Gender And Land Reform The Zimbabwe Experience:

Gender and Land Reform Allison Goebel, 2005-03-10 Goebel examines the social forces and effects of the resettlement process including state policy and legislation customary norms and practices local institutions and ideologies and cosmologies Her study emphasizes the strategic choices women make in new institutional and household contexts and considers the interests of poor women who have been marginalized within the land reform process Outcomes of post-2000 Fast Track Land Reform in Zimbabwe Lionel Cliffe, Jocelyn Alexander, Ben Cousins, Rudo Gaidzanwa, 2014-06-11 The struggle over land has been the central issue in Zimbabwe ever since white settlers began to carve out large farms over a century ago Their monopolisation of the better watered half of the land was the focus of the African war of liberation war and was partially modified following Independence in 1980 A dramatic further episode in this history was launched at the start of the last decade with the occupation of many farms by groups of African veterans of the liberation struggle and their supporters which was then institutionalised by legislation to take over most of the large commercial farms for sub division Sustained fieldwork over the intervening years by teams of scholars and experts and by individual researchers is now generating an array of evidence based findings of the outcomes how land was acquired and disposed of how it has been used how far new farmers have carved out new livelihoods and viable new communities the major political and economic problems they and other stakeholders such as former farm workers commercial farmers and the overall rural society now face This book will be an essential starting place for analysts policy makers historians and activists seeking to understand what has happened and to spotlight the key issues for the next decade This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies Gender and Agrarian Reforms Susie Jacobs, 2013-05-13 The redistribution of land has profound implications for women and for gender relations however gender issues have been marginalised from both theoretical and policy discussions of agrarian reform This book presents an overview of gender and agrarian reform experiences globally Jacobs highlights case studies from Latin America Asia Africa and eastern Europe and also compares agrarian and land reforms organised along collective lines as well as along individual household lines This volume will be of interest to scholars in Geography Women's Studies and Economics Zimbabwe's Fast Track Land Reform Prosper B. Matondi, 2012-11-08 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme in Zimbabwe has emerged as a highly contested reform process both nationally and internationally The image of it has all too often been that of the widespread displacement and subsequent replacement of various people agricultural related production systems facets and processes The reality however is altogether more complex Providing new and much needed empirical research this in depth book examines how processes such as land acquisition allocation transitional production outcomes social life gender and tenure have influenced and been influenced by the forces driving the programme It also explores the ways in which the land reform programme has created a new agrarian structure based on small to medium scale farmers In attempting to resolve the problematic issues the reforms have raised the author argues that it is this new agrarian formation which provides the greatest scope for improving Zimbabwe's agriculture and development Based on a broader geographical scope than any previous study carried out on the subject this is a landmark work on a subject of considerable controversy Gender, Politics and Land Use in Zimbabwe 1980ñ2012 Mafa, Onias, Gudhlanga, Enna S., 2015-10-19 The agrarian reform dynamics in southern Africa have to be understood within the framework of colonial land policies and legislation that were designed essentially to expropriate land and natural resource property rights from the indigenous people in favour of the white settlers Colonial land policies institutionalised racial inequity with regard to land although conditions are not homogeneous there are broad themes that cut across the southern Africa region Colonialism dispossessed and impoverished the people by taking away the most productive lands Neoliberal globalization has undermined the people's well being through direct influences on agriculture and rural economies in conjunction with policies promoted by national governments and international agencies Another shared feature is to be found in the high rates of unemployment poor returns to small scale agriculture lack of access to social services such as health and education all of which serve to erode existing livelihood activities and perpetuate relative and absolute poverty in rural areas This comparative study on Zimbabwe's agrarian reforms may provide countries such as South Africa and Namibia with valuable lessons as they attempt their own land reforms Conflicts between colonialists and the indigenous people in the then Rhodesia centred mainly on the land question This inequitable distribution of land resulted in Africans waging liberation struggles in order to reclaim their land from the colonialists In most post colonial countries calls have been made for land redistribution as a way of redressing colonial injustices in land tenure systems The process of reclamation of land and redistributing it to the indigenous people is fraught with problems and has resulted in the present day land crisis in many parts of Africa and other continents These are some of the issues this book examines attempts to understand and explain from a gender perspective Gender relations are viewed in terms of land use and ownership in pre colonial colonial and post colonial Zimbabwe These socially constructed roles have been found to be unequal in terms of power and decision making It is argued that lessening of social inequalities between men and women reduces poverty raises farm efficiency and improves natural resource management The book emphasizes that once women are empowered the quality of life of their households improves The Future of Zimbabwe's Agrarian Sector Grasian Mkodzongi, 2022-06-24 This volume reflects on the recent political developments in Zimbabwe and their current and future impact on the agrarian sector Utilising new empirical data gathered across Zimbabwe the contributors shed light on the liberalisation of agricultural policy after Mugabe Chapters examine