Gender Studies New Directions In Feminist Criticism:

Gender Studies Judith Spector, 1986 The essays in Gender Studies explore relationships between gender and creativity identity and genre within the context of literary analysis Some of the essays are psychoanalytic in approach in that they seek to discover the sexual dynamic s involved in the creation of literature as an art form Still others attempt to isolate and examine the sexual attitudes inherent in the works of particular authors or genres or to determine how writers explore the sensibilities of each gender Rereading Modernism Lisa Rado, 2012-08-21 Until about 1986 feminists generally considered modernism a reactionary misogynist and hegemonic mire not worth investigating Since then enough studies of modernism have appeared that 17 feminist critics can now review and debate their treatment of the period They evaluate the progress and goals of the new era of modernist scholarship As the authors in this volume suggest instead of condemning writers for not practicing or portraying an acceptable politics of gender we ought instead to show how their assumptions about the nature of the sexes inform their texts both in their creation and in their reception This also allows examination of the complex and changing relationship between human subjectivity and aesthetics This volume is a highly reflective dialogue introspective and evaluative at a moment of crisis within modernist studies and feminist studies The analysis of critical work on early twentieth century literature not only helps reread and redefine a definition of modernism it also intends to redirect and reintegrate feminist theory Working Out Hilary Hinds, Ann Phoenix, Jackie Stacey, 2003-09-02 Addresses issues of concern in the area of women s studies aiming to offer fresh perspectives on sexuality paid work the development process equal opportunities legislation lesbian history and women s writing The book is also concerned with the politics and practice of women s studies Feminist Critical Negotiations Alice A. Parker, Elizabeth A. Meese, 1992-05-21 This volume is a collection of original contributions in the field of feminist critical theory which reflect upon past practices and suggest new strategies and directions for future work The articles are presented in two non exclusive interactive sections Theorizing Feminist Criticism and The Feminist Writing Subject They offer different points of entry into the familiar debates that have dominated feminist literary criticism for over a decade The contributions stage negotiations with literary critical and feminist theory which are productive of different perspectives and new strategies for reading and writing

Translations/Transformations Valerie Wayne, Cornelia Niekus Moore, 1993-01-01 Feminist Theory and Literary Practice Deborah L. Madsen, 2000-08-20 This book is an exploration of women s writing that focuses on the close links between literary texts and the theories that construct those texts as women s writing Each chapter deals with one of the issues or concepts that have engaged both authors and theorists rhetoric work consciousness nature class and race A detailed analysis shows how each concept has been used by feminists to construct a specific text in such a way that it is received as a work of women s writing particularly in American literature Using canonical texts from Charlotte Perkins Gilman through Kate Chopin and Willa Cather to Alice Walker and Ann Beattie Madsen engages with the major debates within feminist studies Moving on from Showalter's groundbreaking work to broaden the trajectory of feminist concern this book is an accessible account of the varieties of feminist thought within the context of the key American texts Gender and the Journal Cinthia Gannett,1992-02-06 This book explores the gendered historical and social contexts and discursive traditions that have characterized journals and diaries in academic discourse The tension between the term journal which has a variety of positive public and scholarly connotations and the term diary which is currently understood as a feminized trivial and confessional kind of writing inappropriate for school is a critical part of the problem This book uses the developing and shifting notions of diary and journal to explore several critical questions about the larger relations between gender language canonicity and academic discourse Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan,2002-03-26 By investigating mutually dependent categories of identity in literature that depicts northern peoples and places Hulan provides a descriptive account of representative genres in which the north figures as a central theme including autobiography adventure narrative ethnography fiction poetry and travel writing She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples Reading against the background of contemporary ethnographic literary and cultural theory Hulan maintains that the collective Canadian identity idealized in many works representing the north does not occur naturally but is artificially constructed in terms of characteristics inflected by historically contingent ideas of gender and race such as self sufficiency independence and endurance and that these characteristics are evoked to justify the nationhood of the Canadian state Through the Window, Out the Door Janis P. Stout,2020-11-10 This informative and provocative study focuses on the centrality of departure in the texts of five major American women novelists An important moment in many novels and poems by American women writers occurs when a central character looks out a window or walks out the door of a house These acts of departure serve to convey such values as the rejection of constraining social patterns the search for individual fulfillment and the entry into the political Janis Stout examines such moments and related patterns of venture and travel in the fiction of five major American novelists of the 20th century Mary Austin Willa Cather Anne Tyler Toni Morrison and Joan Didion Stout views these five writers within a spectrum of narrative engagements with issues of home and departure a spectrum anchored at one end by Sarah Orne Jewett and at the other by Marilynne Robinson whose Housekeeping posits a vision of female transience Through the Window Out the Door ranges over an expansive territory Moving between texts as well as between texts and contexts Stout shows how women writers have envisioned the walls of physical and social structures including genres as permeable boundaries drawing on both a rhetoric of liberation and a rhetoric of domesticity to construct narrative arguments for women's right to move freely between the two Stout concludes with a personal essay on the dilemmas of domesticity and the ambivalence of departure Something Complete and Great Holly Blackford Humes,2017-12-01 This volume situates My ntonia as a novel that stands the test of time by including in its pages an extraordinarily wide range of historical cultural literary psychological thematic perceptual and stylistic issues The volume provides an analysis and assessment of complexities in the novel as well as its reception and legacy The essays as a whole situate the novel at the cusp of the modern period marking in myriad ways the novel's transitional role between nineteenth and twentieth century literature and culture The first section Translation features writers that reflect on Cather's curious devaluation of My Antonia's reception over time translation issues in Germany Italy France and Russia and linguistic issues in the novel's vision of Antonia's acculturation The second section Tradition defines Cather's relationship to modernism and regionalism through her career shifts and changes to the Introduction as well as her narrative technique in marginalizing violence and darkness to the edges of Jim's consciousness The third section Transgender analyzes Cather's relationship to Hamlin Garland's Life on the Prairie J M Barrie's Peter Pan and the Neverland and the work of Truman Capote especially his gay protagonist Joel Knox in Other Voices Other Rooms The fourth section Transhuman deploys work on hysteria to situate Cather's vision of genderless desire and ecocritical lenses to understand Jim and nature Finally the last section Transition discusses Lena Lingard's presence as a New Woman and gift economies in the novel that underscore the community's uneasy transition to twentieth century capitalism Gathered in the volume are an international group of scholars who demonstrate the novel's centrality to women's studies American studies queer studies childhood studies psychoanalysis ecology translation and reception Marxism narratology and intertextuality

