Grasshopper Dreaming Reflections On Killing And Loving:

Grasshopper Dreaming Jeffrey A. Lockwood, 2002 Grasshopper Dreaming is a collection of first person musings about the ethical and philosophical implications of the author's work as an entomologist who specializes in grasshoppers and pest control Lockwood deftly explores the moral implications of his work and speculates on about the actual relationship between pests and humanity if we consider all living creatures to have value in and of themselves regardless of their usefulness or inconvenience for us The author self described as a hired assassin for agriculture offers readers a rich account of the sometimes painful often odd occasionally funny and invariably complex realizations that come out of balancing a religious perspective with the practices of modern science and technology Based on fifteen years of work the essays in this book represent the rare and compelling integration of understanding of nature with the perspective of a world class ecologist and struggling mystic

The Landscape of Home Jeff Lee, John Calderazzo, Sue Ellen Campbell, David Waag, 2006 An anthology of some of the most evocative writing focusing on our vast natural heritage along with pieces that address pressing land issues facing the West This collection not only paints a vivid portrait of life in the Rocky Mountains it also presents some of the finest nonfiction writing to be found in America today This is a perfect selection that is bound to sink reader's roots deeper in the landscape of home

Engaging Ideas John C. Bean, Dan Melzer, 2021-06-03 Use your course's big ideas to accelerate students' growth as writers and critical thinkers The newly revised third edition of Engaging Ideas delivers a step by step guide for designing writing assignments and critical thinking activities that engage students with important subject matter questions This new edition of the celebrated book now written by the co-author team of Bean and Melzer uses leading and current research and theory to help you link active learning pedagogy to your courses' subject matter You'll learn how to Design formal and informal writing assignments that guide students toward thinking like experts in your discipline Use time saving strategies for coaching the writing process and handling the paper load including alternatives to traditional grading such as portfolio assessment and contract grading Help students use self assessment and peer response to improve their work Develop better ways than the traditional research paper to teach undergraduate reading and research Integrate social media multimodal genres and digital technology into the classroom to promote active learning This book demonstrates how writing can easily be integrated with other critical thinking activities such as inquiry discussions simulation games classroom debates and interactive lectures The reward of this book is watching students come to class better prepared more vested in the questions your course investigates more apt to study purposefully and more likely to submit high quality work Perfect for higher education faculty and curriculum designers across all disciplines Engaging Ideas will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students in higher education

The Infested Mind Jeffrey Lockwood, 2013-12 Examines the unique psychological attitude of human beings toward insects and discusses why people are scared disgusted or enthralled by them

Animal Welfare Science, Husbandry and Ethics: The Evolving Story of Our Relationship with Farm Animals Mark

Fisher,2018-12-14 Animal Welfare has been a subject of intellectual and academic study for a long time In the past philosophers thought leaders and scientists have contributed to the debate and seismic changes such as the advent of post war industrial farming have brought about changes in attitudes to the way animals are farmed Animal welfare as a science and philosophy can be understood as a trajectory through history of our understanding of our relationship with animals enhanced in recent years through studies into animal behaviour and cognition and societal changes in the way we view animals Animal Welfare Science Husbandry and Ethics charts the history of our understanding of farm animal welfare throughout time the human use of animals in different eras and farming in different systems seeing the emergence of intensification and science and technology The book examines the human non human animal relationship with a philosophical approach examining the connections and disconnections between animals and people and charts the beliefs and motives of different philosophers theories and movements in animal welfare from early history to the present The book also looks at our current animal welfare systems examining what is working and what is not the pathway to how we got here and looks at future considerations for animal welfare putting forward the author s thoughts on achieving a sustainable animal welfare model Intended for animal welfare students teachers researchers and academic libraries Animal Welfare Science Husbandry and Ethics introduces a complex subject requiring an understanding of the underlying factors and drivers of human behaviour and farming systems Only by acknowledging the complexity and understanding the factors contributing to that complexity can we hope to develop an equitable and sustainable animal welfare for the future 5m Books Locust Jeffrey A. Lockwood,2009-04-28 Throughout the nineteenth century swarms of locusts regularly swept across the continent turning noon into dusk demolishing farm communities and bringing trains to a halt as the crushed bodies of insects greased the rails In 1876 the U S Congress declared the locust the single greatest impediment to the settlement of the country From the Dakotas to Texas from California to Iowa the swarms pushed thousands of settlers to the brink of starvation prompting the federal government to enlist some of the greatest scientific minds of the day and thereby jumpstarting the fledgling science of entomology Over the next few decades the Rocky Mountain locust suddenly and mysteriously vanished A century later Jeffrey Lockwood set out to discover why Unconvinced by the reigning theories he searched for new evidence in musty books crumbling maps and crevassed glaciers eventually piecing together the elusive answer A group of early settlers unwittingly destroyed the locust s sanctuaries just as the insect was experiencing a natural population crash Drawing on historical accounts and modern science Locust brings to life the cultural economic and political forces at work in America in the late nineteenth century even as it solves one of the greatest ecological mysteries of our time The Thou of Nature Donald A. Crosby,2012-12-27 Humans share the earth with nonhuman animals who are also capable of conscious experience and awareness Arguing that we should develop an I thou not an I it relationship with other sentient beings Donald A Crosby adds a new perspective to the current debates on human animal relations and animal rights that of religious naturalism Religion of

