Gender Perceptions And Development In Africa:

Gender Perceptions and Development in Africa Mary Ebum Modupe Kolawole,1998 Comprises 15 papers which explore how gender perceptions shape the lives of African women Examines gender myths and archetypes of gender in oral and written literature and looks at women s autobiographical writing and the socio cultural economic and environmental determinants of African women s poverty and disempowerment Gender and Development in Africa and Its Diaspora Akinloyè Òjó,Ibigbolade S. Aderibigbe,Felisters Jepchirchir Kiprono,2018-09-19 This book considers how the establishment and or improvement of gender equality impacts on the social economic religious cultural environmental and political developments of human societies in Africa and its Diaspora An interdisciplinary team of contributors examine the role of gender in development against the background of Africa s convoluted and arduous history of state formation slavery colonialism post independence nation building and poverty Each chapter highlights and stimulates further discussion on the struggles that many African and African Diaspora societies grapple with in the perplexing issue of gender and development concentrating on gains that have been made and the challenges yet to be surmounted Political Economy of Gender and Development in Africa Bhabani Shankar Nayak,2023-01-01 This book explores the issues and challenges of gender and development in Africa The current needs of women in Africa are connected with the possible future emancipation of women from institutions and processes that perpetuate poverty to overcome gendered development processes and patriarchal economic policies at work The role of legal political cultural religious and economic institutions in development are examined to highlight marginalisation within uneven development processes embedded with capitalism Broader development issues such as property rights food security accessibility of resources and environmental change are also discussed This book aims to reimagine African development from an issue based perspective that moves beyond gender stereotypes and narrow silo of patriarchal development The volume is relevant to students and researchers interested in the political economy development and feminist economics Gender, Sport and Development in Africa Jimoh Shehu,2010 Drawing on various theories and cross cultural data the contributors to this volume highlight the various ways in which sport norms policies practices and representations pervasively interface with gender and other socially constructed categories of difference They argue that sport is not only a site of competition and physical recreation but also a crossroad where features of modern society such as hegemony identities democracy technology development and master statuses intertwine and bifurcate As they point out in many ways sport production reproduction distribution and consumption are relational spatial and contextual and therefore do not pay off for men women and other social groups equally The authors draw attention to the structure and scope of efforts needed to transform the exclusionary and gendered nature of sport processes to make them adequate to the task of engendering Africa s development Practices, Perceptions and Prospects for Climate Change Education in Africa Marcellus Forh Mbah,Petra Molthan-Hill,Ernest L. Molua,2025-04-08 This open access book presents peer reviewed chapters that introduce the subject of climate change within formal and informal sectors of education in Africa as key to building the capacity of current and future generations to address the most pressing global issue An insight into existing practices perceptions and prospects for climate change education in Africa can bring to light relevant frameworks that can support a climate resilient future in the continent Among others the book contends that there is a need to rethink current practices of climate change education in the continent by optimizing Indigenous knowledge systems and context relevant pedagogies as important strategies Governments civil society and other stakeholders in Africa can draw on the rich insights captured in this book as they consider feasible approaches to resolve the current climate crisis Gender Equality and Economic Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Ms. Lisa L Kolovich, Ms. Monique Newiak, 2024-04-11 Efforts to achieve gender equality will not only help sub Saharan Africa revive its inclusive growth engine but also will ensure progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals and help address the main disruptive challenges of this century This book explores the progress made in gender equality in the region highlighting both the challenges and successes in areas such as legal reforms education health gender based violence harmful practices such as child marriage and financial inclusion It takes stock of initiatives towards integrating gender into core macroeconomic and structural reforms such as through implementing gender budgeting and examines the role that fiscal and other policies can play in closing gender gaps when they are mindful of distributional impacts Drawing from extensive research across different institutions the book underscores the macroeconomic significance of gender equality emphasizing its potential to drive GDP growth enhance economic stability reduce income inequality and foster sustainable development It lays out how gender gaps interact with emerging challenges such as digitalization and explores the impact of global megatrends such as climate change on gender inequality offering strategies for inclusive policy responses including in a context where women and girls are still carrying a disproportionate care burden that is often not captured in economic measurement The book aims to serve as a roadmap for policymakers stakeholders and advocates seeking to harness the untapped potential of gender equality for its own sake and for the region s inclusive sustainable and green development It calls for concerted efforts to dismantle structural barriers transform social norms and prioritize gender responsive policies to unlock the full economic potential of sub Saharan Africa Gender and Development in the Middle East and North Africa World Bank, 2004 Religion, Gender, and Sustainable Development in East and Southern Africa Tobias Marevesa, Nelly Mwale, Excellent Chireshe, Ezra Chitando, Sonene Nyawo, 2025-02-19 This volume brings to the fore the intersections of religion gender and sustainable development in 21st century Africa from an interdisciplinary perspective The volume explores and presents a coherent research supported argument for the role of religion in promoting gender justice and sustainable development Contributing authors explicate how the nexus between religion and gender can be utilized as the backdrop for achieving sustainable development in Africa focusing on Sustainable Development Goal SDG 5 Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls Chapters in this volume focus on a variety of topics including how African Traditional Religions Christianity mainline AICs Pentecostalism Islam Rastafari etc are being used to promote SDG 5 in African countries

