Crespy,Les Gray,2025-09-08 This collection of essays seeks to present articles that examine the early ventures of the 1960s and 1970s in the progressive theatre of identity with a new contemporary view considering the intersection of race gender ethnicity economic class and sexual orientation In 1964 Edward Albee and his producers Richard Barr and Clinton Wilder produced Funnyhouse of a Negro by Adrienne Kennedy and Dutchman by Amiri Baraka then Leroi Jones and by 1968 had produced the seminal gay drama The Boys in the Band by Mart Crowley No other major American playwright of this period including Thornton Wilder Arthur Miller Tennessee Williams or William Inge produced the plays of their junior colleagues with a specific focus on difference and diversity For most scholars

these productions and Albee's involvement in them are a somewhat obscure footnote in theatre history. But they remain important for their early support of diverse voices. Even as Albee's career was skyrocketing, he and his producers had begun a producing project that sowed the seeds of diversity, equity, and inclusion in a decidedly anti-racist, decolonizing, and progressive move that still resonates powerfully today. While this book is not a hagiography and does not intend to paint Albee as without his own critical failings in terms of diversity in his own work and that of others, this volume of theatre history, dramatic literature, and performance essays takes a detailed critical approach to Albee's engagement with other initiating plays, productions, producers, theatre companies, theatre artists, and performances in the United States that pushed the dial toward difference and diversity in the late 1950s through the late 1970s, beginning the formations of new theatres of identity across the United States. This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies.

Albee and Influence, 2021-03-01. Albee and Influence is the fourth volume in the series New Directions in Edward Albee Studies, sponsored by the Edward Albee Society. The volume contains essays written by leading Albee scholars that focus on literary and philosophical influences on Edward Albee's plays, as well as essays on writers and works that Albee influenced. Essays focus on Albee's relationship with such major American playwrights as Thornton Wilder, Amiri Baraka, Sam Shepard, Lanford Wilson, and John Guare. There are also contributions on Albee's work as mentor to young playwrights. The volume also includes an interview with award-winning director Pam McKinnon. Edward Albee, Matthew Roudané, 2017-08-07. Edward Albee 1928-2016 was a central figure in modern American theatre, and his bold and often experimental theatrical style won him wide acclaim. This book explores the issues, public and private, that so influenced Albee's vision over five decades, from his first great success, The Zoo Story (1959), to his last play, Me, Myself, Part II. It concentrates on twenty-four of his plays, including Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? (1962) and Part III, and investigates his critical reception. Surveying Albee's relationship with Broadway and including interviews conducted with Albee himself, this book will be of great importance for theatregoers and students seeking an accessible yet incisive introduction to this extraordinary American playwright. The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook, Updated and Expanded Edition, Ed

Hooks, 2007-10-16. All actors and acting teachers need The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook, the invaluable guide to finding just the right piece for every audition. Some of the world's greatest literature is devoted to expressing the joys and sorrows of human experience as they grow old. New opportunities and challenges appear: retirement, a special closeness with the family, failing health, the recognition of personal mortality prejudice against the elderly and grief over the losses of loved ones and places This collection of more than 60 short stories poems and plays addresses these issues primarily through the works of modern American writers including Bernard Malamud Eudora Welty Saul Bellow Edward Albee Robert Frost Denise Levertov William Carlos Williams Ernest Hemingway Alice Walker Kurt Vonnegut and others The selections represent the experience of aging from the perspective of persons of diverse color ethnicity and background and are complemented by illustrator Elizabeth Layton's wry and perceptive prints
