Goatfoot Milktongue Twinbird Donald Hall, 1978 Lively pointed often polemical essays and interviews on the nature of creativity and the function of poetry Goatfoot, Milktongue, Twinbird Donald Hall, 1978 Lyric Poetry and Space Exploration from Einstein to the Present Margaret Greaves, 2023 Anchored in the postwar period but drawing on a long history of poetry and science Lyric Poetry and Space Exploration from Einstein to the Present charts surprising connections between poetry and extraterrestrial space Conversations with Donald Hall John Martin-Joy, Allan Cooper, Richard Rohfritsch, 2021-03-19 Conversations with Donald Hall offers a unique glimpse into the creative process of a major American poet writer editor anthologist and teacher The volume probes in depth Hall's evolving views on poetry poets and the creative process over a period of more than sixty years Donald Hall 1928 2018 reveals vivid funny and moving anecdotes about T S Eliot Ezra Pound and the sculptor Henry Moore he talks about his excitement on his return to New Hampshire and the joys of his marriage with Jane Kenyon and he candidly discusses his loss and grief when Kenyon died in 1995 at the age of forty seven The thirteen interviews range from a detailed exploration of the composition of Ox Cart Man to the poems that make up Without an almost unbearable poetry of grief that was written following Jane Kenyon's death The book also follows Hall into old age when he turned to essay writing and the reflections on aging that make up Essays after Eighty This moving and insightful collection of interviews is crucial for anyone interested in poetry and the creative process the techniques and achievements of modern American poetry and the elusive psychology of creativity and loss Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics schools or periods of American verse in the century Entries fall into three main categories poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author's career entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production school thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States Breakfast Served Any Time All Day Donald Hall, 2004 A master of American letters collects forty years of writings on poetry in one essential volume International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets The Incorporative Consciousness of Robert Bly Victoria Frenkel Harris, 1992 Victoria Frenkel Harris traces the aesthetic journey of poet Robert Bly from his early structured works of mystical imagery and lyrical landscapes to his recent explorations of intimate relationships and male socialization Examining the various ways Bly's prose poems articulate his opposition to the Vietnam War and his recent writings manipulate more formal patterns in detailing the intricacies of human relationships Harris labels this evolution in form subject and imagery the incorporative consciousness incorporative because it assimilates Jungian psychological categories international poetic traditions and a compelling breadth of topics Harris relies in part on contemporary feminist theory to throw revealing new light on Bly's recent works Though sympathetic to Bly Harris finds that in spite of his affirmation of the interaction of psychic creative and intellectual energies in both sexes the poet's later erotic poems tend to objectify women in counterproductive ways Bly's idealization of woman as a Jungian universal Harris contends can blind him toward actual women Harris is at her best as she delimits with balance and precision the full complexity of the poet's work

Poem Unlimited David Kerler, Timo Müller, 2019-09-23 Questions of genres as well as their possible definitions taxonomies and functions have been discussed since antiquity Even though categories of genre today are far from being fixed they have for decades been upheld without question The goal of this volume is to problematize traditional definitions of poetic genres and to situate them in a broader socio cultural historical and theoretical context The contributions encompass numerous methodological approaches including hermeneutics poststructuralism reception theory cultural studies gender studies periods Romanticism Modernism Postmodernism genres elegy sonnet visual poetry performance poetry hip hop as well as languages and national literatures From this interdisciplinary and multi methodological perspective genres periods languages and literatures are put into fruitful dialogue new perspectives are discovered and suggestions for further research are provided

Written in Water, Written in Stone Martin Lammon, 1996 Celebrates the twentieth anniversary of this important and influential book series

An Introduction to Poetic Forms Patrick Gill, 2022-12-29 An Introduction to Poetic Forms offers specimen discussions of poems through the lens of form While each of its chapters does provide a standard definition of the form in question in its opening paragraphs their main objective is to provide readings of specific examples to illustrate how individual poets have deviated from or subverted those expectations usually associated with the form under discussion While providing the most vital information on the most widely taught forms of poetry then this collection will very quickly demonstrate that counting syllables and naming rhyme schemes is not the be all and end all of poetic form Instead each chapter will contain cross references to other literary forms and periods as well as make clear the importance of the respective form to the culture at large be it the democratising communicative power of the ballad or the objectifying male gaze of the blazon and resistance to same in the contreblazon the efficacy of form is explored in the fullness of its cultural dimensions In using standard definitions only as a starting point and instead focusing on lively debates around the cultural impact of poetic form the textbook helps students and instructors to see poetic forms not as a static and lifeless affair but as living breathing testament to the ongoing evolution of cultural debates In the final analysis the book is interested in showing the complexities and contradictions inherent in the very nature of literary form itself how each concrete example deviates from the standard template while at the same time employing it as a foil to generate meaning