Nature holds that the natural world is the only world and that there is no supernatural animus or law behind it From this vantage point our fellow thous are entitled to more than merely moral treatment protection and enhancement of their continuing well being deserves to be a central focus of religious reverence care and commitment as well A set of presumptive natural rights for nonhuman animals is proposed and conflicts in applying these rights are acknowledged and considered A wide range of situations involving humans and nonhuman animals are discussed including hunting and fishing eating and wearing circuses rodeos zoos and aquariums scientific experimentation and the threats of human technology and population growth

Mosquito Trails Alex M. Nading, 2014-08-22 Dengue fever is the world's most prevalent mosquito borne illness but Alex Nading argues that people in dengue endemic communities do not always view humans and mosquitoes as mortal enemies Drawing on two years of ethnographic research in urban Nicaragua and challenging current global health approaches to animal borne illness Mosquito Trails tells the story of a group of community health workers who struggle to come to terms with dengue epidemics amid poverty political change and economic upheaval Blending theory from medical anthropology political ecology and science and technology studies Nading develops the concept of the politics of entanglement to describe how Nicaraguans strive to remain alive to the world around them despite global health strategies that seek to insulate them from their environments This innovative ethnography illustrates the continued significance of local environmental histories politics and household dynamics to the making and unmaking of a global pandemic

Prairie Soul Jeffrey Alan Lockwood, 2004 A collection of engaging and provocative essays Prairie Soul extends the transcendental tradition of writers like Aldo Leopold and Annie Dillard Entomologist and nature writer Jeffrey Lockwood writes about humans and insects from the grasslands of Wyoming where he has lived and worked for almost two decades Like Ed Abbey's Southwestern desert or Wendell Berry's rural Kentucky Lockwood's home environment and study of grasshoppers form an interesting starting point for consideration of universal concerns and connections with the world at large Lockwood thoughtfully examines Spirituality and the place of religion in science The soulful connection between human beings and the places they live Grasslands and ecology The environment as common ground that transcends cultural and political boundaries Prairie Soul is the story of one man's evocative journey of ecological moral and spiritual discovery unfolding on the high plains of Wyoming and stretching to the grasslands of France and central Asia Possessing an extraordinary sense of harmony with these often forbidding and unforgiving landscapes Lockwood's essays are paradoxical revelations blending the deeply familiar with the profoundly exotic

The Management of Insects in Recreation and Tourism Raynald Harvey Lemelin, 2013 An insight into the booming industry of insect leisure and tourism using case studies and examples from around the world

Centering Animals in Latin American History Martha Few, Zeb Tortorici, 2013-06-07 Centering Animals in Latin American History writes animals back into the history of colonial and postcolonial Latin America This collection reveals how interactions between humans and other animals have significantly shaped narratives of Latin American histories and cultures The contributors work through the methodological implications of centering animals within historical narratives seeking to include nonhuman animals as social actors in the histories of Mexico Guatemala the Dominican Republic Puerto Rico Cuba Chile Brazil Peru and Argentina The essays discuss topics ranging from canine baptisms weddings and funerals in Bourbon Mexico to imported monkeys used in medical experimentation in Puerto Rico Some contributors examine the role of animals in colonization efforts Others explore the relationship between animals medicine and health Finally essays on the postcolonial period focus on the politics of hunting the commodification of animals and animal parts the protection of animals and the environment and political symbolism Contributors Neel Ahuja Lauren Derby Regina Horta Duarte Martha Few Erica Fudge Le n Garc a Garagarza Reinaldo Funes Monzote Heather L McCrea John Soluri Zeb Tortorici Adam Warren Neil L Whitehead