how the adoption of neo liberal orthodoxy in agrarian policy making will affect the new agrarian structure looking at issues such as productivity the impact on vulnerable groups changing land tenure arrangements joint ventures and land grabbing Providing a new way of conceptualising Zimbabwe's agrarian futures this book will be of interest to researchers NGOs and policymakers interested in the politics of land and agriculture in Zimbabwe and southern Africa Fast Track Land Occupations in Zimbabwe Kirk Helliker, Sandra Bhatasara, Manase Kudzai Chiweshe, 2021-01-11 This book offers the first detailed scholarly examination of the nation wide land occupations which spread across the Zimbabwean countryside from the year 2000 and led to the state s fast track land reform programme In an innovative way it highlights the decentralized character of the occupations by recognizing significant spatial variation around a number of key themes including historical memory modes of mobilization and gender A case study of the land occupations in Mashonaland Central Province based on original research adds empirical weight to the argument In further identifying and understanding the specificities and complexities of the land occupations the book also frames them by way of a nuanced comparative historical analysis of the three zvimurenga It thus examines the land occupations referred to likely controversially as the third chimurenga with reference to the original anti colonial revolt from the 1890s the first chimurenga and the war of liberation in the 1970s the second chimurenga Further the book engages critically with the ruling party s chimurenga narrative and the hegemonic understanding of the land occupations within Zimbabwean studies This book is a crucial read for all scholars and students of post 2000 land and politics in Zimbabwe but also for those more broadly interested in historical comparative analyses of land struggles in Zimbabwe and beyond Power, Gender and Social Change in Africa Raj Bardouille, Margaret Grieco, 2009-03-26 Gender plays a hugely significant and too often under considered role in predicting how accessible resources such as education wage based employment physical and mental health care adequate nutrition and housing will be to an individual or community According to a 2001 World Bank report titled Engendering Development Through Gender Equality in Rights Resources and Voice enormous disparities exist between men and women in terms of basic rights and the power to determine the future both in Africa and around the globe A better understanding of the links between gender public policy and development outcomes would allow for more effective policy formulation and implementation at many levels This book through its discussion of the challenges achievements and lessons learned in efforts to attain gender equality sheds light on these important issues The book contains chapters from an interdisciplinary group of scholars including sociologists economists political scientists scholars of law anthropologists historians and others The work includes analysis of strategic gender initiatives case studies research and policies as well as conceptual and theoretical pieces With its format of ideas resources and recorded experiences as well as theoretical models and best practices the book is an important contribution to academic and political discourse on the intricate links between gender power and social change in Africa and around the world The Palgrave Handbook of Agricultural and Rural Development in Africa Evans S. Osabuohien, 2020-07-06 This handbook examines agricultural and rural development in Africa from theoretical empirical and policy stand points It discusses the challenges of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and assesses how poverty and other development concerns can be addressed in rural communities through agricultural transformation Additionally the handbook extends the Post 2015 Development Agenda and it emphasizes the importance of the agricultural sector as it is closely related to the issues of food sustainability poverty reduction and employment creation The contributors suggest multiple evidence based policies to develop the rural areas through the transformation of the agricultural sector which can significantly benefit the African continent Gender and the Fast Track Land Reform in Zimbabwe Sunungurai Chingarande, 2004 Land Tenure, Gender and Globalisation Dzodzi Tsikata, Pamela Golah, 2010 Drawing from field research in Cameroon Ghana Vietnam and the Amazon forests of Brazil Bolivia and Peru this book explores the relationship between gender and land revealing the workings of global capital and of people s responses to it A central theme is the people s resistance to global forces frequently through an insistence on the uniqueness of their livelihoods For instance in the Amazon the focus is on the social movements that have emerged in the context of struggles over land rights concerning the extraction of Brazil nuts and babacu kernels in an increasingly globalised market In Vietnam the process of de collectivising rights to land is examined with a view to understand how gender and other social differences are reworked in a market economy. The book addresses a gap in the literature on land tenure and gender in developing countries It raises new questions about the process of globalisation particularly about who the actors are local people the state NGOs multinational companies and the shifting relations amongst them The book also challenges the very concepts of gender land and globalization Beyond the Crises: Zimbabwes Prospects for Transformation Tendai Murisa, Tendai Chikweche, 2015-12-01 Over the past years few African countries have been the focus of discussions and analyses generating a vast array of literature as much as Zimbabwe The socioeconomic and political crises since the turn of the century have deeply transformed the country from the ideals of a vibrant freshly independent nation just two decades earlier These transformations have necessitated the call for the restructuring of Zimbabwean society polity and economy But this literature remains exclusively within the realm of academic thinking and theorising with no concerted effort to move beyond this by explicitly drawing out the policy implications Beyond the Crises Zimbabwes Prospects for Transformation is a welcome addition to the academic and policy literature with a much broader and all embracing focus in terms of policy interventions By focusing on different aspects of social and economic justice Murisa and Chikweche go beyond initiating a broad discussion on these two key pillars of human development with a view to suggesting possible future directions of practical solutions and policy development for the attainment of inclusive social and economic justice for Zimbabweans

