Theory and Educational Research Jean Anyon, 2008-08-18 Throughout U S history education policies practices and politics have been described and tested to yield empirical data often with little attempt to place findings in a larger theoretical infrastructure that could provide them with increased explanatory critical or even liberatory power This collection fills that void by taking the point of view that neither research nor theory alone is adequate to the task of social explanation. Instead, Jean Anyon and her collaborators argue that they imbricate and instantiate one another, forming and informing each other as the inquiry process unfolds. Handbook of Employment Discrimination Research Laura Beth Nielsen, Robert L. Nelson, 2006-01-01

There is much to understand about employment discrimination law as a social system. What drives the growing trend toward litigation? To what extent does discrimination persist, and why does it vary by organizational and market context? How do different groups perceive discrimination, and what, if anything, do they do about it? How do employers respond to discrimination law? What is the effect of broader political and legal currents? What is the relationship between anti-discrimination law and social inequality? This book presents answers from a distinguished group of scholars and social scientists offering a broad reconsideration of employment discrimination and its treatment in law. 2022 Global food policy report: Climate change and food systems International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI), 2022-05-12
