An Introduction to Ancient Egyptian Literature Sir Ernest Alfred Wallis Budge, 1997-01-01 Fascinating extracts from The Book of the Dead legends of the gods historical and autobiographical literature tales of travel and adventure poetical compositions much more The Literature of the Ancient Egyptians E. A. Wallis Budge, 2011-05-14 This book is intended to serve as an introduction to the study of Egyptian Literature Its object is to present a short series of specimens of Egyptian compositions which represent all the great periods of literary activity in Egypt under the Pharaohs to all who are interested in the study of the mental development of ancient nations It represents I believe the first attempt made to place before the public a summary of the principal contents of Egyptian Literature in a handy and popular form The specimens of native Egyptian Literature printed herein are taken from tombs papyri steale and other monuments and with few exceptions each specimen is complete in itself Translations of most of the texts have appeared in learned works written by Egyptologists in English French German and Italian but some appear in English for the first time In every case I have collated my own translations with the texts and thanks to the accurate editions of texts which have appeared in recent years it has been found possible to make many hitherto difficult passages clear In selecting the texts for translation in this book an attempt has been made to include compositions that are not only the best of their kind but that also illustrate the most important branches of Egyptian Literature Among these religious mythological and moral works bulk largely and in many respects these represent the peculiar bias of the mind of the ancient Egyptian better than compositions of a purely historical character No man was more alive to his own material interests but no man has ever valued the things of this world less in comparison with the salvation of his soul and the preservation of his physical body The immediate result of this was a perpetual demand on his part for information concerning the Other World and for guidance during his life in this world The priests attempted to satisfy his craving for information by composing the Books of the Dead and the other funerary works with which we are acquainted and the popularity of these works seems to show that they succeeded From the earliest times the Egyptians regarded a life of moral excellence upon earth as a necessary introduction to the life which he hoped to live with the blessed in heaven And even in pyramid times he conceived the idea of the existence of a God Who judged rightly and Who set right in the place of wrong This fact accounts for the reverence in which he held the Precepts of Ptah hetep Kagemna Herutataf Amenemhat I Ani Tuauf Amen hetep and other sages To him as to all Africans the Other World was a very real thing and death and the Last Judgment were common subjects of his daily thoughts The great antiquity of this characteristic of the Egyptian is proved by a passage in a Book of Precepts which was written by a king of the ninth or tenth dynasty for his son who reigned under the name of Merikara The royal writer in it reminds his son that the Chiefs of Osiris vii who judge sinners perform their duty with merciless justice on the Day of Judgment It is useless to assume that length of years will be accepted by them as a plea of justification With them the lifetime of a man is only regarded as a moment After death these Chiefs must be faced and the only things that they will consider will be his works Life in the Other World is for ever and only the reckless fool forgets this fact The man who has led a life free from lies and deceit shall live after death like a god E A WALLIS BUDGE
