Egypt In The Twenty First Century Challenges For Development:

Egypt in the Twenty First Century M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2003-07-03 The book focuses on three main themes overpopulation associated with low productivity unemployment persistent poverty and weak savings and investment capacity the post 1950 development strategies and their outcomes the institutional structures that are constraining economic and political progress Egypt in the Twenty First Century is a much need Egypt in the Twenty First Century M. Riad El-Ghonemy, 2003-07-03 An overview of the political economy and development of contemporary Egypt focusing on the nature and extent of economic reform and restructuring in the last twenty years From the 1919 Revolution to the 2011 Arab Spring Uzi Rabi, Mira Tzoreff, 2024-05-08 Focused on three Egyptian revolutions in 1919 1952 and 2011 this edited book argues that each of these revolutions is a milestone which represents a meaningful turning point in modern Egyptian history Revolutions are typically characterized by a fundamental change in political and social infrastructures as well as in the establishment of new values and norms However it should be noted that this may not be entirely applicable when examining the context of the three Egyptian revolutions the 1919 revolution failed to liberate Egypt from British colonial hegemony the 1952 revolution failed to rework the country's social and economic systems and unify the Arab world and the Arab Spring revolution of 2011 culminated in a chaotic economic and social catastrophe thus failing to solve the young generation's crisis Nevertheless by revisiting and redefining these revolutions through diverse theoretical frameworks the book proposes that each of them played a significant role in shaping Egypt's political social and cultural identity This book is specifically of interest for students historians and social scientists with a keen interest in Egyptian history and the Middle East offering fresh perspectives and insights into these transformative moments in Egypt's history The Egyptian Economy in the Twenty-first Century Khalid Ikram, Heba Nassar, 2022-11-29 A multi faceted account of Egyptian economic development by nineteen internationally recognized authorities and the critical challenges the economy is likely to face in the next twenty years The Egyptian Economy in the Twenty first Century addresses the question of why Egypt despite possessing a plethora of assets such as a fertile agriculture a strategic geographic location oil and gas deposits innumerable tourist sites a labor force prized by regional countries and a diaspora that remits large amounts of funds has seldom performed to its economic potential during the last sixty years Indeed economic weakness created political weakness and often exposed the country to foreign dictats What should the country do to change this state of affairs Nineteen internationally recognized authorities on the Egyptian economy discuss the critical challenges that the Egyptian economy is likely to face in the next two to three decades challenges which must be overcome in order to improve the life of Egypt's citizens and to protect the country from external pressures Their analyses cover population and employment development strategies principal macroeconomic issues development of a digital economy fiscal and monetary matters the external sector poverty and income distribution the enterprise structure higher education water availability urbanization institutional

O'Rourke, Jeffrey G. Williamson, 2017 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Ever since the Industrial Revolution of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries industrialization has been the key to modern economic growth The fact that modern industry originated in Britain and spread initially to north western Europe and North America implied a dramatic divergence in living standards between the industrial North or West and a non industrial or even de industrializing South or Rest This nineteenth century divergence which had profound economic military and geopolitical implications has been studied in great detail by many economists and historians Today this divergence between the West and the Rest is visibly unraveling as economies in Asia Latin America and even sub Saharan Africa converge on the rich economies of Europe and North America This phenomenon which is set to define the twenty first century both economically and politically has also been the subject of a considerable amount of research. Less appreciated however are the deep historical roots of this convergence process and in particular of the spread of modern industry to the global periphery. This volume fills this gap by providing a systematic comparative historical account of the spread of modern manufacturing beyond its traditional heartland to Southern and Eastern Europe, the Middle East, Asia, Africa and Latin America or what we call the poor periphery. It identifies the timing of this convergence, finding that this was fastest in the interwar and post World War II years, not the more recent miracle growth years. It also identifies which driving forces were common to all periphery countries and which were not.

Government and Politics of the Contemporary Middle East Tareq Y. Ismael, Jacqueline S. Ismael, 2012-10-02 This exciting new book for students of Middle Eastern politics provides a comprehensive introduction to the complexities of the region, its politics and people. Combining a thematic framework for examining patterns of politics with individual chapters dedicated to specific countries, the book explores current issues within an historical context. Presenting information in an accessible and inclusive format, the book offers coverage of the historical influence of colonialism and major world powers on the shaping of the modern Middle East, a detailed examination of the legacy of Islam, analysis of the political and social aspects of Middle Eastern life, alienation between state and society, poverty and social inequality, ideological crises and renewal, case studies on countries in the Northern Belt: Turkey and Iran, the Fertile Crescent: Iraq, Syria and Lebanon, Israel and Palestine, and those West and East of the Red Sea: Egypt and the members of the Gulf Cooperation Council. Extensive pedagogical features including original maps and detailed further reading sections provide essential support for the reader. A key introductory text for students of Middle Eastern politics and history at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels, this book will also be a significant reference for policy makers and any motivated reader.

Egypt's Culture Wars Samia Mehrez, 2008-04-01 This ground-breaking work presents original research on cultural politics and battles in Egypt at the turn of the twenty-first century. It deconstructs the boundaries between high and low culture, drawing on conceptual tools in cultural studies, translation studies and gender studies to analyze debates in the fields of literature, cinema, mass media and the plastic arts. Anchored in the Egyptian historical and social contexts and inspired by the influential work of Pierre Bourdieu, it rigorously places these debates and battles within the larger framework of a set of questions about the relationship between the cultural and political fields in Egypt.

