Literacy as a Support for Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching and Learning Haas, Leslie, Tussey, Jill T., 2022-05-13 All students deserve inclusive and engaging learning experiences Opportunities for student growth and environments that honor culture and language are essential in a modern society that promotes inclusivity Thoughtful disciplinary literacy practices offer embedded opportunities across grade levels and content areas to support inclusive classroom cultures Therefore the value of culturally and linguistically responsive pedagogy supported through literacy experiences should not be underestimated and should become a priority within K 12 education Disciplinary Literacy as a

Support for Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching and Learning develops a conceptual framework and pedagogical support for disciplinary literacy practices related to culturally and linguistically responsive teaching and learning. It presents a variety of research and practice protocols supporting student success through explored connections between disciplinary literacy and inclusive pedagogical practices. Covering topics such as cultural awareness, racialized text, and gender identity development, this premier reference source is an indispensable resource for pre-service teachers, educators of K-12 and higher education, educational administration, government officials, curriculum directors, literacy professionals, professional development coordinators, teacher preparation programs, libraries, researchers, and academicians.

Encyclopedia of International Development Tim Forsyth, 2018-10-24. International development is now a major global activity and the focus of the rapidly growing academic discipline of development studies. The Encyclopedia of International Development provides definitions and discussions of the key concepts, controversies, and actors associated with international development for a readership of development workers, teachers, and students. With 600 entries ranging in length from shorter factual studies to more in-depth essays, a comprehensive system of cross-references, and a full index, it is the most definitive guide to international development yet published. Development is more than a simple increase in a country's wealth and living conditions. It also implies increasing people's choices and freedoms; it is change that is inclusive and empowering. Development theory and practice has important applications to questions of economic growth, trade, governance, education, healthcare, gender rights, and environmental protection, and it involves issues such as international aid, peacekeeping, famine relief, and strategies against HIV/AIDS. The Encyclopedia treats these topics and many more and provides critical analyses of important actors within development, such as the United Nations and World Bank, non-governmental organizations, and corporations. Contributors to this volume reflect the multidisciplinary and international nature of the subject. They come from social science disciplines such as economics, international studies, political science, and anthropology, and from specialties such as medicine. This Encyclopedia provides crucial information for universities, students, and professional organizations involved with international development and those interested in related topics such as international studies or other studies of social and economic change today.

CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES ON NEOLIBERAL GLOBALIZATION, DEVELOPMENT AND EDUCATION IN AFRICA AND ASIA Dip Kapoor, 2011-10-30. This interdisciplinary collection of readings pertaining to schooling, higher education, adult and community development, education, indigenous education, and social movement learning in the African and Asian regions is a contribution to anti-critical colonial scholarship in comparative international education and the sociology of education. The political and analytical standpoint that weaves through the text considers the imbrications of the colonial and imperial projects currently referenced as neoliberal globalization, globalization of capitalism, and development, compulsory Eurocentric modernization, and their attendant and mutual implications for education, social reproduction, and hegemony. Counter anti-hegemonic and indigenous education projects and pre existing alternatives are registered in the critique At last a remarkable collection of essays written by a range of scholars mostly originating from Asia and Africa demonstrating with admirable clarity how policies and practices of neo liberal globalization in those regions cannot be adequately understood without appreciating how they are a product of the exploitative histories of colonialism Written with conceptual sophistication personal knowledge and deep conviction these essays represent a major scholarly intervention in contemporary debates about globalization and education Fazal Rizvi Professor Graduate School of Education University of Melbourne Australia Professor Emeritus University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign USA This intriguing and provocative volume deals with crucial intersections between global forces and national initiatives with respect to the most crucial agency of transformation education The cumulative efforts of this assembly of committed intellectuals reveal the forces that retard progress in the two largest continents and offers compelling suggestions on how to redefine the boundaries of power the contents of knowledge and the use of critical thinking to create alternative spaces of autonomy freedom liberation and empowerment Toyin Falola University Distinguished Professor Frances Higginbotham Nalle Centennial Professor University of Texas at Austin This volume well crafted by Dip Kapoor one of the finest scholars in the postcolonial education field brings together writers who examine processes of learning and education more broadly within the context of the dominant discourses of globalisation and development They unveil the underlying neocolonial neoliberal tenets of these processes strongly echoing what Hardt and Negri would call Empire In short another important reading resource provided by Dip Kapoor and colleagues Peter Mayo Professor Chair Educational Studies University of Malta Finally a much awaited intervention on neoliberal globalization from Asian and African perspectives This book makes a compelling case for a historically grounded regionally specific analysis of globalization The contributions are extraordinary for their textured and embedded analysis of neoliberal globalization One of those rare books that deserve to be read across the social sciences Sangeeta Kamat Associate Professor International Education University of Massachusetts Amherst USA Social Reproduction, Solidarity Economy, Feminisms and Democracy Christine Verschuur, Isabelle Guérin, Isabelle Hillenkamp, 2021-09-06 This book contributes to timely debates on the conditions of resistance and changes with the aim to offer a ray of hope in times of ecological economic social and democracy crisis worldwide In the context of the crisis of social reproduction impoverishment and growing inequalities myriads of women led grass root initiatives are bubbling up They reorganize social reproduction redefine the meaning of work and value explore new ways of doing economics and politics construct solidarity driven social relationships and combat their subordination In doing so these initiatives challenge the patriarchal financialized and dehumanizing capitalist system and offer transformative sustainable paths for feminist social change Drawing on fine grained ethnographies in Latin America and India this book sheds light on women s daily struggles their difficulties contradictions fragilities and also their successes and achievements This book seeks to inspire activists researchers and policy makers in the field of feminism and solidarity economy to contribute to amplifying the movement which rests on the articulation of the various initiatives A Global Perspective on Women in Leadership and Work-Family Integration Kerri Cissna-Heath, Margaret J. Weber, 2020-01-17 There are countless books on the market that address the personal challenges and institutional barriers that ambitious female leaders face in the United States This volume furthers the conversation by comparing the experiences of women in leadership with regards to work life balance from eight different countries around the globe Collecting stories from women in the United States Costa Rica India Iran Nigeria Norway Sri Lanka and Uganda this volume provides insights into the issues women face globally regarding leadership and work family integration It offers a variety of perspectives from around the world and highlights a variety of cultural norms regarding work and family integration Complex Systems Theory and Development Practice Samir Rihani, 2002 Ranging over a wide terrain of social political and economic thinking and specific country experiences the author explains the key concepts in complex systems theory and their possible applications in development practice He examines various development issues and institutions in the light of what he sees as the limitations of rigid linear thinking in an essentially fluid non linear world Little wonder he concludes that the results of half a century of development effort have been so disappointing BOOK JACKET Learning from Comparing: new directions in comparative education research Robin Alexander, Marilyn Osborn, David Phillips, 2000-01-01 Learning from Comparing is a major two volume study which reassesses the contribution of comparative educational research and theory to our understanding of contemporary educational problems and to our capacity to solve them At a time when educational research is under attack on the grounds of bias and irrelevance and under pressure to address only those questions which are acceptable politically as good a definition of bias as any this is a serious attempt to bridge the worlds of research policy and practice The editors have put together a collection in terms of both perspective and nationality which ensures contrasting viewpoints on each topic
