Edward Sapir, Appraisals of His Life and Work E. F. K. Koerner, 1984-01-01 To commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Edward Sapir 1884 1939 this volume brings together a number of papers by distinguished North American scholars appraising the life and work of the world renowned anthropologist and linguist It includes an introduction by the editor a full bibliography of Sapir s scientific writings a detailed index of names and many photographs and fac similes Among the contributors are Ruth Benedict Leonard Bloomfield Franz Boas Joseph Greenberg Mary Haas Zellig Harris A L Kroeber Robert H Lowie David Mandelbaum Morris Swadesh and C F Voegelin Surveying the Record Edward Carlos Carter, 1999 Papers given at a conference on Scientific Exploration in North America to 1930 with topics including Cartography Oceanic Exploration Art Anthropology Lewis and Clark and the West This book adds much to our quest for knowledge of who and where we are by illuminating such themes as the role of maps and mapmaking in defining our national identity the origins of Western exploration the cultural clash found in the best selling account of a 19th century physician explorer with Arctic peoples the role of art in the service of science in bringing these newly discovered places and peoples into the American parlor and the impact of Mormon farming techniques on John Wesley Powell s famed 1878 Arid Region Report Black and white maps and illus Anthropologists and the Rediscovery of America, 1886-1965 John S.

Gilkeson, 2010-09-20 This book examines the intersection of cultural anthropology and American cultural nationalism from 1886 when Franz Boas left Germany for the United States until 1965 when the National Endowment for the Humanities was established Five chapters trace the development within academic anthropology of the concepts of culture social class national character value and civilization and their dissemination to non anthropologists As Americans came to think of culture anthropologically as a complex whole far broader and more inclusive than Matthew Arnold s the best which has been thought and said so too did they come to see American communities as stratified into social classes distinguished by their subcultures to attribute the making of the American character to socialization rather than birth to locate the distinctiveness of American culture in its unconscious canons of choice and to view American culture and civilization in a global perspective

The Voice of Prophecy Edwin Ardener, 2017-10-01 Edwin Ardener a new expanded edition of the collected works of one of the most important social anthropologists in Britain of his time Ardener worked on social economic demographic and political problems and was particularly influential in his sustained effort to bring together social anthropology and linguistics in a highly original attempt to reconcile scientific and humanistic approaches to the study of society This volume offers a theoretically and conceptually coherent body of work by this innovative and profound thinker which will continue to excite and stimulate new generations of students and researchers as it has in the past Toward a History of American Linguistics E.F.K. Koerner, 2003-09-02 A comprehensive account of essential periods and areas of research in the history of American Linguistics which addresses contemporary debates and issues within linguistics Historicizing Canadian Anthropology

Julia Harrison, Regna Darnell, 2011-11-01 Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is the first significant examination of the historical development of anthropological study in this country. It addresses key issues in the evolution of the discipline, the shaping influence of Aboriginal anthropological encounters, the challenge of compiling a history for the Canadian context, and the place of international and institutional relations. The contributors to this collection reflect on the definition and scope of the discipline and explore the degree to which a uniquely Canadian tradition affects anthropological theory, practice, and reflexivity. Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is a watershed that will revitalize critical reflexivity within the field. With contributions from a broad cross section of anthropologists from senior scholars to doctoral students, this book is essential reading for practising Canadian anthropologists, their students, and others who seek to understand the historical contours of the field.

The American Novel 1870-1940 Priscilla Wald, Michael A. Elliott, Jonathan Arac, 2014-02 Witnessing the end of a war that nearly terminated the nation, the abolition of racial slavery and rise of legal segregation, the rise of Modernism and Hollywood, the closing of the frontier, and two World Wars, the literary historical period represented in this volume constitutes the crucible of American literary history. Here 35 essays by top researchers in the field detail how considerations of race and citizenship, immigration and assimilation, gender and sexuality, nationalism and empire all reverberate throughout novels written in the United States between 1870 and 1940. Contributors discuss the professionalization of literary production after the Civil War alongside legal and political debates over segregation and citizenship, while chapters on journalism, geography, religion, and immigration offer discussions on everything from the lasting role of literary realism in American fiction to the Spanish American War's effect on developing theories of aesthetics and popular culture. The volume offers thorough coverage of the emergence of serial fiction, children's fiction, crime and detective fiction, science fiction, and even cinema and comics as new media and artistic revolutions like the Harlem Renaissance helped usher in the new international aesthetic movement of Modernism. The final chapters in the volume explore the relationship of the novel to the emergence of American literature as a category in the academy, in public criticism and journalism, and in mass culture.

New Perspectives in Language, Culture, and Personality William Cowan, Michael Foster, E.F.K. Koerner, 1986-01-01 On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Edward Sapir (1884-1939), a conference was held in the Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa, Canada, where Sapir had his office for most of his time as Chief of the Anthropological Division of the Geographical Survey of Canada (1910-1925). This volume presents papers from that conference.

Missionary Linguistics/Lingüística misionera Otto Zwartjes, Even Hovdhaugen, 2004-08-31 When the first European missionaries arrived on other continents, it was decided that the indigenous languages would be used as the means of Christianization. The study of this linguistic material has so far not received sufficient attention in the field of linguistic historiography. This volume is the first published collection of papers on missionary linguistics world wide; it represents the insights of recent research, containing an introduction and papers on methodology, meta-historiography, the
