The Great Barrier Reef Ben Daley, 2014-07-17 The Great Barrier Reef is located along the coast of Queensland in north east Australia and is the world's largest coral reef ecosystem Designated a World Heritage Area it has been subject to increasing pressures from tourism fishing pollution and climate change and is now protected as a marine park This book provides an original account of the environmental history of the Great Barrier Reef based on extensive archival and oral history research It documents and explains the main human impacts on the Great Barrier Reef since European settlement in the region focusing particularly on the century from 1860 to 1960 which has not previously been fully documented yet which was a period of unprecedented exploitation of the ecosystem and its resources The book describes the main changes in coral reefs islands and marine wildlife that resulted from those impacts In more recent decades human impacts on the Great Barrier Reef have spread accelerated and intensified with implications for current management and conservation practices There is now better scientific understanding of the threats faced by the ecosystem Yet these modern challenges occur against a background of historical levels of exploitation that is little known and that has reduced the ecosystem's resilience The author provides a compelling narrative of how one of the world's most iconic and vulnerable ecosystems has been exploited and degraded but also how some early conservation practices emerged and barrier systems of Australia. It covers the coastal processes and systems that form and impact Australia's 30 000 km coast, 12 000 beaches and 2750 barrier systems. These processes include geology, geomorphology, climate, waves, tides, currents, sediment supply as well as coastal ecosystems. The coast is divided into tropical, northern and southern temperate provinces, within which are seven divisions, 23 regions and 354 coastal sediment compartments, each of which is described in detail in the 34 chapters. Within these systems are the full range of wave through tide dominated beaches and barriers ranging from cheniers to massive transgressive dune systems together with a range of onshore and longshore sand transport systems.
