Gender Work And Population In Sub Saharan Africa:

Gender, Work & Population in Sub-Saharan Africa Aderanti Adepoju, Christine Oppong, 1994 Gender differentials in agricultural production and decision-making among smallholders in Ada, Lume, and Gimbichu Woredas of the central highlands of Ethiopia, 2001 Global Gender Research Christine Bose, Minjeong Kim, 2013-01-11 Readers of Global Gender Research will learn to compare and contrast feminist concerns globally gain familiarity with the breadth of gender research and understand the national contexts that produced it This volume provides an in depth comparative picture of the current state of feminist sociological gender and women s studies research in four regions of the world Africa Asia Latin America the Caribbean and Europe as represented by many countries The introductory essay to each region explains how social science research on women and or gender issues has been shaped by economics politics and culture and by trends that are simultaneously local regional and global It familiarizes readers with the wide range of salient issues research methods writing styles and leading authors from around the globe Each regional section includes several chapters on gender research in specific countries that represent the region s diversity and cover the major theoretical and empirical trends that have emerged over time as well as the relationship of key research questions to feminist activism and women s or gender studies Next the editors illustrate this new wave of gender scholarship with translated reprinted samples of research articles from additional countries in the region that cover a wide range of important global topics such as work sexuality masculinities childcare and family issues religion violence law and gender policies Finally this volume provides scholars with extensive bibliographies and a listing of web sites for women s and gender research centers in 85 countries Gender and Development in the Arab World Nabil F. Khoury, Valentine M. Moghadam, 1995 This much needed book explores Arab women s share in employment and their contribution to national economic development It documents the patterns and trends of female employment and highlights the determinants of labour force participation in a number of countries African Families in a Global Context Göran Therborn, 2004 The family is one of the most important institutions of African societies Where is it going today How is it affected by global processes cultural and political as well as economic How does it compare with family developments in other parts of the world These are questions which this book addresses The contributors deal with the African family in a comparative global context focusing on patriarchy sexuality and marriage and fertility biological and social reproduction in Ghana under conditions of globalization and structural adjustment Nigerian marriage relations under the impact of current conditions and family changes in the North Britain from a family perspective of the South South Africa Gender Disparities in Africa's Labor Market Jorge Saba Arbach, Alexandre Kolev, Ewa Filipiak, 2010-08-05 Women s earnings are a fraction of male s earnings in several African countries It is tempting to conclude that this wage gap is a sign of discrimination against women in the labor market Yet this book uses new datasets to show that the gap is not simply the result of discrimination in the labor markets but rather the result of multiple factors including access to education and credit cultural values and household duties and above all labor market conditions It shows that gender disparities grow when economies are not functioning well and labor markets are tiny More than the effect of discrimination it seems that job rationing causes those with better human capital and those with more power in the household usually the men to take the few jobs that are available It is hardly surprising then that in a region where only a fraction of the labor force finds jobs in the formal sector gender disparities in earnings are so high The book further documents that firm level and sector characteristics are additional powerful factors in explaining the gender disparities in the labor market As the causes are not simple neither are the solutions multifaceted strategies are needed By providing environments that support economic growth and more importantly job creation as well as by promoting equal access for women to education and rethinking the attitudes that limit what women may achieve governments in the region will substantially improve the well being of all their peoples Gender Disparities in Africa s Labor Market helps to fill the knowledge gap and identify the links between gender disparities and poverty reduction The work was implemented in collaboration with a range of poverty and labor market studies to maximize its usefulness for policy dialogue in specific countries This book will be of interest to policy makers students academics gender experts and all those interested in gender issues and development

Migration in the Service of African Development John O. Ouch, 2012-12-19 Fifteen chapters are included here in this compendium in honour of the Nigerian migration scholar Professor Aderanti Adepoju Though the authors come from diverse disciplinary backgrounds geography demography sociology and law they all work within the fields of internal and international migration in Africa Chapters on Uganda Kenya Botswana Nigeria and Mali are devoted to aspects of internal migration while those on African emigration to Mexico and migration between Burkina Faso and Cote d'Ivoire address various aspects of international migration Migration issues in relation to women students and climate change are also discussed

