

Constitution of the Maine Anti-Slavery Society.

Preamble.

Whereas the most High God hath made of one blood all the families of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth & hath endowed all alike with certain inalienable rights, among which are "life, liberty & the pursuit of happiness," & we therefore believe that the slavery existing in these U. States, by which more than two millions of our fellow country men are deprived of their rights, is a gross violation of the law of God, as well as of the fundamental principles of our government; & whereas we recognize it as a duty incumbent on all to do what they can to put an end to this system of oppression; & whereas we believe also that it can be done, as in the case of intemperance, only by rational reform of individuals & by consequent public sentiment, & that we can act to this end, most efficiently only by organized effort; therefore we, the undersigned, agree to form ourselves into a Society for this purpose, to be governed by the following
