Bruce, Stephen Gordon, 2024-12-16 This volume explores the enduring presence and participation of the dead in the lives of premodern people from the Carolingian period to the end of the Middle Ages Unlike modern states which erect barriers to separate the dying and the deceased from their families friends and associates premodern societies in western Europe fostered an on going relationship between the living and the dead that was mutually beneficial to both parties As these studies show the dead had many means at their disposal to communicate their needs and disaffection including ghostly visitations and unquiet corpses For their part medieval authors told stories about the fate of the dead and the geography of the afterlife to dissuade sinful behaviour and foster virtue in preparation for the Last Judgment Premodern hauntings also serve as a useful metaphor for the uncertainty of archival research in recovering past voices and for the racial presumptions that inform our reconstruction of the western Middle Ages This book will appeal to scholars and students of history and literature especially those interested in the concept of death in the medieval period The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Medieval History The Stark Carpathians Anthony J. Amato, 2024-01-29 The Stark Carpathians Ritual Text and Authority Among Ukraine's Hutsuls addresses rituals and texts in a small mountainous area located in today's Ukraine The residents of this remote region are known as the Hutsuls This book argues that Hutsul rituals and texts cast as ancient and extraordinary had more mundane roots They formed out of contact between the region's residents and lowland institutions and they became foundations for everyday life Words and symbolic action had an inherent tension that stemmed from contests over authority The nature of these contests was such that distant officials willful locals and diverse sources of information were often as important as collective traditions in shaping rituals and texts Prolific producers of texts Hutsuls carried on discussions that included diverse topics such as agriculture astrology mass gymnastics divine punishment and witches and vampires This volume covers these and other discussions in their small and exact particulars and it investigates texts and rituals in their fullness and irreducible complexity By crossing traditional lines of inquiry and following the region's winding trails to their divergent ends this book offers insight into a larger Hutsul world Ultimately the study of Hutsul creations informs the study of rituals and texts in many elsewheres far from the Carpathian Mountains
