Gender Perspectives On Property Inheri:

Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Sarah Cummings, 2001 Extrait de la couverture Legal and customary arrangements and practices govern women's rights and access to resources such as land and housing This book highlights women's unequal position in formal and customary laws and practices and the way in which gender relations affect women's and men's access to property through inheritance The introduction examines how gender relations define ownership and control of property and the attention that the issue of gender equality has received in the development agenda Five reviews from Latin America Ivory Coast South Africa the Middle East and India focus on the disjuncture between law and practice in terms of women's property and land rights inheritance access to resources marriage and employment These contributions also reflect on the importance of women's participation in decision making forums and the need for women's political organization and mobilization in order to redress gender imbalances in land and inheritance rights Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Rights Wambui Kanyi, Maina Ngunjiri, 2002 Gender Perspectives on Property and Inheritance Sarah Cummings, 2001 This title features contributions from the South addressing gender equality and inheritance rights at the household level Disparities between customary law family law and the official legal system are discussed with regard to property rights marriage land rights and inheritance Each article covers the current situation and experiences of violation of women's personal rights and provides policy tools to bring about improvement Material from across the developing world is included in the annotated bibliography and the resources section Published in association with KIT Publishers Perspectives on Global Development 2012 Social Cohesion in a Shifting World OECD, 2011-11-18 This report analyses the impact of Shifting wealth on social cohesion largely focusing on high growth converging countries

Women, Law and Human Rights Fareda Banda, 2005-10-04 Africa with its mix of statute custom and religion is at the centre of the debate about law and its impact on gender relations This is because of the centrality of the gender question and its impact on the cultural relativism debate within human rights It is therefore important to examine critically the role of law broadly constructed in African societies The book focuses on women's experiences in the family This is because the lives of women continue to be lived out largely in the private domain where the right to privacy is used to conceal unequal treatment of women which is justified by invoking custom and tradition The book shows how law and its interpretation is used to disenfranchise women resulting in their being deprived of land and other property which they may have helped to accumulate It also considers issues of violence within the home reproductive rights and examines the issue of female genital cutting The role of women in development is explored as is their participation in politics and the NGO sector A major theme of the book is a consideration of the linkages of constitutional and international human rights norms with local values This is done using feminist tools of analysis The book considers the provisions of the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and People's Rights on the Rights of Women which was adopted by the African Union in July 2003 Comparative Property Law

Michele Graziadei, Lionel Smith, 2017-01-27 Comparative Property Law provides a comprehensive treatment of property law from a comparative and global perspective. The contributors who are leading experts in their fields cover both classical and new subjects including the transfer of property, the public-private divide in property law, water and forest laws, and the property rights of aboriginal peoples. This Handbook maps the structure and the dynamics of property law in the contemporary world and will be an invaluable reference for researchers working in all domains of property law.

Negotiations of Gender and Property through Legal Regimes (14th-19th Century), 2021-04-26 This volume explores familial wealth arrangements and gendered property from the fourteenth to the nineteenth centuries in Italian, German, and Austrian territories including Florence, Trento, Tyrol, and Vienna; Nordic countries; Western Pyrenees; and England. Family property as capital in the form of houses, land, movables, financial assets, and rights were of great importance in the past. Arrangements of such property were characterised by a high degree of negotiating competence, but likewise they entailed competition between the parties involved and were highly conflict-prone. Fifteen contributors from Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, and the UK address different marital property regimes in relation to the practices and legal regulations of inheritance patterns, with consideration to inter-familial negotiation, conflict, and resolution. Contributors are Marie Pierre Arrizabalaga, Laura Casella, Isabelle Chabot, Siglinde Clementi, Simona Feci, Ellinor Forster, Andrea Griesebner, Christian Hagen, Margareth Lanzinger, Janine Maegraith, Silvia Mattivi, Beatrice Moring, Craig Muldrew, Regina Schfer, and Georg Tschannett.

Harmful Practices and Human Rights: An International Perspective, Ebenezer Durojaye, Satang Nabaneh, Johanna Bond, 2025-07-02 Harmful Practices and Human Rights examines different forms of harmful practices globally which constitute human rights violations as guaranteed in international and regional human rights instruments. Drawing examples from Africa, Asia, North America, Europe, and Australasia, it demonstrates how these practices undermine the right to health, including sexual and reproductive health, and also impugn the dignity and autonomy of women and girls. Using diverse harmful practices as case studies, the book critically examines the factors that drive harmful practices in developing and developed countries. Specifically, this book focuses on a selection of harmful practices including dowry payments, ukuthwala, intimate partner violence, harmful tobacco use, and its gendered implications, trafficking in persons, widowhood practices, the chinamwari, khomba practice, and child marriage from both the Global South and North. Its intent is to demonstrate the prevalence of these abuses and underscore the urgent need for states to take decisive steps toward eradication.

