diaspora and a religious diaspora This tradition has continued as Hadramis around the world have been linked to networks of extremist Islamic inspired movements Osama bin Laden leader of Al Qaeda and descendant of a prominent Hadrami family as the most infamous example However communities of Hadramis living outside Yemen are not homogenous The author expertly elucidates the complexity of the diasporic process showing how it contrasts with the conventional understanding of the Hadrami diaspora as an unchanging society with predefined cultural characteristics originating in the homeland Exploring ethnic social and religious aspects the author offers a deepened understanding of links between Yemen and Indian Ocean regions including India Southeast Asia and the Horn of Africa and the emerging international community of Muslims

Anti-Refugee Violence and African Politics Ato Kwamena Onoma, 2013-10-07 Using comparative cases from Guinea Uganda and the Democratic Republic of Congo this study explains why some refugee hosting communities launch large scale attacks on civilian refugees whereas others refrain from such attacks even when encouraged to do so by state officials Ato Kwamena Onoma argues that such outbreaks only happen when states instigate them because of links between a few refugees and opposition groups Locals embrace these attacks when refugees are settled in areas that privilege residence over indigeneity in the distribution of rights ensuring that they live autonomously of local elites The resulting opacity of their lives leads locals to buy into their demonization by the state Locals do not buy into state denunciation of refugees in areas that privilege indigeneity over residence in the distribution of rights because refugees in such areas are subjugated to locals who come to know them very well Onoma reorients the study of refugees back to a focus on the disempowered civilian refugees that constitute the majority of refugees even in cases of severe refugee militarization

The New World History Ross E. Dunn, Laura J. Mitchell, Kerry Ward, 2016-08-23 The New World History is a comprehensive volume of essays selected to enrich world history teaching and scholarship in this rapidly expanding field. The forty-four articles in this book take stock of the history evolving literature and current trajectories of new world history. These essays together with the editors' introductions to thematic chapters encourage educators and students to reflect critically on the development of the field and to explore concepts, approaches, and insights valuable to their own work. The selections are organized in ten chapters that survey the history of the movement, the seminal ideas of founding thinkers and today's practitioners, changing concepts of world historical space and time, comparative methods, environmental history, the big history movement, globalization debates over the meaning of Western power, and ongoing questions about the intellectual premises and assumptions that have shaped the field.

The Turn Around Religion in America Michael P.

Kramer, 2016-02-24. Playing on the frequently used metaphors of the turn toward or turn back in scholarship on religion, The Turn Around Religion in America offers a model of religion that moves in a reciprocal relationship between these two poles. In particular, this volume dedicates itself to a reading of religion and of religious meaning that cannot be reduced to history or ideology on the one hand or to truth or spirit on the other but is rather the product of the constant play between the historical particulars that manifest beliefs and the beliefs that take shape through them. Taking as their point of departure the foundational scholarship of Sacvan Bercovitch, the contributors locate the universal in the ongoing and particularized attempts of American authors from the seventeenth century forward to get it whatever that it might be right. Examining authors as diverse as Pietro di Donato, Herman Melville, Miguel Algarin, Edward Taylor, Mark Twain, Robert Keayne, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Paule Marshall, Stephen Crane, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Joseph B. Soloveitchik among many others, and a host of genres from novels and poetry to sermons, philosophy, history, journalism, photography, theater, and cinema, the essays call for a discussion of religion's powers that does not seek to explain them as much as put them into conversation with each other. Central to this project is Bercovitch's emphasis on the rhetoric, ritual, typology, and symbology of religion and his recognition that with each aesthetic enactment of religion's power we learn something new.
