Economics And Management Of Thai Fisheries:

The Economics and Management of Thai Marine Fisheries Todor Panaotov, Songpol Jetanavanich, 1987-01-01 Status and Management of Tropical Coastal Fisheries in Asia Geronimo Silvestre, Daniel Pauly, 1997 Economic Management of Marine Living Resources David Whitmarsh, 2013-10-18 This textbook has two main objectives Firstly it outlines the problems associated with the management and conservation of marine living resources with particular attention given to the twin concepts of economic value and sustainability It demonstrates the contribution that economics can make to understanding these problems as well as helping to frame policies to mitigate them Secondly it looks in detail at the key methods that may be used to collect and analyse socio economic data oriented towards the information needs of decision makers and stakeholders involved in fisheries management Together these two objectives address the question how does society make the best use of its marine living resources Handbook on the Economics and Management of Sustainable Oceans Paulo A.L.D. Nunes, Lisa Emelia Svensson, Anil Markandya, 2017-02-24 The trans disciplinary thematic areas of oceans management and policy require stocktaking of the state of knowledge on ecosystem services being derived from coastal and marine areas Recently adopted Sustainable Development Goals SDGs especially Goals 14 and 15 explicitly focus on this This Handbook brings together a carefully chosen set of world class contributions from ecology economics and other development science and attempts to provide policy relevant scientific information on ecosystem services from marine and coastal ecosystems nuances of economic valuation relevant legal and sociological response policies for effective management of marine areas for enhanced human well being The contributors focus on the possible nexus of science society and science policy with the objective of informing on decision makers of the governmental agencies business and industry and civil society in general with respect to sustainable management of Oceans The Economics and Management of World Fisheries Trond Bjørndal, Gordon Munro, 2012-10-25 Capture fisheries make contributions to the world economy that are below their potential Many of the world s capture fishery resources have been overexploited with some facing collapse This book presents an overview of the current economics of capture fisheries and examines how they can achieve their full economic potential Report of the International Workshop on the Implementation of International Fisheries Instruments and Factors of Unsustainability and Overexploitation in Fisheries FAO/Japan Government Cooperative Programme, 2004-01-01 The workshop referred closely to the results of a first workshop held in Bangkok in 2002 The International Workshop on Factors Contributing to Unsustainability and Overexploitation in Fisheries but aimed more specifically at answering the following three major questions What are the major obstacles to the implementation of major legal instruments What are the main lessons learned and the possible paths to solutions for improved implementation What are the possible gaps that may exist in these instruments to guide the international community in improving the management of marine fisheries The workshop was based on a review of eleven case studies each relating to one of the following categories of fishery large volume small pelagics tuna and tuna like species large volume demersals and coastal fisheries This publication contains the report of the Workshop discussion papers containing case studies and notes submitted by participants The document and in particular the conclusions adopted by workshop participants will serve as a basis for further analytical work aimed at improved fisheries management and a more effective implementation of major international fisheries instruments Marine Fisheries Review ,1988 The Closing of the Frontier John G. Butcher,2022-07-18 This book is the first on the history of the marine fisheries of Southeast Asia It takes as its central theme the movement of fisheries into new fishing grounds particularly the diverse ecosystems that make up the seas of Southeast Asia This process accelerated between the 1950s and 1970s in what the author calls the great fish race Catches soared as the population of the region grew demand from Japan and North America for shrimps and tuna increased and fishers adopted more efficient ways of locating catching and preserving fish But the great fish race soon brought about the severe depletion of one fish population after another while pollution and the destruction of mangroves and coral reefs degraded fish habitats Today the relentless movement into new fishing grounds has come to an end for there are no new fishing grounds to exploit The frontier of fisheries has closed The challenge now is to exploit the seas in ways that preserve the diversity of marine life while providing the people of the region with a source of food long into the future Strategies and Options for Increasing and Sustaining Fisheries and Aquaculture Production to Benefit Poorer Households in Asia ,2008 Guidelines on the Collection of Demographic and Socio-economic Information on Fishing Communities for Use in Coastal and Aquatic Resources Management Lolita V. Villareal,Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2004-01-01 These guidelines specify key indicators for the identification of demographic issues in coastal area management and for monitoring the impact of management measures on the socio economic well being of coastal and fishing communities The guidelines also identify data sources and methods for the collection of data Case studies on the use of demographic data in coastal area management in Italy and the United States of America and a summary of the proceedings of a regional workshop on the use of demographic data in coastal area management in the Philippines and other Southeast and South Asian countries provide practical examples of how demographic indicators are used Assessment, management and future directions for coastal fisheries in Asian countries Silvestre, G. et al,2003-12-08 In Asia the fisheries sector is important in terms of food security livelihoods and foreign exchange earnings However as in many parts of the world there are signs that capture fisheries are fully exploited or overfished Management of fisheries in the region is often hampered by lack of information on the status of fisheries in terms of biological social economic policy and governance aspects This regional project documents an alarming decline on coastal fishery resources based on historic research surveys in South and Southeast Asia Socio economic analyses and policy reviews highlight the importance of the fisheries sector but also the challenges facing it Potential interventions to improve fisheries management in the countries are outlined and defined with environmental socioeconomic and institutional objectives

