More Letters from the Edge Margaret Randall, 2025-09-09 A collection of letters exchanged between the author and four outriders artists writers and activists who risk everything to confront censorship injustice and the constraints of convention In More Letters from the Edge Margaret Randall continues her exploration of the power of correspondence revealing the intimate and unguarded exchanges that define lives lived at the margins of convention Through letters interviews and fragments of memory she invites us into conversations with four fearlessly radical writers artists and activists Arturo Arango Kathy Boudin Jane Norling and Robert Schweitzer Their voices translated remembered and preserved offer urgent reflections on risk resistance and the act of making meaning in a world that now more than ever seeks to silence dissent More than historical artifacts these conversations bridge past and present proving that the fight for creative and political integrity is never confined to a single era More Letters from the Edge is a testament to those who push against the edges opening doors for all who follow Discipleship on the Edge Darrell W. Johnson, 2004 Revelation is probably the most read but least understood book of the Bible History is replete with examples of how not to interpret it and books featuring end of world prophecy claims based on Revelation consistently top the bestseller lists But how can the message of such an enigmatic book be applied to our lives today In Discipleship on the Edge Darrell W Johnson drives home the challenging and practical message of Revelation in thirty carefully crafted sermons Paying careful attention to the original context of Revelation and the circumstances surrounding its composition Johnson shows that the book is not a crystal ball but rather a discipleship manual Thoroughly researched and yet accessible this collection of sermons is a helpful resource for pastors and small group leaders who are looking for models to help them preach and teach the message of Revelation in a time when there is much confusion about the end times Darrell W Johnson serves as Scholar in Residence at The Way Church and Canadian Church Leaders Network in Vancouver British Columbia Canada A popular conference and retreat speaker he has also served as the preaching pastor for a number of congregations in North America and the Philippines as well as serving as Adjunct Professor of Preaching for the Doctor of Ministry program at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena California and a Teaching Fellow at Regent College His other books include Experiencing the Trinity and Fifty Seven Words That Change The World

Becoming Just S T Kimbrough, 2022-08-31 The poems in this collection ask How can we become just people What is human justice Is there a justice that is equal and or appropriate for all human beings How can an individual in action speech and behavior be just How does one think of oneself as just in interaction with others These poems also address prevalent injustices to children and of society s frequent denial of its responsibility to them the privileged and the underprivileged Further how do we wish to live in a society isolated completely independent self centered Living in a society implies association with others How do we wish to relate to others The poems query how will the governments under which we live initiate and execute just rule and governance for all citizens The book concludes with a lyrical case study of apartheid especially in Israel that claims to be a democracy Some of the poems acknowledge that the US s democracy has failed in many ways and has an ongoing need of recovering the principles of justice and equality Americans know well the meaning of ethnic cleansing in their own land The poems here make no claim at successful resolutions to the issues raised They do point to the ongoing need of repentance for wrongs done and for steering a steady course to guarantee the rights of freedom and justice for all people