Gender Equality and Economic Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Ms. Lisa L Kolovich, Ms. Monique Newiak, 2024-04-11 Efforts to achieve gender equality will not only help sub Saharan Africa revive its inclusive growth engine but also will ensure progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals and help address the main disruptive challenges of this century This book explores the progress made in gender equality in the region highlighting both the challenges and successes in areas such as legal reforms education health gender based violence harmful practices such as child marriage and financial inclusion It takes stock of initiatives towards integrating gender into core macroeconomic and structural reforms such as through implementing gender budgeting and examines the role that fiscal and other policies can play in closing gender gaps when they are mindful of distributional impacts Drawing from extensive research across different institutions the book underscores the macroeconomic significance of gender equality emphasizing its potential to drive GDP growth enhance economic stability reduce income inequality and foster sustainable development It lays out how gender gaps interact with emerging challenges such as digitalization and explores the impact of global megatrends such as climate change on gender inequality offering strategies for inclusive policy responses including in a context where women and girls are still carrying a disproportionate care burden that is often not captured in economic measurement The book aims to serve as a roadmap for policymakers stakeholders and advocates seeking to harness the untapped potential of gender equality for its own sake and for the region's inclusive sustainable and green development It calls for concerted efforts to dismantle structural barriers transform social norms and prioritize gender responsive policies to unlock the full economic potential of sub-Saharan Africa

Contemporary Issues in Mental Health Care in sub-Saharan Africa Omigbodun, Olayinka, Oyebode, Femi, 2018-03-13 Seventy percent of the global burden of mental disorders is located in low and middle income countries LMIC including sub-Saharan Africa SSA However in Africa only 0.62% of the national health budget is allocated to mental health compared to a global median of 2.8% and 5% in Europe The government is the source of funding in 62% of patients with severe mental disorder in the World Health Organisation WHO Africa Region the lowest of all the WHO regions and lower compared to a global median of 79% This is compounded by poor resources with mental health outpatient facilities in WHO Africa Region being less than 10% of the global median To address these problems the WHO launched its Mental Health Action Gap Programme mhGAP in 2008 to scale up mental health services in low and middle income countries LMIC The book is directed to all policy makers in sub-Saharan Africa to aid decision making about the urgent need for sustainable and relevant mental health care strategies and the important areas that need priority The book should be helpful to local and international researchers in formulating research questions relevant to the African continent and it will be of interest to medical practitioners and students in the region as adjunct to standard text books

Historical Dictionary of Ghana David Owusu-Ansah, 2014-02-27 Ghana the former British colony of the Gold Coast is historically known for being the first country to the south of the Sahara to attain political independence from colonial rule It is known for its exports of cocoa and a variety of minerals especially gold and it is now an oil exporting country But Ghana's importance to the African continent is not only seen in its natural resources or its potential to expand its agricultural output Rather the nation's political history of nationalism the history of military engagement in politics record of economic depression and the ability to rise from the ashes of political and economic decay is the most unique character of the country This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Ghana covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ghana Gender, Time Use, and Poverty in Sub-Saharan Africa C. Mark Blackden, Quentin Wodon, 2006 The papers in this volume examine the links between gender time use and poverty in Sub Saharan Africa They contribute to a broader definition of poverty to include time poverty and to a broader definition of work to include household work The papers present a conceptual framework linking both market and household work review some of the available literature and surveys on time use in Africa and use tools and approaches drawn from analysis of consumption based poverty to develop the concept of a time poverty line and to examine linkages between time poverty consumption poverty and ot In the Shadow of Marriage Anne M. O. Griffiths, 1997 Anne Griffiths originally went to Botswana to establish a university course in family law But independent fieldwork in Botswana convinced her of the central role of the traditional customary legal system that stands alongside the colonial common law of courts and magistrates she was examining in her course In the first comparative work on these two systems Griffiths shows how the structure of both legal institutions is based on power and gender relations that heavily favor males Griffiths s analysis is based on careful observation of how people actually experience the law as well as the more standard tools of statutes and cases familiar to Western legal scholars She explains how women s access to law is determined by social relations over which they have little control In this powerful feminist critique of law and anthropology Griffiths shows how law and custom are inseparable for Kwena women Both colonial common law and customary law pose comparable and constant challenges to Kwena women s attempts to improve their positions in society