Shotton,2000 The session was closed with papers that provided a prognosis on the future development of property rights in fisheries management Thus the conference papers addressed the theory and application of property Assessment of the sustainability of fishing technologies and operations in Thailand: Options for innovation Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2023-11-06 To make small scale fisheries in Thailand more sustainable fishers need to invest in responsible fishing operations and technologies reduce overfishing contribute to fisheries management and implement climate change adaptation measures The Southeast Asian Fisheries Development Center and FAO carried out an assessment of the sustainability of currently used fishing technologies and operations in Thailand to identify options for innovation and improvements This circular provides information on the current technological status of the Thai fishing fleets the costs of fishing operations the management of the main fisheries and on the status of the main marine fisheries resources targeted by the various fishing fleets Options for introducing technological innovations for fishing vessels include the reconfiguration of the hull by installing a bulbous bow stabilizing fins duct propellers and wave resistance reduction measures On board equipment innovations identified include hydraulic hauling systems power blocks refrigeration systems fuel flow monitoring systems solar panels and LED lights To improve safety vessel owners are recommended to provide lifesaving equipment radio communications and firefighting equipment first aid kits cooking and sanitation facilities emergency stops on winches and hauling devices lightning conductors and distress signal devices Fishing gear innovations such as circle hooks low resistance gears turtle excluder devices juvenile and trash excluder devices and fish aggregating devices are also important innovations for fishing vessel owners to consider This circular gives fishing vessel owners and financial service providers in Thailand insights in the innovations available to make better informed fisheries investment decisions Socio-economics of trawl fisheries in Southeast Asia and Papua New Guinea Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-06-06 These studies on the role of trawl fisheries for food security and the potential impacts of management measures reveal major differences across countries in fishing practices including crew demographics and income sharing arrangements

Administration and Conflict Management in Japanese Coastal Fisheries Kenneth Ruddle,1987-01-01 Sea tenure in Japanese coastal fisheries is a complex subject that is little known in the West It involves time honoured customary procedures for management and conflict resolution which may have been incorporated into modern legislation The Introduction reviews selected aspects of the general behavioural context within which the administration of Japanese fisheries and the resolution of conflicts should be viewed Since the degree of continuity with traditional management practises is an outstanding characteristic Chapter 1 describes and provides examples of the historical antecedents of the present situation Present day formal administration is described in Chapter 2 Systems of coastal sea tenure reflect an intimate interplay of formal government regulations and informal customary elements The latter are commonly of greater day to day importance than the former In Chapters 3 and 4 this is examined through the problems of conflict management and resolution proceeding from the personal and small scale level to the impersonal prefectural and national levels

Papers Presented at the Symposium on the Exploitation and Management of Marine Fishery Resources in Southeast Asia, Darwin, Australia, 16-19 February 1987 FAO Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific, 1987 The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson, Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen, Poul Degnbol, 2013-03-09 For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management