The Uncommon Tongue Vincent B. Sherry, 1987 Examines Hill's verse within the context of British and American reaction to the great literary modernists of the early 20th century      Death Education in the Writing Classroom Jeffrey Berman, 2017-03-02 Death is often encountered in English courses Hamlet's death celebrity death death from the terrorist attacks on 9/11 but students rarely have the opportunity to write about their own experiences with death In Death Education in the Writing Classroom Jeffrey Berman shows how college students can write safely about dying death and bereavement The book is based on an undergraduate course on love and loss that Berman taught at the University at Albany in 2008 Part 1 Diaries is organized around Berman's diary entries written immediately after each class These entries provide a week by week glimpse of class discussions highlighting his students' writings and their developing bonds with classmates and teacher Part 2 Breakthroughs focuses on several students' important educational and psychological discoveries in their understanding of love and loss The student writings touch on many aspects of death education including disenfranchised grief The book explores how students write about not only mourning and loss but also depression cutting and abortion topics that occupy the ambiguous border of death in life Death Education in the Writing Classroom is the first book to demonstrate how love and loss can be taught in a college writing class and the first to describe the week by week changes in students' cognitive and affective responses to death This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to writing teachers students clinicians and bereavement counselors      Writing Into the Future Alan Golding, 2022-09-13 The dial The little review and the dialogics of the modernist new The new American poetry revisited again Newer and the newest American poetries Poetry anthologies and the idea of the mainstream Serial form in George Oppen and Robert Creeley Place space and new syntax in Oppen's Seascape needle's eye Macro micro material Rachel Blau DuPlessis's Drafts and the post objectivist serial poem Drafts and fragments Rachel Blau DuPlessis's counter Poudian project Drawings with words Susan Howe's visual feminist poetics Authority marginality England and Ireland in the work of Susan Howe Bruce Andrews writing and poetry What about all this writing Williams and alternative poetics Language writing digital poetics and transitional materialities

Contemporary American Poetry A. Poulin (Jr.), 1980      Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures David G. Nicholls, 2015-01-01 The third edition of the MLA's widely used Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures features sixteen new essays by leading scholars Designed to highlight relations among languages and forms of discourse the volume is organized into three sections Understanding Language provides an overview of the field of linguistics with special attention to language acquisition and the social life of languages Forming Texts offers tools for understanding how speakers and writers shape language it examines scholarship in the distinct but interrelated fields of rhetoric composition and poetics Reading Literature and Culture continues the work of the first two sections by introducing major areas of critical study The nine essays in this section cover textual and historical scholarship interpretation comparative cultural and translation studies and the interdisciplinary topics of gender sexuality race and migrations among others As in previous volumes an epilogue examines the role of the scholar in contemporary society Each essay discusses the significance underlying assumptions and limits of an important field of inquiry traces the historical development of its subject introduces key terms outlines modes of research now being pursued postulates future developments and provides a list of suggestions for further reading This book will interest any member of the academic community seeking a review of recent scholarship while it provides an indispensable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of modern languages and literatures The New Leader ,1978 Back from the Far Field Bernard W. Quetchenbach,2000 Many poets writing after World War II have found the individual focus of contemporary poetics poorly suited to making statements directed at public issues and public ethics The desire to invest such individualized poetry with greater cultural authority presented difficulties for Vietnam protest poets for example and it has been a particular challenge for nature writers in the Thoreau tradition who have attempted to serve as advocates for the natural world Examining the implications of this dilemma Bernard W Quetchenbach locates the poets Robert Bly Gary Snyder and Wendell Berry within two traditions the American nature writing tradition and the newer tradition of contemporary poetics He compares the work of two other twentieth century poets Robinson Jeffers and Theodore Roethke to illustrate how the contemporary shift toward a poetics focused on the poet's life has affected portrayals of nature and the public voice in poetry Turning back to the work of Bly Snyder and Berry Quetchenbach assesses their attempts to reinvent the public voice in the context of contemporary poetics and what effect these attempts have had on their work He argues that these poets have learned from their postwar generation techniques for adapting a personalized poetics to environmental advocacy In addition to modifying what critics have called the poetics of immediacy these poets have augmented their poetic output with prose and identified themselves with long standing traditions of poetic ethical and spiritual authority In doing so Bly Snyder and Berry have attempted to solve not only a problem inherent in contemporary poetics but also the larger problem of the role of the poet in a society that does not recognize poetry While it would be an overstatement to suggest that these three figures have found a place for the poet in American life they have reached audiences that extend beyond traditional readers of poetry At the end of the twentieth century Quetchenbach concludes poets have begun to identify and direct their writing to specific audiences defined less by aesthetic preferences and more by a shared interest in and dedication to the work's subject matter Whether revealing a disturbing trend for poetry or an encouraging one for environmentalism and other political causes it is one of many provocative conclusions Quetchenbach draws from his examination of postwar nature poetry Southern Folklore ,1990
