Selections from the Riverside Literature

Series, 1912 A General History of Chinese Art Xifan Li, 2022-10-03 This volume analyses the history of Chinese art during the time of the Ming Dynasty during which the various traditions of painting academies were developed further leading to new painting styles and schools The volume also highlights the developments in music crafts porcelain and architecture A General History of Chinese Art comprises six volumes with a total of nine parts spanning from the Prehistoric Era until the 3rd year of Xuanton during the Qing Dynasty 1911 The work provides a comprehensive compilation of in depth studies of the development of art throughout the subsequent reign of Chinese dynasties and explores the emergence of a wide range of artistic categories such as but not limited to music dance acrobatics singing story telling painting calligraphy sculpture architecture and crafts Unlike previous reference books A General History of Chinese Art offers a broader overview of the notion of Chinese art by asserting a more diverse and less material understanding of arts as has often been the case in Western scholarship

Localizing Learning Peter K. Bol, 2023-11-20 As the first intellectual history of Song Yuan and Ming China written from a local perspective Localizing Learning shows how literati learning in Wuzhou came to encompass examination studies Neo Confucian moral philosophy historical and Classical scholarship encyclopedic learnedness and literary writing and traces how debates over the relative value of moral cultivation cultural accomplishment and political service unfolded locally The book is set in one locality Wuzhou later Jinhua a prefecture in China's Zhejiang province from the twelfth through the sixteenth century Its main actors are literati of the Song Yuan and Ming who created a local tradition of learning as a means of cementing their common identity and their claim to moral political and cultural leadership Close readings of philosophical and literary texts with quantitative analysis of social and kinship networks consider why and how the local literati enterprise was built By treating learning as the subject it broadens our perspective going beyond a history of ideas to investigate the social practices and networks of kinship and collegiality with which literati defined themselves in local regional and national contexts

Sharing the Journey David Yellin, 2017-05-12 This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children. Specifically focused on infants through the third grade, Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations, instructive commentary, and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years. Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature. Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity as well as cultural connection. Genre chapters include poetry, fantasy, and realistic and historical fiction. A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction.

Parents and Grandparents as Teachers Paris S. Strom, Robert D. Strom, 2025-05-30 A guide for families in teaching infants through age 8, this insightful book showcases how both parents and grandparents can support greater family success and how creative collaboration can produce benefits for each generation. Having developed the nation's first curriculum for grandparents and field tested the intervention program with support from the American Association of Retired Persons, the authors explore topics like trust in infancy, family conversations, and child language praise and encouragement alone, time, peer influence, resilience, and cultural diversity. To bring family members closer together and support child development, each chapter includes principles for application, ten key concepts, and questions for reflection. Readers can benefit from the Generational Perspectives Activities presented at the end of each chapter and available online that recommend topics for family conversations and self-evaluation for parents and grandparents. This book will be invaluable for parent and grandparent readers and may also be of interest to students majoring in family studies and developmental psychology and those preparing to become early childhood or elementary school teachers. Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States.
