Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi,2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume's 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation. The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism. Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe, Nadine Gordimer, George Lamming, Jamaica Kincaid, V. S. Naipaul, Zee Wicomb, J. M. Coetzee and many others. Doris Lessing and Sufi Equilibrium S. Fahim, 1994-07-12. The purpose of this study is to examine the rationale of Doris Lessing's development from Classical Realism to mysticism and forms of science fiction and to consider the unifying motifs that appear throughout her novels in her consistent search for Sufi Equilibrium. The four novels selected in this study represent significant stages in Lessing's work. Chapter one focuses on The Grass is Singing which represents the author's early traditionally realistic writing to show how far the preoccupations of Lessing's later novels find expression in this early work. Chapter two studies The Golden Notebook which marks a turning point in formal structure in Lessing's canon and is selected as evidence of her interest in Sufism at that early stage. Chapter three concentrates on the study of The Memoirs of a Survivor which has elicited a comparatively limited amount of criticism but which proves to be a major achievement when brought into line with Sufi methods of writing. Chapter four considers Lessing's science fiction series Canopus in Argos tracing sources from Oriental literature a key which unlocks many areas of obscurity. The Southern African Impossible Book Quiz Book Robin Malan, 2005. The author a fanatical motor sport enthusiast has spent seventeen years writing and compiling this work which confirms Kyalami as synonymous with motor racing in South Africa. Doris Lessing Harold Bloom, 2003. Essays of critical interpretation portray views of Doris Lessing's work including The Golden Notebook, Marriages and The Grass is Singing.

FUTURE EDUCATION IN TEACHING AND LEARNING Dr. P. Muthukumar, Dr. A.R.S. Kannan, Dr. K. Malini, This edited book focuses on the possible education responses that can be implemented in future education. The impact of technology on learning and teaching is often at the forefront of demands particularly from those who dictate the funding available to pay for technology within education systems. This is not an unreasonable request and there is merit in impact of multidisciplinary approach will reshape the future of education to provide efficient learning teaching experiences and assessments. Furthermore the book discusses multidisciplinary and psychology of teaching and learning approaches e.g. Cognitive metacognitive and English language learning that can be applied in this rapid moving multidisciplinary education. Particularly new multidisciplinary approach learning to provide effective learning experience resulting in better learning outcomes not only their own learning but other also. Future education should not solely focus on technology and psychology but also on the applied multidisciplinary approach as well as the human touch to maintain authentic and effective learning experience. The book also discusses how teaching and learning can be intended to meet the growing tendency of future education in multidisciplinary. This book aims to establish itself through the published books textbooks and research as a medium to provide guidelines and recommendations for different stakeholders including policy makers educational designers teachers and students on how to enhance both learning and teaching experiences in the future for better learning outcomes as well as how to maintain in future education It also provides one step ahead towards future education to prepare different stakeholders for the rapid evolution of education even in times of critical situations A Brief History of English Literature

Literature John Peck, Martin Coyle, 2017-07-06 This new edition of an established text provides a succinct and up to date historical overview of the story of English literature Focusing on how writing both reflects and challenges the periods in which it is produced John Peck and Martin Coyle combine close readings of key texts with recent critical thinking on the interaction of literary works and culture Providing a lively introductory guide to English literature from Beowulf to the present day the authors write in their characteristically lucid and accessible style A true masterpiece of clarity and compression this is essential reading for undergraduate students coming across the vast areas of English literature for the first time and looking for a way of making critical sense of the texts being studied In addition the concise nature and narrative structure of this book makes it excellent reading for general readers New to this Edition Revised chapter on twentieth century literature Complete new chapter on twenty first century literature Updated Chronology and Further Reading section The Novels of Doris Lessing Paul Schlueter, 1973 Considered by many critics to be Britain's most important woman novelist Doris Lessing warrants major attention Her novels increasingly bring into question what it means to be an emancipated woman in a complex and male dominated society especially a woman involved with politics with writing with love and sex a woman who frankly admits her sexuality Schlueter's new book is the only in depth study of all the Lessing novels to date and the first full length study of her major themes The insights provided in this work will enable readers to understand and appreciate Doris Lessing's perception and interpretation of human experience in this complex chaotic conformist world An Extended Literary Evocation of South Africa: Interpreting and Neo-Humanism in Doris Lessing's Fiction

Abortion Ecologies in Southern African Fiction Caitlin E. Stobie, 2023-01-12 Focusing on texts from the late 1970s to the 1990s which document both changing attitudes to terminations of pregnancy and dramatic environmental medical and socio political developments during southern Africa's liberation struggles this book examines how four writers from Botswana South Africa and Zimbabwe address the ethics of abortion and reproductive choice Viewing recent fiction through the lens of new materialist theory which challenges conventional individual based notions of human rights by asserting that all matter holds agency this book argues that southern African women writers anticipate and exceed current feminist revivals of materialist thought Not only do the authors question contemporary discourse framing abortion as either a confirmation of a woman's right to choose or an unethical termination of human life but they challenge conventional understandings of development growth and time Through close readings of both literal gestation in the selected texts and the metaphorical reproduction of the post colonial nation this study advances the concept of reproductive agency creating a range of queer ecocritical alternatives to tropes such as those of the Mother Country Mother Africa or the birth of a nation This study situates abortion narratives by Wilma Stockenström translated by J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb Yvonne Vera and Bessie Head alongside contemporary postcolonial feminist theories melding traditional beliefs with materialist views to reconsider the future of reproductive health matters in southern Africa Merging queer ecocritical perspectives from materialism and postcolonialism this study will appeal to students and researchers in the medical humanities new materialisms and postcolonial studies
