was the Chinese ruler's personal physician which put him in daily and increasingly intimate contact with Mao and his inner circle in The Private Life of Chairman Mao. Dr Li vividly reconstructs his extraordinary experience at the center of Mao's decadent imperial court. Dr Li clarifies numerous long-standing puzzles such as the true nature of Mao's feelings toward the United States and the Soviet Union. He describes Mao's deliberate rudeness toward Khrushchev and reveals the actual catalyst of Nixon's historic visit. Here are also surprising details of Mao's personal depravity: we see him dependent on barbiturates and refusing to wash, dress or brush his teeth and the sexual politics of his court. To millions of Chinese, Mao was more god than man, but for Dr Li, he was all too human. Dr Li's intimate account of this lecherous paranoid tyrant callously indifferent to the suffering of his people will forever alter our view of Chairman Mao and of China under his rule. Praise for The Private Life of Chairman Mao. From now on, no one will be able to pretend to understand Chairman Mao's place in history without reference to this revealing account. Professor Lucian Pye, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr Li does for Mao what the physician Lord Moran's memoir did for Winston Churchill: turns him into a human being. Here is Mao unveiled: eccentric, demanding, suspicious, unregretful, lascivious and unfailingly fascinating. Our view of Mao will never be the same again. Ross Terrill, author of China in Our Time. An extraordinarily intimate portrait of Mao. Dr Li portrays Mao's imperial court as a place of boundless decadence, licentiousness, selfishness, relentless toadying and cutthroat political intrigue. Richard Bernstein, The New York Times. One of the most provocative books on Mao to appear since the publication of Edgar Snow's Red Star Over China. Paul G. Pickowicz, The Wall Street Journal. The Analysis of the Self Heinz Kohut, 2022-12-22. A major achievement: this monograph on treating NPD shows a high level of integration of clinical experience and theoretical sophistication. Psychoanalytic Quarterly. Psychoanalyst, teacher and scholar Heinz Kohut was one of the twentieth century's most important intellectuals. A rebel according to many mainstream psychoanalysts, Kohut challenged Freudian orthodoxy and the medical control of psychoanalysis in America. In his highly influential book The Analysis of the Self, Kohut established the industry standard of the treatment of personality disorders for a generation of analysts. This volume, best known for its groundbreaking analysis of narcissism, is essential reading for scholars and practitioners seeking to understand human personality in its many incarnations. Kohut has done for narcissism what the novelist Charles Dickens did for poverty in the nineteenth century: Everyone always knew that both existed and were a problem. The undoubted originality is to have put it together in a form which carries appeal to action. International Journal of Psychoanalysis. The World We Live In Louis Bromfield, 2022-08-01. In The World We Live In, Louis Bromfield crafts an intricate exploration of the complexities of early 20th-century society, encapsulating the zeitgeist in a manner that resonates with modernity while retaining a timeless quality. Through a compelling narrative and a deeply immersive literary style, Bromfield addresses the interplay of human experience with the rapidly evolving world, a thematic undercurrent coursing through his richly descriptive prose. The book is an exemplar of its period, illustrating the socio-cultural dynamics and the bustling energy of an era on the cusp of significant transformation entwined with literary realism that Bromfield so deftly employs to capture a vivid portrait of contemporary life Louis Bromfield a Pulitzer Prize winning author was profoundly attuned to the shifts and tremors of the world around him His experiences and observations stemming from his multifaceted life as a farmer conservationist and world traveler deeply informed his writing With a keen eye for detail and a prescient understanding of environmental and societal issues Bromfield s work in The World We Live In emerges as a testament to his literary prowess and his sensitivity to the ebb and flow of cultural tides The World We Live In comes highly recommended for readers who seek a confluence of historical insight environmental concern and individual narrative This book not only appeals to those with an appetite for early 20th century literature but also caters to contemporary readers prepared to engage with the perennial questions of human purpose societal progress and our relationship with the natural world DigiCat Publishing s restoration of this work assures that Bromfield s masterful story telling and culturally significant narrative remains accessible for a new generation of readers preserving the essence of a narrative that continues to provide relevance and illumination Public Record Office

Handbooks Great Britain. Public Record Office,1954 Constructing a Competitive Order Helen Mercer,1995-05-11 This book was first published in 1995 Businessmen have always had a strong inclination to avoid competition and regulate the market Helen Mercer traces the evolution of British competition legislation designed to discourage such practices from 1900 to 1964 Economic and legal textbooks attribute the dynamic behind the development of this legislation to an undefined public opinion or to economists Helen Mercer disagrees She contends that competition policies have been shaped by the strategies of powerful business interests at home and in the United States Trade unions and organisations of labour have provided a consistent pressure on governments to legislate on private monopoly in the face of sweeping criticisms of free enterprise This book makes extensive use of archival sources to give a detailed analysis of government industry relations In the course of this it sheds new light on Britain s changing industrial structure and offers pointers to the likely outcome of business regulation in Britain in the future Bulletin - National Electric Light Association National Electric Light Association,1926