Non-governmental Organizations (NGOs) and Sustainable Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Robert A. Dibie, 2008-01-01 Written to provide guidance for civil society organizations and their client groups this book examines the role of NGOs in the development processes on the African continent It raises questions about the influence of funding agencies over the NGOs they support and explores the challenges NGOs face The book argues that increased knowledge and cooperation on all parts is essential to achieve sustainable development This book also concludes that sustainable development activities are not beneficial to every community in Africa Taking into consideration globalization and studies of sub Saharan countries this book concludes that new models of leadership are necessary for the success of Africa and NGOs are a vital part of achieving that development

Tradition, Culture and Development in Africa Ambe J. Njoh, 2006 By linking culture and tradition with socio economic development this book breaks new ground in the discourse on development It highlights the differences between Euro centric and African culture where concepts such as capital accumulation entrepreneurial attitudes and material wealth are not top priority In doing so it dispels popular myths stereotypes and distortions as well as discounting misleading accounts about major aspects of African culture and traditional practices

Gender Roles and Child Nutrition in Livestock Production Systems in Developing Countries F. K. Tangka, 1999-01-01 Based on a review of the literature examines the gender division of labour and access to resources and benefits in smallholder livestock production systems and investigates the impact of livestock ownership and technology use on child nutrition Presents two case studies which show how gender concerns are included in research to improve smallholder livestock systems

Gender, Science and Technology: Perspectives from Africa Catherine Wawasi Kitetu, 2008 This sixth volume of the CODESRIA Gender Series is a collection of discourses perspectives practices and policies on the role of the female gender in science and technology particularly in the African context Although widely advocated as the indisputable foundation for political and economic power in the modern world science and technology remains marked by various layers and dimensions of gender inequality that work to the disadvantage of girls and women Despite the fact that a lot of awareness has been created and gender issues are now more readily acknowledged by various development initiatives in Africa participation in science and technology still remains a hurdle as far as girls and women are concerned A common theme that runs through the book is how feminine identities ideologies of domesticity and gender stereotypes and the inadequacy or lack of clear policies facilitate the invisibility of women in science and technology This notwithstanding women have never ceased devising clever and ingenious ways that would enable them to master nature from the margins The book provides a window onto the current state of female participation in science and technology in Africa along with an analysis of the historical backgrounds current educational and professional contexts and prospects for the future While it is evident that more research needs to be done with more groups in different regions this volume brings together a rich and inspiring collection of qualitative insights on gender science and technology in Africa The CODESRIA Gender Series acknowledges the need to challenge the masculinities underpinning the structures of repression that target women The series aims to keep alive and nourish African social science research with insightful research and debates that challenge conventional wisdom structures and ideologies that are narrowly informed by caricatures of gender realities It strives to showcase the best in African gender research and provide a platform for emerging new talents to flower

Gender and National Development Nkem Fab-Ukozor, Onyebuchi Chima Alexander, 2023-06-30 This book serves to shed a light on the position of women in media and how these institutions shape the women s contributions to national development The authors argue that women are unsung heroes driving the growth of nations Nevertheless their stories are seldom told they are often stereotyped and marginalized within society This form of discrimination serves to take away the voices of women in all social stratas especially in the developing nations of Africa It is little wonder that there is gender inequality gender bias and gender injustice in society This book highlights literature which may be used to actualize gender equality and social justice for women By creating a discussion around gender society will begin to understand the value and importance of women in engineering development Women are vital to social change

Managing Natural Resources for Development in Africa Washington Odongo Ochola, P. C. Sanginga, Isaac Bekalo, 2010 The complex and dynamic interlinks between natural resource management NRM and development have long been recognized by national and international research and development organizations and have generated voluminous literature However much of what is available in the form of university course books practical learning manuals and reference materials in NRM is based on experiences from outside Africa Managing Natural Resources for Development in Africa A Resource Book provides an understanding of the various levels at which NRM issues occur and are being addressed scientifically economically socially and politically The book s nine chapters present state of the art perspectives within a holistic African context The book systematically navigates the tricky landscape of integrated NRM with special reference to Eastern and Southern Africa against the backdrop of prevailing local national regional and global social economic and environmental challenges The authors wide experience the rich references made to emerging challenges and opportunities and the presentation of different tools principles approaches case studies and processes make the book a rich and valuable one stop resource for postgraduate students researchers policymakers and NRM practitioners The book is designed to help the reader grasp in depth NRM perspectives and presents innovative guidance for research design and problem solving including review questions learning activities and recommended further reading The book was developed through a writeshop process by a multi disciplinary team of lecturers from the University of Nairobi Egerton University Kenyatta University the University of Zimbabwe the University of Malawi Makerere University and the University of Dar es Salam In addition selected NRM experts from regional and international research organizations including the World Agroforestry Center ICRAF the Africa Forest Forum RUFORUM IIRR and the

