be Reflecting 9/11 Heather Pope, Victoria Bryan, 2016-06-22 In over fifteen years the cultural and artistic response to 9 11 has been wide ranging in form and function As the turbulent post 9 11 years have unfolded years that have been shaped and characterized by the War on Terror the Patriot Act the Wars in Afghanistan and Iraq 7 7 Abu Ghraib and Guant namo Bay these texts have been commemorative and heroic have attempted to work through collective and individual traumas and have struggled with trying to represent the terrorist other Many of these earlier domestic heroic and traumatic works have so often been read as limitations in narrative This collection however challenges the language of limitation and provides re readings of earlier work but also traces the emergence of a new paradigm for discussing the artistic responses to 9 11 one that frames these narratives as dialogic self conscious and self reflexive interventions in the responses to the attacks the initial representations of the attacks and the ever shifting social and geopolitical continuities of the 9 11 decade These texts widen the conversation about the lasting impacts of 9 11 and incorporate strands of discussion on American exceptionalism and imperialism torture and otherness whilst still remaining invested in the personal and collective traumas of the attacks The authors included here ask crucial questions about the way 9 11 is being historicized will it for example be read as a moment of rupture or epoch Will it inevitably be attached to the War on Terror or the Wars in Iraq and Afghanistan As they trace the emergent patterns of reflexivity politicization and dissent the contributions here are also implicitly invested in asking how far they extend

A grandfather's trips with his grandchildren to baseball parks around the country is the backdrop for the light hearted but instructional telling of stories about some stellar baseball players. These stars also provided off the field examples for young people to follow in the way they lived their lives. To Walk in Their Footsteps Wilma H. Lewis, 2019-11-06. Back in the 1960's tracing your Family Tree was just becoming an interesting hobby. Now like a lazy little babbling stream merrily following the course of time that stream has metamorphosed into a huge directed waterfall and on to an almost out of control flood of family information. Between tracing records, having DNA tested and the ever increasing boundaries the Internet is providing, connecting with family one never even realized existed forty years ago has become an absorbing interesting avocation for everybody from school children to Seniors. Our family alone has over 14,000 leaves growing on one tree or another in such diverse places as England, Wales, Scandinavian Countries, Finland, USA and Canada. All of us looking to be connected to one another. One never knows where or when that connection may happen. It's just not the data that's important. Was that first traveller a thoughtful directed man who only wanted a better life for himself and his family? Was he a rogue looking for a fast way out of town to places he would never be found? Did he leave because he was in trouble with the local constabulary or was he looking for religious freedom? What about the women? Why did they come? What were their thoughts? What was in it for them? When you find the stories they are fascinating. Our thirst for knowledge of these people is insatiable. Whether or not you are a leaf on one of our orchard of trees you may find a graft that will lead you to another branch where another leaf has been joined to one of our own. Come Learn about us. Learn about yourself. School Days According to Humphrey Betty G. Birney, 2012-05-31. Kenneth Munro,2014-09-04 This is the story of the Munro family of Longlac George Jane and I spent our salad days in this picturesque little Northwestern Ontario community based on the pulp industry nestled between two First Nations reserves It is the story of a largely agricultural family whose members had deep roots in the soil of Saskatchewan and Ontario and whose offspring struggled throughout the twentieth century to become well educated middle class urban family members Although my grandparents and parents brought family characteristics to bear on the development of me and my siblings this little community provided an environment in our early years which left an indelible influence on all three of our lives Longlac was a mirror of the larger Canadian environment which sometimes exhibited prejudice and stifled creativity but it also exhibited tolerance and allowed freedom for personal growth Education was the passport to employment in urban Canada and to a full participation in Canadian life Our parents saw that my siblings and I knew of our origins in both western and eastern Canada and gave us every opportunity to become familiar with both the English and French languages and cultures Our eye on the world was the CBC whose low power relay transmitter broadcast English language programs during the day This environment was our springboard to success in our various professions and provided the following generations with an ability to contribute to Canada as hard working caring members of a middle class family Parker v. Thomas, 126 MICH 691 (1901) , 107 A Place to Call Home Val Wood,2018-11-29 Ellen thought she d always live in the remote pretty coastal village where she grew up After all her husband Harry works on a farm where he s guaranteed a job and home for life But when the old landowner dies and the couple and their young children are forced from their cottage the future is suddenly bleak Rather than stay and starve in the countryside they love Harry sets out to find a job in the factories and mills of nearby Hull and Ellen must leave behind everything she s ever known to follow her husband and build a new life for her family on the unfamiliar city streets The road ahead is full of hardships and challenges But with love and determination they make the best of things forging friendships with other newcomers and refugees even helping them to succeed in their new surroundings Then tragedy threatens Ellen s fragile happiness How much more can she sacrifice before they find a place to call home Val Wood s wonderful historical sagas are perfect for readers of Dilly Court Maggie Hope and Rosie Goodwin