Marginality and Exclusion in Egypt Ray Bush, Habib Ayeb, 2012-06-14 What does it mean to be marginalized? Is it a passive condition that the disadvantaged simply have to endure? Or is it a manufactured label reproduced and by its nature transitory? In the wake of the new uprising in Egypt, this insightful collection explores issues of power, politics and inequality in Egypt and the Middle East. It argues that the notion of marginality tends to mask the true power relations that perpetuate poverty and exclusion. It is these dynamic processes of political and economic transformation that need explanation. The book provides a revealing analysis of key areas of Egyptian political economy such as labour, urbanization and the creation of slums, disability, refugees, street children and agrarian livelihoods reaching the impactful conclusion that marginalization does not mean total exclusion What is marginalized can be called upon to play a dynamic part in the future as is the case with the revolution that toppled President Mubarak

Dynamics of Arab Foreign Policy-Making in the Twenty-First Century Hassan Hamdan Al-Alkim,2012-04-16 The Arab world's strategic location and its considerable material and human potential should allow it to play a major role in world affairs However in addition to sharing language culture and history Arab states also face common challenges authoritarian regimes ethnic and social cleavages economic underdevelopment and the need for security from the West Hassan Hamdan al Alkim examines the dynamics of Arab foreign policy making in the twenty first century taking account of the current political developments in the Arab world since January 2011 Through an insightful analysis of pivotal issues such as the Middle East Peace Process the food and water crisis and Saudi Arabia's foreign policy Alkim brings us closer to a nuanced understanding of contemporary Arab politics and its role in world affairs This balanced and discerning study is essential reading for policy makers academics and students of Middle Eastern politics

Egypt's Strategy to Meet the Sustainable Development Goals and Agenda 2030: Researchers' Contributions El-Sayed E. Omran,Abdelazim M. Negm,2023-02-01 This book focuses on Egypt as a representative example of emerging economies struggling to achieve their sustainable development goals SDGs The Egyptian government has launched Egypt's Vision 2030 in line with the 2030 Agenda also known as the Sustainable Development Strategy SDS which encompasses the economic social and environmental dimensions of development It is under the SDS that all development plans in Egypt are incorporated while at the same time being strongly guided by the SDGs Aware of the principle of shared but differentiated responsibility Egypt also recognizes that fundamental challenges remain despite a strong willingness to achieve the SDGs High birth rates brain drain phenomena water scarcity migration discrimination against women and girls a growing informal sector and instability in neighboring states especially Libya and Syria are only some of the many hindrances to sustainable development In order to address these challenges Egypt relies heavily on the SDGs which are aimed at transforming our world Although there is an urgent need for a drastic change in the way we use the Earth the question arises as to whether the SDGs are sufficient to facilitate such a transformation This book explores the key environmentally related Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and offers a cutting edge assessment of current progress with a view to reaching these objectives by 2030 The book highlights some of the key findings and ideas for how research may help achieve the 17 Sustainable Development Goals in enterprises The book provides a useful framework that can help and aid the Egyptian government to assess the many goals and targets outlined in the 2030 Agenda The analysis of Egypt can be used as a blueprint for other developing nations and globally in order to guide policy toward achieving the SDGs Covering food security water resilience climate change agronomics rural life environmental impact assessment as a tool for measuring the achievement of the goals Egyptian education the COVID 19 pandemic cultural and societal dimensions this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development and climate change as well as practitioners and policymakers involved in sustainable development and disaster management

International Migration and Challenges in the Beginning of the Twenty-First Century Gökçe Bayindir Goularas, Isil Zeynep Turkan Ipek, 2018-10-18 International migration has been subject to many studies conducted by academics students policy makers and in civil society As the migration flows continue to increase amongst countries new dynamics shape international politics economy and culture In this context the main purpose of this book is to present a contemporary understanding of international migration through an interdisciplinary analysis The authors investigate migration and its dynamics in different perspectives cultural economic political judicial and sociological by considering the latest changes in the international relations agenda This book sheds light on different minor aspects of international migration in a critical perspective

Between Preservation and Exploitation Kemi Fuentes-George, 2016-03-25 A study of biodiversity governance analyzes the factors that determine the effectiveness of transnational advocacy networks and the importance of justice claims to conservation In the late 2000s ordinary citizens in Jamaica and Mexico demanded that government put a stop to lucrative but environmentally harmful economic development activities bauxite mining in Jamaica and large scale tourism and overfishing on the eastern coast of the Yucatán Peninsula In each case the catalyst for the campaign was information gathered and disseminated by transnational advocacy networks TANs of researchers academics and activists Both campaigns were successful despite opposition from industry supporters Meanwhile simultaneous campaigns to manage land in another part of the Yucatán and to conserve migratory birds in Egypt had far less success In this book Kemi Fuentes George uses these four cases to analyze factors that determine the success or failure of efforts by TANs to persuade policymakers and private sector actors in developing countries to change environmental behavior Fuentes George argues that in order to influence the design and implementation of policy TANs must generate a scientific consensus create social relationships with local actors and advocate for biodiversity in a way that promotes local environmental justice Environmentally just policies would allow local populations access to their lands provided they use natural resources sustainably Justice claims are also more likely to generate needed support among local groups for conservation projects In their conservation efforts Jamaica Mexico and Egypt were attempting to meet their obligations under the UN Convention on Biological Diversity and other regional agreements Fuentes George's innovative analysis shows the importance of local environmental justice for the implementation of international environmental treaties
