Change and the Family in Taiwan provides an in depth analysis of the complex changes in family relations in a society undergoing revolutionary social and economic transformation This interdisciplinary study explores the patterns and causes of change in education work income leisure time marriage living arrangements and interactions among extended kin Theoretical chapters enunciate a theory of family and social change centered on the life course and modes of social organization Other chapters look at the shift from arranged marriages toward love matches as well as changes in dating practices premarital sex fertility and divorce Contributions to the book are made by Jui Shan Chang Ming Cheng Chang Deborah S Freedman Ronald Freedman Thomas E Fricke Albert Hermalin Mei Lin Lee Paul K C Liu Hui Sheng Lin Te Hsiung Sun Arland Thornton Maxine Weinstein and Li Shou Yang 1970 Census of Population and Housing, 1971

Newsletter United States. Department of State, 1965 Stability and Change in Minerotrophic Peatlands, Sierra Nevada of California and Nevada James W. Bartolome, 1990 Minerotrophic peatlands or fens in California s Sierra Nevada are small wet meadows surrounded by mixed conifer forest The dynamics of vegetation change at the meadow edge and the ages and development of fens were investigated in the Sagehen Creek Basin near Truckee California through the use of radiocarbon dating of peat pollen studies examination of processes of peat development and accumulation stand age analysis of trees around peatlands and evaluation of tree ring variation These approaches were used to evaluate both short and long term changes Fens varied in age from more than 8000 years to less than 1000 years old Results suggest that overall fen development proceeds rapidly with peat buildup dependent upon adequate moisture supply During fen development trees repeatedly invade and retreat from the fen edges The timing of invasions appears unrelated to events such as human disturbance and climatic change Instead changes are most likely to result from alterations in groundwater supply in interaction with tree establishment longevity and water uptake Little evidence was found that accepted successional models which emphasize predictable and gradual vegetational development apply to fens in the Sagehen Basin Introduction to Missiology Alan Richard Tippett, 1987 While teaching at Fuller School of World Mission Tippett inspired and challenged the founding generation of great commission or church growth missiologists This collection brings together almost 40 of his best writings In a style that is both academic and personal he deals first with missiological theory then with anthropological and historical dimensions of missiology He then treats a number of specific missiological problems from these perspectives including seminal material on power encounters The Age of Oligarchy Geoffrey Holmes, D. Szechi, 2014-07-16 The second volume on early and mid Georgian Britain shows how the country used its expanding wealth its new found social cohesion at home and its international influence abroad to become not only a European but an imperial power As with the first volume every aspect of the period is covered How Old Are You? Howard P. Chudacoff, 2020-11-10 Most Americans take it for granted that a thirteen year old in the fifth grade is behind schedule that teenagers who marry too early are in for trouble and that a seventy five year old will be pleased at being told You look young for your age Did an awareness of age always dominate American life Howard Chudacoff reveals that our intense age consciousness has developed only gradually since the late nineteenth century In so doing he explores a wide range of topics including demographic change the development of pediatrics and psychological testing and popular music from the early 1800s until now Throughout our lifetimes American society has been age conscious But this has not always been the case Until the mid nineteenth century Americans showed little concern with age The one room schoolhouse was filled with students of varied ages and children worked alongside adults This is a lively picture of the development of age consciousness in urban middle class culture Robert H Binstock The New York Times Book Review A fresh perspective on a century of social and cultural development Michael R Dahlin American Historical Review     The Works of John Ruskin: Early prose writing John Ruskin, 1903 Volume 1 35 works Volume 36 37 letters Volume 38 provides an extensive bibliography of Ruskin s writings and a catalogue of his drawings with corrections to earlier volumes in George Allen s Library Edition of the Works of John Ruskin Volume 39 general index