Owning Land, Being Women, Amrita Mondal, 2021-04-06 Owning Land, Being Women enquires into the processes that establish inheritance as a unique form of property relation in law and society. It focuses on India, examining the legislative processes that led to the 2005 amendment of the Hindu Succession Act 1956, along with several interconnected welfare policies. Scholars have understood these Acts as a response to growing concerns about women's property rights in developing countries. In re-reading these Acts and exploring the wider nexus of Indian society in which the legislation was drafted this study considers how questions of family structure and property rights contribute to the creation of legal subjects and demonstrates the significance of the politico economic context of rights formulation On the basis of an ethnography of a village in West Bengal this book brings the moral axis of inheritance into sharp focus elucidating the interwoven dynamics of bequest distribution of family wealth and reciprocity of care work that are integral to the logic of inheritance It explains why inheritance rights based on the notion of individual property rights are inadequate to account for practices of inheritance Mondal shows that inheritance includes normative structures of affective attachment and expectations i e evaluatively charged imaginaries of the future that coordinate present practices These insights pose questions of the dominant resource based conceptualisation of inherited property in the debate on women s empowerment In doing so this work opens up a line of investigation that brings feminist rights discourse into conversation with ethics enriching the liberal theory of gender justice

"Good Women Do Not Inherit Land" Nitya Rao, 2008 Good women should not claim a share in the inheritance even if they have no brothers Notions such as this have in their own way and over time given the women in the Santal Parganas the resolve to wrest what is rightfully theirs This is a powerful book in the way in which it unfolds the lives and anxieties of Santal women in two villages of Dumka district Jharkhand From the very inception adivasi women come alive through separate life histories They span different situations and social patterns but all of them relate to rights in landed property and their own troubled identities in the backdrop of harsh living conditions social discrimination and lack of state support Land for the Santal women is not a mere economic resource It stands for security social position and identity and in this men have a distinct advantage Soon after writing in a personal vein the author unfolds how these anxieties of the Santal women resonate her own The author traces the relationship between Santals and their land from historic times to the modern era when they have access to both the modern legal system and their own customary laws She also examines the role of external agencies in this struggle government administrative bodies non governmental organizations and political leaders As modern influences crowd out traditional mores the author asserts that development is not always a benign process of social advancement but a highly political struggle for re negotiating power relations between men and women and among social groups The use of a community identity as adivasis has also been responsible for denying women rights to land in the context of the movement for political autonomy of Jharkhand Based on rich ethnographic material this sensitive book lays bare the reality of being an adivasi and an adivasi woman in all its nuances in the modern globalized world

The Impact of the Protocol on the Rights of Women in Africa on Violence Against Women in Six Selected Southern African Countries, 2009

Decoding Gender Helga Baitenmann, Victoria Chenaut, Ann Varley, 2007-06-22 Gender discrimination pervades nearly all legal institutions and practices in Latin America The deeper question is how this shapes broader relations of power By examining the relationship between law and gender as it manifests itself in the Mexican legal system the thirteen essays in this volume show how law is produced by but also perpetuates unequal power relations At the same time however authors show how law is often malleable and can provide spaces for negotiation and redress The contributors including political scientists sociologists geographers anthropologists and economists explore these issues not only in courts police stations and prisons but also in rural organizations indigenous communities and families By bringing new interdisciplinary perspectives to issues such as the quality of citizenship and the rule of law in present day Mexico this book raises important issues for research on the relationship between law and gender more widely

Cities, Slums and Gender in the Global South Sylvia Chant, Cathy McIlwaine, 2015-12-22 Developing regions are set to account for the vast majority of future urban growth and women and girls will become the majority inhabitants of these locations in the Global South This is one of the first books to detail the challenges facing poorer segments of the female population who commonly reside in slums It explores the variegated disadvantages of urban poverty and slum dwelling from a gender perspective This book revolves around conceptualisation of the gender urban slum interface which explains key elements to understanding women's experiences in slum environments It has a specific focus on the ways in which gender inequalities are can be entrenched but also alleviated Included is a review of the demographic factors which are increasingly making cities everywhere feminised spaces such as increased rural urban migration among women demographic ageing and rising proportions of female headed households in urban areas Discussions focus in particular on education paid and unpaid work access to land property and urban services violence intra urban mobility and political participation and representation This book will be of use to researchers and professionals concerned with gender and development urbanisation and rural urban migration