Farm Labor Struggles in Zimbabwe Blair Rutherford,2016-12-19 In the early twenty first century white owned farms in Zimbabwe were subject to large scale occupations by black urban dwellers in an increasingly violent struggle between national electoral politics land reform and contestations over democracy Were the black occupiers being freed from racist bondage as cheap laborers by the state supported massive land redistribution or were they victims of state violence who had been denied access to their homes social services and jobs Blair Rutherford examines the unequal social and power relations shaping the lives livelihoods and struggles of some of the farm workers during this momentous period in Zimbabwean history

His analysis is anchored in the time he spent on a horticultural farm just east of Harare the capital of Zimbabwe that was embroiled in the tumult of political violence associated with jambanja the democratization movement Rutherford complicates this analysis by showing that there was far more in play than political oppression by a corrupt and authoritarian regime and a movement to rectify racial and colonial land imbalances as dominant narratives would have it Instead he reveals farm worker livelihoods access to land gendered violence and conflicting promises of rights and sovereignty played a more important role in the political economy of citizenship and labor than had been imagined The ^AOxford Handbook of Environmental History Andrew C. Isenberg, 2014-09-18 The Oxford Handbook of Environmental History draws on a wealth of new scholarship to offer diverse perspectives on the state of the field Understanding Gender in the African Context Kurebwa, Jeffrey, 2020-04-10 One of the most significant dimensions of gender studies is that it is political It raises questions about power in society and how and why power is differentially distributed between different genders It asks questions about who has power over whom in which situations how power is exercised and how it is and can be challenged Different theories and perspectives within gender studies have different approaches to these questions and look for answers in different social processes Many debates are on going as new data is revealed and new theories are put forth Understanding Gender in the African Context is a scholarly reference that explores the complexities of the ideologies and social patterns that contribute to the field of gender studies Featuring a range of topics such as human rights feminism and social media this book is ideal for policymakers sociologists social scientists civil society organizations government officials academicians researchers and students Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women s history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women s daily work in their family plot This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub Saharan Africa contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on individual African women in history politics religion and the arts on important events organizations and publications and on topics important to women in general marriage fertility employment and to African women in particular market women child marriage queen mothers This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa Handbook of Research on In-Country Determinants and Implications of Foreign Land Acquisitions Osabuohien, Evans, 2014-12-31 Several studies have investigated the impetus and implications behind large scale land acquisitions deals at the global level however intranational factors within communities and societies have not received much attention from researchers The Handbook of Research on In

Country Determinants and Implications of Foreign Land Acquisitions examines the economic sociological and environmental issues surrounding land transactions and the impact these deals may have on local households and communities Focusing on international issues as well as domestic concerns this publication is a useful reference for policymakers academics researchers and advanced level students in various disciplines AIDS and Rural Livelihoods Anke Niehof, Gabriel Rugalema, 2019-01-15 AIDS epidemics continue to threaten the livelihoods of millions of people in sub Saharan Africa Three decades after the disease was first recognized the annual death toll from AIDS exceeds that from wars famine and floods combined Yet despite millions of dollars of aid and research there has previously been little detailed on the ground analysis of the multifaceted impacts on rural people Filling that gap this book brings together recent evidence of AIDS impacts on rural households livelihoods and agricultural practice in sub Saharan Africa There is particular emphasis on the role of women in affected households and on the situation of children The book is unique in presenting micro level information collected by original empirical research in a range of African countries and showing how well grounded conclusions on trends impacts and local responses can be applied to the design of HIV responsive policies and programmes AIDS impacts are more diverse than we previously thought and local responses more varied sometimes innovative sometimes desperate The book represents a major contribution to our understanding of the impacts of AIDS in the epidemic's heartland and how these can be managed at different levels The Translocal Geography of Lodging in Urban Zimbabwe Miriam R. Grant, Arja Vainio-Mattila, 2024-11-16 This book will argue that lodging is a hugely ignored largely invisible but critical sector of housing provision and economic contributor of burgeoning African cities It further connects the rural and the urban challenging traditional definitions of locationally bound communities Lodgers create micro local and translocal communities and the lodging system offers livelihood strategies Rather than engage in the dominant portrayal of rural urban as binary dichotomous space we maintain that lodging represents and supports the translocal community and relational networks of the extended family as it seeks to maximize access to resources Controversies in Science and Technology Daniel Lee Kleinman, Abby J. Kinchy, Jo Handelsman, 2014 Discusses the issues surrounding several current scientific debates including food policy ecosystem management chemical health and infrastructure
