Edición 2025 Angelika König, 2025-01-20 Sus cronistas aseguran que Berlín siempre ha estado o bien arrasada o bien en fase de reconstrucción desde su destrucción en la Guerra de Treinta Años pasando por el devastador impacto de los bombardeos de la Segunda Guerra Mundial hasta la fiebre constructiva de la reunificación que dura hasta nuestros días Pero a pesar de sus transformaciones la naturaleza sigue presente en el paisaje urbano de Berlín ya que casi

una tercera parte de su superficie est ocupada por parques y jardines Desde sus vanguardias culturales a los melancolicos cabarets desde sus inagotables museos a los mercadillos de antiguallas sovieticas desde los espacios diseados por la lite de la arquitectura mundial a los monumentos m s kitch Berl n es en efecto una ciudad en permanente estado de efervescencia Aqu acuden los principales artistas europeos para respirar su ambiente de libertad y nutrirse de su esp ritu ecl ctico Y aqu llegan tambi n los visitantes atra dos por una ciudad a la que se viaja motivado por su historia y de la que se regresa cautivado por su modernidad

The Chameleon Effect Dietmar Froehlich,2018-04-09 Architecture and film have many things in common Film narratives are embedded in scenes that visually support the story Sometimes architecture even performs the role of an actor Conversely film with its multifaceted changing atmospheres reveals new layers of architecture which outside the cinema would remain concealed In conclusion film as a mass medium influences the way architecture is perceived and its image in society Since the beginning of cinema architecture has formed a symbiosis with film With its systematic analysis this book offers a scientifically researched history of mutual influence starting with filmography as a typology of well known film sets through to the description of the chameleon effect between film and architecture

Memorials as Spaces of Engagement Quentin Stevens,Karen A. Franck,2015-08-11 Memorials are more diverse in design and subject matter than ever before No longer limited to statues of heroes placed high on pedestals contemporary memorials engage visitors in new often surprising ways contributing to the liveliness of public space In Memorials as Spaces of Engagement Quentin Stevens and Karen A Franck explore how changes in memorial design and use have helped forge closer richer relationships between commemorative sites and their visitors The authors combine first hand analysis of key examples with material drawn from existing scholarship Examples from the US Canada Australia and Europe include official formally designed memorials and informal ones those created by the public without official sanction Memorials as Spaces of Engagement discusses important issues for the design management and planning of memorials and public space in general The book is organized around three topics how the physical design of memorial objects and spaces has evolved since the 19th century how people experience and understand memorials through the activities of commemorating occupying and interpreting and the issues memorials raise for management and planning Memorials as Spaces of Engagement will be of interest to architects landscape architects and artists historians of art architecture and culture urban sociologists and geographers planners policymakers and memorial sponsors and all those concerned with the design and use of public space