Modules on Gender, Population & Rural Development with a Focus on Land Tenure & Farming Systems Daphne Topouzis, 1996

Gender, Work, and Economy Heidi Gottfried, 2013-11-15 This engaging new text uses a feminist lens to crack open the often hidden worlds of gender and work addressing enduring questions about how structural inequalities are produced and why they persist Making visible the social relationships that drive the global economy the book explores how economic transformations not only change the way we work but how we live our lives The full extent of changing patterns of employment and the current financial crisis cannot be fully understood in the confines of narrow conceptions of work and economy Feminists address this shortcoming by developing both a theory and a political movement aimed at unveiling the power relations inherent in old and new forms of work By providing an analysis of gender work and the economy Heidi Gottfried brings to light the many faces of power from the bedroom to the boardroom A discussion of globalization is threaded throughout the book to uncover the impact of increasing global interconnections and vivid case studies are included from industrialized countries such as the US and the global cities of New York London and Tokyo as well as from developing countries and the emerging global cities of Beijing Shanghai and Dubai This comprehensive analysis of gender and work in a global economy incorporating sociology geography and political economy perspectives will be a valued companion to students in gender studies and across the social sciences more generally

Women, Gender, Remittances and Development in the Global South Ton van Naerssen,Lothar Smith,Marianne H. Marchand,2016-03-09 This book endeavours to take the conceptualisation of the relationship between transnational remittance exchanges and gender to a new level Thus inevitably it provides a number of case studies of relationships between gender and remittances from around the world highlighting different processes and practises Thereby the authors seek to understand the impact of remittances on gender and gender relations both at the sending as well as at the receiving end For each case study authors ask how remittances affect gender identities and relationships but also vice versa By itself this already adds a wealth of insights to a field that is remarkably understudied despite a volume of studies on gender and the feminization of migration in developing contexts Chapters take an open explorative approach to the relationship between gender and remittance behaviour with the aid of case studies focusing on transnational flows between migrants and countries of origin With the wide variety of cases this book is able to provide conceptual insights to better understand how remittances affect gender identity roles and relations at both the receiving and sending end and give specific attention to the roles of various actors directly and indirectly involved in remittance sending in current collectively organized remittance schemes from around the world

ICGR 2023 6th International Conference on Gender Research Professor Sandra Moffett,Dr Shirley Barrett,Dr. Andrea Reid,2023-04-20 Gender and Macroeconomic Policy Raj Nallari,Breda Griffith,2011-01-05 Mainstream economic analysis has traditionally overlooked gender The individual the basic category of analysis was regarded as genderless Neither gender discrimination nor segmentation and segregation within the labor market or within the household was present Contributions from development theory new household economics NHE labor economics and feminist analysis have done much to change this Focusing on gender equality by which we mean equality in opportunity inputs and outcome has yielded important insights for the growth and development of an economy But we are still at the cusp While there have been huge improvements in recognizing gender as an analytical category at the microeconomic level the macroeconomic implications of gender equality remain undeveloped Engendering macroeconomics is an important and valid research and policy area Over the past three decades economic development has generally affected women differently than men in the developing world At the same time gender relations have affected macroeconomic outcomes This volume examines the research and policy implications of engendering macroeconomic policy

Sustainability Challenges in Sub-Saharan Africa I Alexandros Gasparatos,Abubakari Ahmed,Merle Naidoo,Alice Karanja,Kensuke Fukushi,Osamu Saito,Kazuhiko Takeuchi,2020-09-04 The aim of this 2 volume book is to highlight how Sustainability Science approaches can help solve some of the pervasive challenges that Africa faces The volumes collect a number of local case studies throughout Africa that adopt transdisciplinary and problem oriented research approaches using methodologies from the natural and the social sciences These are put into perspective with chapters that introduce key sustainability challenges such using a regional focus Through this multi scale and inter transdisciplinary approach the proposed volume will provide an authoritative source that will pack in a single volume a large amount of information on how Sustainability Science approaches sustainability challenges in African contexts While there have been general books about sustainability science none has had a strong African focus As a result the 2 volume set fills a major gap in the Sustainability Science scholarship This volume sets the stage for the series Part I introduces key sustainability challenges in Africa Parts II III highlights specific case studies related to these challenges from West and Central Africa
