of science including pathology has resulted in an area working in their respective areas of interest is intended largely of scientific literature which is now too extensive to provide the reader with up to date information. For most people to digest this certainly applies to the years ahead new lung diseases will be discovered. Field of pulmonary pathology. One has only to reflect some of which may still be confused with classical disease on the better understanding of many disease processes of great antiquity. For example during the 1970s and the description of many new diseases in the lung. Legionella pneumonia has been separated from pneumonia in the last 40 years to appreciate these changes. For mucoccal lobar pneumonia with which it was almost this reason alone a summary of the present knowledge certainly confused in the past. Although some of the conditions discussed in this is both essential and timely. Pathology is undergoing a metamorphosis with new books are uncommon or even rare. Ignorance of these diagnostic methods employing antibodies and other rare diseases is no longer acceptable. Pathologists newly developed techniques to make diagnoses more involved in day to day practice are expected to be precise. Until recently these new techniques have had knowledge of ongoing advances in their field. Eighth International Conference on Sarcoidosis and Other Granulomatous Diseases, Cardiff 1978 William Jones Williams, B.
