Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth-Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair, 2012-02-16 In Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair explores how nineteenth century descriptions of femininity saturate both Woolf's fiction and her modernist manifestos Moving between the Victorian and modernist periods Blair looks at a range of nineteenth and early twentieth century sources including the literature of conduct and household management as well as autobiography essay poetry and fiction She argues for a reevaluation of Woolf's persistent yet vexed fascination with English domesticity and female creativity by juxtaposing the novels of Elizabeth Gaskell and Margaret Oliphant two popular Victorian novelists against Woolf's own novels and essays Blair then traces unacknowledged lines of influence and complex interpretations that Woolf attempted to disavow While reconsidering Woolf's analysis of women and fiction Blair simultaneously deepens our appreciation of Woolf's work and advances our understanding of feminine aesthetics

Bloomsbury, Beasts and British Modernist Literature Derek Ryan, 2022-12-15 Bloomsbury Beasts and British Modernist Literature reveals how the Bloomsbury group's fascination with beasts from pests to pets tiny insects to big game became an integral part of their critique of modernity and conceptualisation of more than human worlds Through a series of close readings it argues that for Leonard Woolf David Garnett Virginia Woolf and E M Forster profound shifts in interspecies relations were intimately connected to questions of imperialism race gender sexuality and technology Whether in their hunting narratives zoo fictions canine biographies or un entomological aesthetics these writers repeatedly test the boundaries between and imagine transformations of the human and nonhuman by insisting that we attend to the material contexts in which they meet In demonstrating this the book enriches our understanding of British modernism while intervening in debates on the cultural significance of animality from the turn of the twentieth century to the Second World War