The Dickens Industry Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2008 The story of the surprisingly fluctuating critical reputation of one of the great writers of the English language Undoubtedly the best selling author of his day and well loved by readers in succeeding generations Charles Dickens was not always a favorite among critics Celebrated for his novels advocating social reform for half a century after his death he was ridiculed by those academics who condescended to write about him Only the faithful band of devotees who called themselves Dickensians kept alive an interest in his work Then during the Second World War he was resurrected by critics and was soon being hailed as the foremost writer of his age a literary genius alongside Shakespeare and Milton More recently Dickens has again been taken to task by a new breed of literary theorists who fault his chauvinism and imperialist attitudes Whether he has been adored or despised however one thing is certain no other Victorian novelist has generated more critical commentary This book traces Dickens's reputation from the earliest reviews through the work of early 21st century commentators showing how judgments of Dickens changed with new standards for evaluating fiction Mazzeno balances attention to prominent critics from the late 19th century through the first three quarters of the 20th with an emphasis on the past three decades during which literary theory has opened up new ways of reading Dickens What becomes clear is that in attempting to provide fresh insight into Dickens's writings critics often reveal as much about the predilections of their own age as they do about the novelist Laurence W Mazzeno is President Emeritus of Alvernia University Reading Pennsylvania

A Study Guide for John Irving's The World According to Garp Gale, Cengage Learning, 2015-09-24

Student Companion to Willa Cather Linda De

Roche,2006-06-30 Willa Cather's elegiac tales of the pioneer experience on the American frontier continue to captivate new generations of readers Written especially for students this critical introduction offers insightful yet accessible criticism of Cather's most widely read novels A full chapter examines each work with full discussions of character development thematic concerns plot critical reception and historical contexts Students will find this book a valuable guide to this great American author The volume covers such enduring works as Alexander's Bridge O Pioneers The Song of the Lark My Antonia The Professor's House Death Comes for the Archbishop and Shadows on the Rock Each chapter is devoted to an individual novel and provides a full discussion of character development thematic concerns and plot structure The introduction to each novel traces its genesis and its critical reception at the time of publication The historical context sections place Cather's vision of the pioneer spirit and achievement within the context of a rapidly changing America that was in the process of abandoning its traditional values and thus risking its source of greatness Students will find this book a valuable guide to Cather's works

Conflicts in Feminism Marianne Hirsch,Evelyn Fox Keller,2015-10-15 Conflicts in Feminism proposes new strategies for negotiating and practicing conflict in feminism Noted scholars and writers examine the most critically divisive issues within feminism today with sensitivity to all sides of the debates By analyzing how the debates have worked for and against feminism and by promoting dialogue across a variety of contexts these provocative essays explore the roots of divisiveness while articulating new models for a productive discourse of difference A Companion to Latin American Women Writers Brigida M. Pastor,Lloyd Hughes Davies,2012 This volume offers a critical study of a representative selection of Latin American women writers who have made major contributions to all literary genres and represent a wide range of literary perspectives and styles This volume offers a critical study of a representative selection of Latin American women writers who have made major contributions to all literary genres and represent a wide range of literary perspectives and styles Many of these women have attained the highest literary honours Gabriela Mistral won the Nobel Prize in 1945 Clarice Lispector attracted the critical attention of theorists working mainly outside the Hispanic area others have made such telling contributions to particular strands of literature that their names are immediately evocative of specific currents or styles Elena Poniatowska is associated with testimonial writing Isabel Allende and Laura Esquivel are known for the magical realism of their texts others such as Juana de Ibarbourou and Laura Restrepo remain relatively unknown despite their contributions to erotic poetry and to postcolonial prose fiction respectively The distinctiveness of this volume lies in its attention to writers from widely differing historical and social contexts and to the diverse theoretical approaches adopted by the authors Brigida M Pastor teaches Latin American literature and film at the University of Glasgow Her publications include Fashioning Cuban Feminism and Beyond El discurso de Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda Identidad Femenina y Otridad and Discursos Caribenhos Historia Literatura e Cinema Lloyd Hughes Davies teaches Spanish American Literature at Swansea University His publications include Isabel Allende La casa de los espíritus and Projections of Peronism in