Women's Social and Legal Issues in African Current Affairs Victoria M. Time, 2016-12-06 This volume explores the difficulties that beset African women and inhibit them from excelling in many walks of life in the twenty first century Asymmetrical relations in society position women in subjugated and marginalized roles This is caused by customary practices that have left women in vulnerable and subsidiary positions as well as statutory provisions that fester this process Despite its richness in raw materials and minerals Africa remains slow to grow when compared to other continents The economies of most African countries is severely anemic corruption is rife poor governance is systemic and wars conflicts famine and diseases abound Stalled economies disproportionately affects women for example as nurturers women have the extra responsibility of taking care of children and members of the extended family In times of want women are more likely to give up the little they have so that their children and others may survive This book shows the various social and legal obstacles that stall women's upward mobility and offers recommendations on how these issues can be resolved

Gendered Taxes: The Interaction of Tax Policy with Gender Equality Maria Delgado Coelho, Aieshwarya Davis, Ms. Carolina Osorio Buitron, 2022-02-04 This paper provides an overview of the relation between tax policy and gender equality covering labor capital and wealth as well as consumption taxes It considers implicit and explicit gender biases and corrective taxation On labor taxes we discuss the well established findings on female labor supply and present new empirical work on the impact of household taxation We also analyze the impact of progressivity on pay gaps and labor supply On capital and wealth taxation we discuss the implications of lower effective capital income taxation on the personal income tax burden gap across genders We show that countries with relatively low female shares of capital income and wealth also tend to tax property and inheritances particularly lightly On consumption taxes we cover taxes on female hygiene products and excise taxes which we assess in relation to externalities and differences in consumption patterns across genders

Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India Kenneth Bo Nielsen,2018-02-22 Over the past decade India has witnessed a number of land wars that have centred crucially on the often forcible transfer of land from small farmers or indigenous groups to private companies Among these the land war that erupted in Singur West Bengal in 2006 went on to make national headlines and become paradigmatic of many of the challenges and social conflicts that arise when a state led policy of swiftly transferring land to private sector companies encounters resistance on the ground Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India analyses the movement by Singur s so called unwilling farmers to retain and reclaim their farmland By foregrounding the everyday politics of popular mobilization the book sheds new light on the movement s internal politics as well as on contentious issues rooted in everyday caste class and gender relations

Personal Wealth from a Global Perspective James B. Davies,2008-11-13 There is great media fascination in the activities and lifestyles of the super rich But personal wealth is also important for those of more modest means as a store of potential consumption as a cushion against emergencies and as collateral for business and investment loans This book is the first global study of household assets and debts It documents not only the level distribution and trend of wealth holdings in rich nations but also addresses developing countries like China and India The situation in Latin America and Africa is given attention along with the experiences of Russia and other transition countries Components of household wealth like financial assets land and property are examined as well as the gender division Worldwide it is estimated that the richest 2% own more than half of total global wealth and that this elite group resides almost exclusively in North America Western Europe and rich Asia Pacific countries

Women and Property in Urban India Bipasha Baruah,2010-11-07 Half the world s population now lives in cities Governments and agencies have made housing the poor a priority but few studies or initiatives focus on women s needs Based on research conducted in Ahmedabad in collaboration with the Self Employed Women s Association SEWA this book maps the constraints and opportunities that low income women throughout the Global South face in securing property which remains overwhelmingly in male hands Their vulnerabilities open a window to assess not only land tenure and property laws but also theoretical approaches to gender and development Although the development community holds out microcredit financing as one potential solution these women s stories reveal its glaring limitations By highlighting the importance of property as a material and symbolic asset in women s empowerment this book carves out new intellectual space in the study of gender and development

Everyday People in Early Modern Kyoto Mary Louise Nagata,2025-07-21 This social history explores the lives of urban commoners in early modern Kyoto during the dramatic political shift from famine to revolution in the final decades of the Tokugawa regime through an extensive survey of the detailed record changes from 1843 in response to these crises The study focuses on three aspects of urban life beginning with individual and household relations with the neighborhood communities that comprised the institutional framework of urban administration and provided financial and legal resources for residents It then moves to the lives of ordinary people taking a life course approach to analyze life cycle work marriage divorce blended families fertility adoption migration mobility and mortality The final theme discusses households people lived in headship succession and devolution of property family business as a network of household shops and workshops and the roles women played while testing the patriarchy theories commonly used in this field and finding new explanations Written for all levels of expertise and including many stories of everyday people this book will appeal to undergraduate students and general readers interested in historical Kyoto