International Development Research Centre IDRC participated in the writeshop and contributed material to the book

Fostering Long-Term Sustainable Development in Africa David Mhlanga, Mufaro Dzingirai, 2024-08-31 This book provides a broad and insightful guide to the economic social and environmental concerns seen within Africa It highlights the central economic challenges faced by African countries and outlines ways in which long term sustainable development in Africa can be achieved A particular focus is given to issues of poverty inequality and unemployment and how poor infrastructure limited healthcare and education and environmental deterioration are exacerbating these issues By looking at the limited effectiveness of traditional development initiatives a new framework for economic development is presented that focuses on community ownership and long term sustainability and which acknowledges the history of colonisation economic exploitation and political instability that has held Africa back in the past This book takes hope from countries within the Global South that have moved towards sustainable development and sets out ways in which other countries can follow them It will be relevant to students researchers and policymakers interested in development and environmental economics

Democratic Governance, Law, and Development in Africa Maame Efua Addadzi-Koom, Michael Addaney, Lydia A. Nkansah, 2022-12-10 This volume analyses democratic governance the rule of law and development in Africa It is unique and timely First the theme and sub themes were carefully selected to solicit quality chapters from academics practitioners and graduate students on topical and contemporary issues in constitutional law human rights and democratic governance in Africa The chapters were subjected to a single blind peer review by experts and scholars in the relevant fields to ensure that high quality submissions are included Due to the dearth of knowledge and studies on the chosen thematic areas the publication will remain relevant after several years due to the timeless themes it covers In this regard this edited volume audits the progress of democratic consolidation rule of law and development in Ghana with selected case studies from other African countries This book is intended for higher education institutions universities institutes and centres public libraries general academics practitioners and students of law democracy human rights and political science especially those interested in African affairs

Women's Contributions to Development in West Africa Kelly Ann Krawczyk, Bridgett A. King, 2023-02-28 This book examines women's participation in social economic and political development in West Africa The book looks at women from the premise of being active agents in the development processes within their communities thereby subverting the dominate narrative of women as passive recipients of development

Gender Equality, Climate Action, and Technological Innovation for Sustainable Development in Africa Ogechi Adeola, Olaniyi Evans, Innocent Ngare, 2023-12-07 This open access book explores the intersection of gender and climate change suggests ways in which innovative technologies can accelerate climate relief actions and offers strategies for integrating climate change initiatives into national policies and planning By examining the devastating consequences of climate change on women and girls throughout the continent the authors pose a crucial question Does gender matter in climate change discussions in Africa Political and social traditions have burdened women with greater vulnerability to the impacts of climate related natural disasters including violence displacement poverty famine and lack of access to clean water However women are also key to effective and inclusive climate mitigation adaptation and decision making The authors provide a compelling discourse that identifies the social and economic benefits for all citizens when gender inclusive policies shape equitable and targeted action plans from mitigation to adaptation and funding The UN's SDG 13 calls for urgent action and commitment to combat climate change The implementable and action oriented propositions presented in this book will be of interest to students educators practitioners third sector actors and policymakers committed to gender equality sustainable development and climate action in Africa

Gender Inequalities in Africa's Mining Policies Francis Onditi, 2022-04-17 This book develops a discursive equalitarian theoretical framework for studying African mining ecosystem issues and policy interventions The theory of equalitarianism is developed as an alternative to the reductionist approach that has dominated post colonial debates about the classical jus ad bellum requirements to empower women in development spaces However the classical approach narrows the debate down to women issues rather than the whole of society As a consequence of this reductionism women continue to be devalued in the mining sector characterized by poverty traps power struggles and a lack of capacity to engage in large scale mining LSM activities This book advances principles for a holistic approach and spells out the implications for women across the mining value chain Drawing on moral scholarship the book poses that for women to gain access to strategic spaces in the mining sector the drive for empowerment must be embedded within whole of society principles This book is of interest to scholars researching gender policy public policy political philosophy conflictology and human geography It also offers practitioners a guide for evaluating their policy work on mainstreaming gender in the mining sector presenting options for financing forging partnership and planning for an inclusive economic development in Africa and beyond

Gender, Time Use, and Poverty in Sub-Saharan Africa C. Mark Blackden, Quentin Wodon, 2006 The papers in this volume examine the links between gender time use and poverty in Sub Saharan Africa They contribute to a broader definition of poverty to include time poverty and to a broader definition of work to include household work The papers present a conceptual framework linking both market and household work review some of the available literature and surveys on time use in Africa and use tools and approaches drawn from analysis of consumption based poverty to develop the concept of a time poverty line and to examine linkages between time poverty consumption poverty and ot
